SOUTH DAKOTA OFF ON PROSPERITY ROAD

A dispatch from Sioux Falls says: South Dakota, whose once fertile prairies, have been baked by years of crop-killing dry weather, is winning the fight against drought, depression and insect infestation.

Weird pictures of dust-storms and fields laid low by grasshoppers no longer tell the story, and the adversity of the past half-decade appears to have taught even grizzled ranchers a lesson. The State that once led the nation in per capita wealth still is in third place and is staging a valiant comeback.

Statisticians reported this week that the State has 93,000 more hogs, 63,000 more sheep and 15,000 more cattle than a year ago. Bins on farms bulge with a surplus. There are 17,553,000 more bushels of corn, 5,907,000 more bushels of oats and 3,014,000 more bushels of wheat in storage than at the same time in 1937.

Crop experts said the increases were due to a definite improvement in the moisture level and to better use of the land.

This is the state of the Greenwalds and Dodds, horse dealers and shippers, and now we may look for more, better and fatter horses.

CLAIMS BY UNEMPLOYED LESSENING IN STATE

Figures submitted to Secretary of Labor and Industry Ralph M. Bashore indicate that 2,150,722 checks for a total of $24,366,411.80 have been issued as of May 4, since the inception of benefit payments in February.

Since this is the thirteenth week of benefit distribution, many claimants have exhausted their benefit rights for the present benefit year. Consequently, reduction in activities may be expected.

For the week ending April 29, claimants reporting through the Bellefonte office received checks to the number of one hundred eleven, having a value of $1,232.95; average, $9.79.

UNION MEMBERSHIP MANDATORY ON P. S. C. BUILDING PROJECT

Union membership is the first requisite for obtaining a job on any of the buildings being erected by the General State Authority on the Penn State Campus. Kenneth B. Waterbury, of State College, head of the general labor union in that community, said in an interview with the press.

The union was organized last fall among workmen on the Women's Dormitory on the campus, and present union requirements on the $5,000,000 building program at Penn State are an outgrowth of the earlier affiliation of workers under the American Federation of Labor.

Explaining how jobs are given out on the college project, Mr. Waterbury declared that after an applicant has either established his union affiliation, or has agreed to join the union, he is given first preference if he is on relief and lives in the State College area. Second preference goes to persons not on relief but living in the State College area. Third preference goes to persons on relief living outside the State College area, and last preference is accorded persons not on relief and living outside the college area.

While the limits of the State College area were not defined, it is taken to include Centre Hall.

NEXT WEEK IS NATIONAL AIR MAIL WEEK; OBJECT, WIDEN USE OF AIR SERVICE

The twentieth anniversary of the inauguration of Air Mail Service will be observed throughout the nation during the week of May 15-21. The object is to educate the citizens in use of Air Mail, showing its progress, dependability, safety and value. This branch of the mail service has increased considerably the past few years and it is expected that through the observance of Air Mail Week the patrons of the mail service will recognize the value of this branch of the service to the extent that the increased revenue will make possible the expansion of the Air Mail Service.

A distinctive two-color air mail stamp will be issued by the United States Post Office Department as a special recognition of National Air Mail Week, May 15 to 21, which will be the greatest effort in the history of this service to increase its effectiveness and popular support.

An announcement by Major Paul R. Younts, executive chairman, said this stamp will be symbolic of the Air Mail and should be highly desirable for the many thousands of collectors who will send and receive letters on the special flights that week.

This stamp will be placed on sale on Saturday, at Dayton, Ohio, which is the home of the Wright Brothers, who built the first successful airplane, and at St. Petersburg, Florida, where the first passenger flight was made. On the following days of Air Mail Week this stamp will be on sale at many thousands of Post Offices throughout the United States.

Special flights over routes that are being mapped by the State chairman in each of the 48 states, will demonstrate the speed and efficiency of the Air Mail in "a most impressive manner to communities far distant from the regular routes." Also, the National Chairman said, these special routes for the "pick-up service" that day will present a great objective for the further expansion of the network of regular lines. "It is not unreasonable to expect that in the course of a relatively few years regular flights will be made over many of these pick-up routes, thus giving to a much greater part of the nation's population the numerous benefits of the Air Mail," he said.
