Deaths

HUYETT.—After almost a continuous residence in Centre Hall for fifty-two years Evan Milton Huyett passed away at his home at 4:00 o'clock on Easter Monday morning. He had been failing in health from hardening of the arteries for a considerable length of time prior to his death, which followed after a paralytic stroke suffered on Thursday previous.

Funeral services were held at the home, and from there in the Lutheran church, on Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. L. A. Wagner, pastor of that church. Mr. Huyett was born at Reading, February 11, 1866, making his age at death 78 years, two months and seven days.

During the past year, due to the realization of his falling health, he relinquished all his activities in business, social, fraternal and religious organizations, retaining only a nominal membership in some of them. Among the activities from which he resigned was the board of directors of the Huntingdon Industrial School, the Bellefonte Kiwanis Club and the council of the Lutheran church.

In addition to the widow there survive the deceased two daughters, Letta, now Mrs. Magee, and Miriam, wife of H. O. Alexander, and six grandchildren, all living in Wenonah, N. J. Mrs. Magee, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander and the latter couple's daughters came to the Huyett home on Friday to spend Easter with their parents, unaware of the condition of the father.

BYERS.—Mrs. Annie (Burkholder) Byers, widow of Hiram L. Byers, passed away at her home in St. Thomas, Franklin county, following an illness of a complication of diseases, coupled with infirmities incidental to her advanced years. She was born December 31, 1854, hence was aged 84 years, 3 months and 7 days.

Her husband preceded her to the grave about ten years ago. Surviving are three sons and two daughters: Walker, of Chicago, Ill.; Wilson, of Shippensburg; Verba, at home; Mrs. Stewart Graham, of St. Thomas, and Paul R., of Millheim. Mrs. E. S. Ripka is a deceased daughter.

Also surviving are a brother and a sister, as well as fifteen grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Funeral services were held from the home in St. Thomas with the minister of the United Brethren church, of which she was a member, in charge. Interment was made in the family plot at St. Thomas.

LEACH.—Mrs. Lizzie A. Leach died at the home of her son, James W. Guiseville, at Centre Hall, R. D., Monday night from complications following a several weeks' illness. She was 69 years of age last October 21. Mrs. Leach, widow of Stewart Leach, was born in Milroy, a daughter of William and Anna Norris Maben. In addition to her son she is survived by two brothers and three sisters: Samuel R. and R. B. Nagney; Mrs. Sarah Smith, Centre Hall; Mrs. Nancy Press, Mifflin county, and Mrs. Agnes Kuhn, Lewisburg.

MECK.—The body of Mrs. Kate Meck, who died at the home of a sister in San Diego, Calif., a few weeks ago, was brought to Jersey Shore, arriving on Saturday, for interment in Nippenose Valley. Mrs. Meck was a daughter of T. S. (Ellis) Sallada, a lumberman in the Seven Mountains about forty-five years ago, and well known in this section. Mrs. Meck and her husband lived in Williamsport all their married life, and upon the death of her husband, a year ago, went to California. She was aged about seventy years.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL Mrs. Susan Lutz, ill for some time at the Bartholomew home, is not improving. Roy Seanson of Spring Mills spent the week-end at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Seanson.

The "County Sing" will be held in the Evangelical church at Hubbersburg, on the coming Sunday at 2:30 p. m. The male chorus of Pine Grove Mills will be present. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ishler of Lock Haven visited at the homes of their daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Garbrick, Mr. and Mrs. James Seanson, on Monday. They are permanently located at 104 Commerce street in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Harshbarger, daughter Frances, of Altoona; Mrs. Bert Bathurst, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. George Seanson were Sunday guests at the James Harshbarger home at Centre Hill. The ladies are sisters. Miss Carribel Emerick continues to be a Centre County hospital patient and is being treated for injuries sustained in a fall on the evening of the 9th instant. She is obliged to lie on her right side and is not able to move without suffering great pain.

Mrs. Harold Reber, of Westmont, N. J., her mother-in-law, Mrs. Reber, and son Charles, of Shippensburg, came to the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Moore, on Friday. Mrs. Harold Reber is remaining until Sunday. On Monday, Rev. and Mrs. Frederic Moore and family of Selinsgrove, were at the Moore home.

Mrs. Newton C. Yarnell and Mrs. Sarah Yocum and niece motored to Centre Hall from Lewisburg on Monday. Mrs. Yarnell her husband and family some years ago, were respected residents of Potter township. Mrs. Yarnell is finding happiness in her advancing years by keeping young in spirit and sharing the joys of her children and grandchildren, all of whom find in her lovable companionship.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wert, living on the Wert homestead west of Tusseyville, on Easter Sunday, entertained members of the Wert family at a dinner. There were present John B. Wert, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Rossman Wert, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. George Travera, Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dale, Bellefonte; Mr. and Mrs. John B. Wert, Jr., and daughter Joan, Centre Hall, and Miss Ann Wert, Millersburg. Due to the illness of Mrs. Rossman, mother of the elder Wert, Mrs. Wert was unable to attend the family gathering.

FARM CALENDAR Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture

Plant Peas Early—Early planted peas give the best results. Late planting lowers the yield, brings blossoming at a time when there is greater danger of heat injury and greatly increases the risk of harvesting when quality is best. Penn State vegetable gardeners say that a soil well supplied with organic matter is needed for peas.

Handle Wool Properly—Thousands of dollars can be added to the wool clip of Pennsylvania by proper shearing and handling, according to Penn State livestock specialists. Thirty-two county wool growers' associations have reduced unmerchantable wool from 14 to 4 per cent in the last 18 years by educating growers through local grading demonstrations.

Rural Groups to Sing—Rural groups are preparing for the annual chorus festival at the Pennsylvania State College Farmers' Field Day, June 9. Entries closed April 15. Granges, churches, P. T. A.'s, and other rural organizations are participating in the song-fests.

Improve Athletic Fields—Where athletic fields were badly damaged during the wet weather last fall they will need attention this spring. Turf specialists of the Pennsylvania State College recommend control of weeds, seeding, and fertilizing to put the bad spots in shape again.

Top-Work Apple Trees—Standard varieties of apples pay best. Trees of doubtful value can be top-worked with popular varieties, fruit specialists of the Pennsylvania State College suggest. This method will put these trees on a paying basis.

Department will celebrate the 20th anniversary of the regular air-mail service by observing National Air-Mail Week from May 15 to 21. The Boalsburg office plans to have its own sack and it is hoped that all patrons of the office will prove the worth of this valuable service by mailing at least one article via air-mail during the period.

The timber on the Dr. Runkle farm east of Old Fort, now owned and occupied by Charles Foust, is being cut by lumberman William Fetterolf and hauled to one of his mills on the former Dauberman, now J. H. Knarr, timber tract along Sinking Creek, where it is being cut into merchantable lumber. The trees on the tract are mostly oak, and a large per cent of them hollow at the butt, not an unusual condition for trees found in open, pastured woods.
