FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders from
The Pennsylvania State College

Pasture the Pigs—Pasture demonstrations conducted by 400 Pennsylvania farmers show a saving of 133 pounds of grain per 100 pounds of pork produced as compared with hogs fed in a dry lot. For hogs marketed at 200 pounds each, this would mean a saving of $5 a head, report livestock specialists of the Penna. State College.

Control Red Bugs—Red bugs are more generally found in orchards this year than usual. Penn State entomologists recommend spraying with one pint of nicotine sulphate in 100 gallons of water as a control.

Relieve Pasture Shortage—Spring is the time to prepare for mid-summer pasture shortage. Emergency pastures may be seeded or a crop planted for cutting and feeding green. Other farmers plan to pasture the second growth on meadows. Silage also may be fed if a supply is available say Penn State dairymen.

Transplant Correctly—Transplanting garden vegetables requires a careful procedure. Otherwise the plants will be retarded. Use strong, well-rooted, healthy plants and make the hole big enough to spread out the fibrous root system of the plants, Penn State vegetable gardeners urge.

Care is Important—The 1938 strawberry crop depends largely upon the care given the new plantings now. Fertilizer and cultivation are recommended by Penn State fruit specialists.

Remove Queen Cells—Queen cells should be removed from the brood of all strong colonies of bees every seven days, suggest Penn State apiculturists.

ALUMNI RECEPTION

In honor of the class of 1933 of the Centre Hall-Potter high school, the alumni association is arranging a reception and dance for Wednesday, June 8, in the high school gymnasium. This event is closed except to seniors, alumni and their guests. Arrangements for an orchestra are still only tentative but dancing will begin at nine o'clock and continue until one with several short intermissions for entertainment.

Deaths

KRYDER—Cecil Nevin Kryder, a resident of Centre Hall since about 1924, died very suddenly at Farmers Mills on Wednesday evening of last week from a heart attack. He had gone to the village in company with his wife and others, and while seated in a car felt uncomfortable and got out into the open for air when he fell to the ground, dying almost instantly. The body was brought to the Goodhart preparation room where the body was made ready for burial and taken to the home nearby.

Funeral services were held at the home and from there continued in the Lutheran church, and burial made in the Cedar Hill cemetery, on Saturday afternoon, Rev. L. A. Wagner officiating.

The deceased was twice married, first to Miss Margaret R. Boyer, who died in 1922, when the couple were living in Williamsport. The second marriage was fourteen years ago to Savilla Breen, widow of Robert D. Foreman. There were no children born to either union.

Mr. Kryder was a son of Jacob Meyer Kryder and Sabilla VonNelda Kryder, and was born February 25, 1869, on the Kryder homestead near Cedar Springs, Lamar township, Clinton county. There survive him in addition to his widow two brothers, Theodore C. Kryder, on the Kryder homestead, and Lewis B. Kryder, of Sunbury.

Mr. Kryder was engaged in the lumber business. About 1922, during the lifetime of his first wife, he lived in Centre Hall, and from here located in West Virginia, later in Caldwell, Ohio, and then Williamsport, coming to Centre Hall the second time, in 1924 or 1925.

During his residence here, he engaged in the insurance business, but during the past two years was unable to give it much attention due to poor health. He was held in high esteem as a resident and was progressive in spirit.

Fraternally he affiliated with the P. O. S. of A. and Masonic lodges. When a youth of fourteen he united with the Reformed church, but on coming to Centre Hall he became a member of the Lutheran church and had an office in it.

DEATH OF AN INFANT—After a life of but about ten hours, a son born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Packer, died late Tuesday night in the Centre County hospital where he was born at noon of that day. An oxygen tent was resorted to to save the young life but without success. The body was interred at Centre Hall, the home of the parents.

THOMPSON—Patricia, eldest daughter of Paul and Regie Miller Thompson, died suddenly on Friday evening from intestinal trouble at the parental home in Millheim, aged two years, three months, 23 days. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon, Rev. O. E. Freeman of the Lutheran church officiating. A younger sister and the parents survive the deceased, who was a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Miller and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Thompson.

HOUSER—Edward Daniel Houser died suddenly Saturday afternoon at his home in Bellefonte from a heart condition. He was born in Spring township, a son of William and Amanda Grove Houser, and was aged 45 years. He is survived by a wife, the former Zella Clements, and five children. Burial was made at Bellefonte on Tuesday.

RUSSELL—In the passing of Mrs. Anna L. Russell of Lewistown at the Colton Manor Hotel, Atlantic City, whither she had gone to regain her declining health, Mifflin county lost one of her most useful and beloved citizens. She was the widow of George Louis Russell, who was a prominent Lewistown banker and financier, whose death occurred in 1914. Her maiden name was Anna Leah Brislin, born in Lewistown Feb. 15, 1858, and a lifelong resident of Lewistown. She is survived by three sons and three daughters. A sister, Mrs. W. G. Rogers, of Philadelphia, is still living.

C. Perry Griffin, a Stormtown farmer, died in Veterans Hospital, Aspinwall, from a heart condition. He was aged almost 37 years. He is survived by a wife, formerly Mary Inhoff.

Mrs. Lulu H. Levers died in Boggs township at the home of a brother, Charles Shope. She was the widow of Edward Levers and was aged fifty-five years.

Gay Carl, 44, died at Madison, Wis. He was a son of James Carl, former clerk to the Centre County Commissioners, and was born at Pleasant Gap. At the time of his death he held an executive position with a telephone company. He is survived by a wife, four children, and his parents.

May 14, 1908—
For the first time in history, Penna. Cave is connected with the outside world by telephone, a Bell instrument having been installed at that resort Saturday under the Patrons Rural Telephone System.

The Centre Hall baseball team defeated Milesburg on the home grounds on Saturday, 3 to 0. Pitcher Ted Bailey did not allow a hit and struck out nineteen of the opposing batsmen. [Thirty years ago a list of institutions announced their doors were closed to cigarette smokers. These included business colleges, athletic clubs, mercantile establishments, railroad companies, packing houses, and countless others. How different today—the "welcome" sign is out to all, including the dear ladies. And the "weed" may be seen dangling from the mouths of youngsters still in the grades. Time marches on!]

Seven Bell telephones were installed Saturday and Monday in the Walnut Grove district, west of Tusseyville. They are connected with the Centre Hall-Linden Hall rural line. The subscribers are Netwon Yarnell, George W. Rowe, George Horner, James Wert, Arthur Fortney, John Wert, James Kimport.
