Mrs. L. W. McConahy, of Altoona, is a guest of Miss Caribee Emerick, an aunt.

Misses Eliza Graham and Beatrice Weise of Penn State were week-end guests at the W. H. Stuart home.

Taylor Potter, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Potter, has been confined to bed with tonsillitis for ten days.

A new McCuskey cash register was placed in the office of the R. S. Hagan Garage to take the place of the less modern one there for some time.

William Gruenwald will be in Centre Hall with a carload of South Dakota horses for public sale on Monday of next week (March 7). See ad in this issue.

Adam B. Smith, of near Tusseyville, has decided to put in his spare time repairing harness for the farmers in the valley. He has opened his shop and is now bidding for work.

Mrs. Margaret Thomas continues in about the same condition as during the past few weeks. A heart condition and ravages of age are being combated by her in a remarkable manner.

Mrs. Daniel Irwin, of Wilkinsburg, arrived at the Packer-Brooks home on Friday, where she will remain for a short time. She was the former Helen Packer, daughter of Prof. L. O. Packer.

Mr. and Mrs. George Homan and daughter were Sunday dinner guests at the J. D. Patterson home. The Homans are moving this week to the farm on Cedar creek, formerly the Campbell homestead.

David Noll will occupy the Max Herr property vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ishler, on Monday, when they moved to Lock Haven. The Noll family will come here from the former Fergus Potter place, near Linden Hall.

Paul M. Pettehoff returned from the Lewistown City hospital on Friday, well recovered following a single mastoid operation performed by Dr. Allis. While he has not yet ventured from his home, his condition is excellent.

On April 12, at 10:30 A. M., an election will be held at the county seat, Bellefonte, to select a county superintendent of schools to serve from July 1, 1938, to July 1, 1942. The incumbent, F. G. Rogers, is a candidate for re-election.

Harriet, the second of the George Vogt children was taken to the Lewistown hospital during last week for further treatment following a double mastoid operation during the middle of last summer. She is at her home now and shows improvement.

The Ebright property is now occupied by C. H. Kimbrell, who moved here from Bellefonte. He is a district manager of salesmen for the John Deere farm machinery company, and is working on a district comprising several counties adjacent to Centre.

D. W. Bradford, on Tuesday, was taken to Huntingdon by James Bradford where he took the first of a series of X-ray treatments at the offices of Dr. Ketchline, following an operation several weeks ago at the Centre County hospital for bladder trouble. The treatments hereafter will be daily.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stover of Colyer, and Edward Foust, of West Chester, attended the funeral of Mrs. George Foust, at Dunkirk, N. Y., during last week. She was aged some forty years and was a native of New York state. Her husband is a son of Henry Foust, Pottery Mills, and a brother of Mrs. Stover and Edward Foust.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Wert moved from their home west of Tusseyville to the McMoran home in Centre Hall purchased by them a short time ago. At the same time (Tuesday) Mr. and Mrs. John B. Wert, Jr., and young daughter, Joan, took up housekeeping in a portion of the home of Mrs. Wert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Spzyker, also in Centre Hall.

Mrs. Daisy Fleck, who has been among relatives since the holidays, having come from her home in New Mexico to Midvale, N. J., to be with her daughters, is now a guest of her sister, Mrs. Clarence Blazer, near here. Immediately prior to coming here she had been at State College. Mrs. Fleck will remain in this community for the present.

George Smith and family have moved from one of the Centre Hall hotel apartments to their new home at Axeman's purchased some time ago from Simon Rote. The property has been much improved and is now supplied with water from a drilled well, lifted to all parts of the home by an electrically operated pump. Mr. Smith operates a steam shovel at the Neidigh Brothers stone quarries, State College.

Lewis H. Garbrick, local milk dealer, had added another item of equipment to that of his pasteurizing machinery, bottler, etc., in his new dairy house. The recent addition is an automatic ice-cream manufacturing unit, together with a refrigerated cabinet for holding a half-dozen metal containers of the manufactured product. This will enable Mr. Garbrick to furnish home-made ice cream on short notice.

Fred Luse, manager of the Weis Pure Food store, mentioned last week as becoming ill, developed scarlet fever a day later. His daughter, Donna, of pre-school age, contracted the same disease, and during the first few days was quite ill. During the latter part of last week the youngest of the Luse children, Edith, 5 years, was also stricken with the same illness. Mr. Luse at this time has well recovered and the children are also in very fair condition.

William Dashem, employed as a chemist for an oil company at Warren, was a week-end guest of his parents in Potter township. He fitted himself for his profession in Centre Hall high and Penn State.

Dishwasher Protects Beauty of Hands

By Louise Brown

THE homemaker's particular bugbear these cold winter days is chapped hands—yes, just plain chapped hands. Her hands are almost continually in and out of water as she performs her household tasks, and cold and dampness are the perfect combination for chapping.

Science is contributing very definite helps, however, in keeping women's hands smooth and soft nowadays. Soaps are less harsh, there are many artificial water softeners on the market, and the new electric dishwashers eliminate the one task above all the others that is hardest on the hands.

The dishwasher is, perhaps, the most welcome innovation of all, for while scalding hot water plays over every inch of the dishes, the homemaker's hands need never touch them. The drying is accomplished by means of evaporation, so that the dishes don't need to be handled until they are cool and dry and ready to put away. The washing process is completed in three to five minutes . . . the dishes sparkle and gleam, for they are as clean as a surgeon's instruments.

The dishwasher is a piece of kitchen equipment that is finding its way into more and more homes, and more and more homemakers are enjoying its advantages. It saves time, abolishes an unpleasant job, protects the family's health—and last, but not least, gives the homemaker's hands a beauty treatment by keeping them out of water. Rather a large order for one piece of equipment, isn't it?

L. E. STOVER TO GO UNDER KNIFE TODAY

L. E. Stover, prominent business man in Millheim and member of the hardware firm of Hosterman & Stover, will undergo an operation for the correction of prostate gland trouble today (Thursday) in the Centre County hospital.

Mr. Stover entered the hospital on last Friday. A few days ago he celebrated his 67th birthday anniversary in which the hospital superintendent, nurses, and members of the family participated.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Arber Cummings, of Miles township, was a business caller at this office on Tuesday.

Mrs. W. Frank Bradford entertained the Clover Club at her home last Thursday evening.

Miss Lois Wise of the Penns Cave district, was a week-end guest at the home of Miss Marian Treaster.

The local W. C. T. U. will meet on Monday night with Mrs. C. A. Spzyker. It will be a dues social with a tureen supper.

Mrs. Garbrick, wife of Roy M. Garbrick, west of town, who had been seriously ill for some time, has largely recovered and is now able to be out of bed much of the time.

W. W. Kerlin, R. S. Hagan, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Jamison and Wm. P. Campbell, Centre Hall, attended the ground-breaking ceremonies for ten new buildings at Penn State, on Saturday.

John Gruenwald will sell a carload of first-class South Dakota horses at the Benner sales barn in Centre Hall Monday morning of next week (March 7), beginning at 10:30 a. m. You are asked to be on time, as the sale will start promptly on schedule.

Miss Evelyn Colyer, who has been caring for her mother at her home here, after visiting with her brother, Eugene Colyer, in Lewistown, for a few days, will return to New York City where she has been employed much of the time during the past few years.

Garman Matter, salesman for the Hagan Dodge agency, went to Detroit, Mich., by Greyhound bus on Sunday afternoon and returned on Tuesday evening driving a new Dodge sedan. He says the modern Greyhound bus is an ideal traveling conveyance, the unpleasant features of old buses having been eliminated.

At the ceremonies incident to the ground-breaking for ten new buildings costing approximately $5,000,000, on Saturday at the Pennsylvania State College, attended and participated in by Governor Earle and United States Senator Joseph F. Guffey, the Governor suggested the institution be renamed to avoid confusion with the University of Pennsylvania. University of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was a name brought forward that might meet approval.

More than $500 damage was done to the house occupied by Albert Alterio at Whitetock Quarries, Pleasant Gap, on Tuesday morning, when fire destroyed a part of the front of the structure.
