FARM CALENDAR
Timely Reminders from
The Pennsylvania State College

Stake Tomato Plants—Many home gardeners stake and prune their tomato plants to make better use of limited space, report Penn State vegetable gardeners. Under this system the plants are set 20 to 24 inches apart with 30 to 36 inches between rows. Six-foot stakes are driven into the ground about 4 inches from the plants.

Worms Damage Trees—Cankerworms are destroying the foliage on forest trees. Methods of control, such as banding or spraying the trees, are difficult and impractical to use in forests. Natural enemies of the insects, like birds or parasitic and predaceous insects, are the main checks, according to Penn State entomologists.

Avoid Overloading—Green grasses and legumes used in making silage are about three times as heavy as they would be as hay, say Penn State agricultural engineers. For this reason, farmers should be careful to avoid overlooking hay loaders, wagons, or trucks.

Control Termite Damage—A publication on termite control for Pennsylvania gives valuable information on how this insect works and the best ways to prevent damage to structures. Write to the Agricultural Mailing Room, State College, Pa., for Circular 187.

Stop Berry Disease—Anthracnose of raspberries is one of the easiest diseases to control if plants are properly sprayed. Penn State plant pathologist recommends using liquid lime-sulphur testing 1.000 specific gravity for summer spraying.

Cut Pulpwood—Heavy yields of pulpwood often can be secured from an improvement in the growing farm woods say Penn State foresters. Part of the cutting can be done each year.

Deaths

COLYER.—Mary Elizabeth Colyer died at the home of her son, Herman, in State College, last Wednesday night. Mrs. Colyer had been in ill health for the past year.
Born March 17, 1871, in Huntingdon county, she was 67 years, two months and 28 days old at the time of her death. She is survived by her husband, Reuben Colyer, of Colyer, Mrs. Colyer at one time lived near Colyer and has many acquaintances in this vicinity. Also surviving are the following children: C. C. Colyer of Pittsburgh; Ethel M. Colyer of Cleveland, O.; Mrs. L. H. Tarran of Pittsburgh; R. R. Colyer of Donora, and H. J. Colyer of State College. Ray Burns of Harrisburg, Mrs. Myton of Altoona, and Charles Burns of Huntingdon are surviving sisters and brothers.

NOILL.—Miss Hannah Noill died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Greene Heaton, from Rockview, Saturday evening from complications due to her advanced age. She was in her 89th year and lived in the vicinity of McBride's Gap. She lived there practically all her life. She was the daughter of Isaac and Mary Shade Noill. Surviving her in addition to Mrs. Heaton are four sisters and one brother.
Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the Lutheran church at Pleasant Gap with the Rev. Kaufman and Rev. Wagner officiating. Interment in the Lutheran cemetery Pleasant Gap.

RAYMOND.—John Henry Raymond, Spanish-American War veteran, died at the home of his son-in-law, Elmer Gordon, in Milesburg, Monday afternoon. He was 83 years old, and had been ill since December.
Mr. Raymond was born in Centre Hall, a son of Thomas and Lydia Sampel Raymond. Burial will be made this (Thursday) afternoon in Myers cemetery, Buffalo Run Valley.

KEICHLINE.—John M. Keichline, Esq., one of Bellefonte's oldest residents and oldest member of the Centre County Bar Association, died at his home last Wednesday at noon. Mr. Keichline who was 91, has served as justice of the peace in Bellefonte for about twenty-five years. He was still active a few months ago.
A great-grandson of Colonel Peter Keichline, first mayor, first sheriff and first magistrate of Easton, he was a descendant of an early Pennsylvania family. He was born at Aaronsburg on October 12, 1846, a son of Peter and Sarah Long Keichline. He was educated in the schools of Rebersburg, Boalsburg and Pine Grove Mills. After teaching school for several years at the Glades school in Ferguson township, he studied in the law offices of Bush and Yocum, in Bellefonte.

October 11, 1876, he was united in marriage with Miss Sarah Louise Wagner at Milesburg. Mrs. Keichline, who is 84 years of age, survives. Two years ago the couple celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary. Four children: Dr. John Keichline of Huntingdon; Miss Daise Keichline, Miss Anna Keichline and Edward L., all at home, survive, with one brother, Peter F. Keichline, of Bellefonte.

GRAHAM.—The Rev. Willis A. Graham, 58, pastor of the Jersey Shore Epworth Methodist church, and a native of Oak Hall, this county died June 7 at the parsonage after a year's illness with complications. He had been a Methodist minister for 34 years. Burial was made at Ithaca, N. Y. Surviving are his wife, a son, Cecil, a sister and four brothers.

GRAMLEY.—Mrs. Susan E. Gramley, of Altoona, died Sunday night a week ago at the Altoona hospital four weeks after she had received a broken leg.

Born April 9, 1854, near Bellefonte, she was a daughter of W. A. and Rebecca (Musser) Kerlin. Her husband, Thomas F. Gramley, died in 1926. Mrs. Gramley had been a resident of Bellefonte and Boalsburg for about 50 years. The family went to Altoona to make their home about 1901. Members of the family include three sons, John and Ward, both at Greenwood, and Max, of Altoona; four daughters, Mrs. Charles Witt, of Greenwood; Mrs. G. W. Shaffer, of Altoona; Miss Donna, at home, and Mrs. Rosa Lowder, of Oak Hall; 11 grandchildren, two brothers, Clayton and John Kerlin, both of Iowa, and three sisters, Mrs. Clara Kline, of Iowa; Mrs. Mary Smith, of Colorado, and Mrs. Maggie Keller, of Iowa.

BELL.—Roger Edmund Bell, only son of Roger L. and Dorothy Straub Bell, of Bellefonte, died at the Centre County hospital Sunday afternoon from complications. He had been ill about five weeks from inflammation of the middle ear. He was six years old.

The Centre County Sheep and Wool Growers Association at their annual meeting at Bellefonte on Thursday evening opened bids on their 1938 wool clip. According to P. C. McKenzie, president of the association, the bid of R. E. Smith, Inc., of Boston, was accepted and plans are being made to load the wool on Friday of this week, at Hippie's warehouse in Bellefonte. All wool growers in the county are eligible to bring their wool into the pool. Anyone desiring information relative to consigning wool thru the wool growers organization should get in touch with W. C. Smeltzer, secretary-treasurer, or the Agricultural Extension Office.

CENTRE COUNTY W.C.T.U. TO MEET AT BELLEFONTE, JUNE 30

The fifty-third annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Centre County will be held in the Evangelical church, Bellefonte, on Thursday, June 30.
There will be three sessions—morning, opening at 9:30 o'clock; afternoon session, beginning at 2:00 o'clock; and an evening session, starting at 7:15 o'clock. The public is invited to all sessions.
At the morning session, Musser Gettig Esq., district attorney, will make the address of welcome.
You are asked to bring a box lunch; coffee will be served.
At the afternoon session a highlight is an address by Mrs. Alvine Sherbine, National Director of Alcohol Education. Prizes will be awarded at this session by Mrs. D. A. Sower.
Dinner will be served by the Bellefonte Local at 40 cents.
At the evening session a gold medal contest will be directed by Mrs. Ida Witmer. An address will be given by Mrs. Ella B. Black, Pa. State President of the W. C. T. U.
The State convention will be held at Williamsport, October 6-10.

JACOBSON—BRUNGART

Miss Geraldine Brungart, daughter of Mrs. Lulu Brungart of Spring Mills, was married to A. E. Jacobson of State College. Mr. Jacobson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Jacobson of Lance, this state. The couple were married at the Presbyterian parsonage in Hagerstown, Md. The ring ceremony being used. They spent a short honeymoon in Washington, D. C. and Baltimore, and will take up their residence in State College.

LOCAL GIRL A BRIDE.

John Praskovich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Praskovitch of Half Moon Terrace, Bellefonte, and Miss Elizabeth Gross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gross of Centre Hall, were quietly married last Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in St. John's Catholic rectory. Rev. Bernard McGuire, assistant pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. Their attendants were Helen Praskovich, sister of the bridegroom, and Wesley Kuszars, both of Bellefonte.

Mrs. Praskovitch attended the Centre Hall high school for several years, and for a time was employed at the Coffee Shop, State College. Mr. Praskovich, who attended St. John's Parochial school, is employed by the American Lime & Stone company. For the present they will live with the bridegroom's parents.

NEW W. P. A. PROJECTS

The following are among the new W. P. A. projects being proposed for Centre county. Several of them are already under way:

In State College: sidewalk and curb construction; 113 men, 4 months.
Also in State College: Athletic field construction to include tennis courts, baseball field. Started June 13.
Grove township: Improve school grounds in Spring Mills. Started June 13th.

CENTRE COUNTY YOUTHS MAY ENROLL IN CCC CAMPS JULY 1-15

Applications from Centre county youths are now being accepted for enrollment in the Civilian Conservation Corps camps from July 1 to July 15, the local Board of Public Assistance announced a few days ago.
To young men between the ages of 17 and 23 the Civilian Conservation Corps offers an opportunity of wholesome out-door work where they are assured plenty to eat, serviceable clothing and a comfortable place in which to live.
Each young man receives $10.00 a month from which he allots at least $22.00 a month to needy dependents.
Youths in active relief families or in families employed on WPA or PWA projects will be given preference in the enrollment. Youths from non-relief families will be enrolled to fill the quota.
Application for enrollment should be made as soon as possible at the Department of Public Assistance office in the Temple Court Building, Bellefonte, or at the Department of Public Assistance office in Philipsburg.
The Senior Service class in the Lutheran Sunday school was entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Paul Fetterolf, a member.

CENTRE HALL GOES INTO FIRST PLACE IN TRI-VALLEY BASEBALL LEAGUE

In the game with Spring Mills last Thursday the Centre Hall Senators were defeated by a 6-2 score. Using a new pitcher, Joe Kuchinski, Spring Mills went into the lead in the third inning with a three-run rally and stayed ahead until the end. Kuchinski gave up eight hits while Spring Mills got to Hal Durst and Peter Martz for nine safeties.
Lee Brown and Ray Bright paced the victors' attack with two hits each. Chic Goodhart accounted for three of Centre Hall's hits getting a double and two singles. Paul Fetterolf listed two hits for the Senators.

Thursday's game put Centre Hall and Pleasant Gap in a tie for position for first place, but in Saturday's game between these contenders, Centre Hall took undisputed possession of the Tri-Valley League. Peter Martz, pitching his best game of the season to date, held the Gap hitters to five safeties, giving Centre Hall 7 runs to the Gap's 3. While Martz was holding the 1937 champions scoreless until the last inning, Centre Hall reached Red Fultz, the Gap's starting pitcher, for four runs in the first two frames. Ed Spieher then took over Pleasant Gap's mound duties and held down the Senator attack.

The two "recruits" in the Centre Hall lineup, George Martz and Benny Gerhart, did fine fielding jobs.
Chic Goodhart and Jack Bradford, with three hits each, paced the Centre Hall hitting which accounted for 12 safeties. Paul Fetterolf and Doc Crawford listed two hits each for the winners.

LOCAL MUSHBALL GAMES

Last Friday's mullball game between the Lutheran and Evangelical teams resulted in a victory for the former by a score of 14 to 10.
Tuesday evening the Reformed and Evangelical teams came to grips. The Reformed team started off with a big lead, but when reinforcements arrived for the Ev. team, they also began to run up quite a score. In the end the record stood 13 to 9, favoring the Reformed, although the Ev's out-hit their opponents 14 to 9.
The next three games:
Friday, June 24—M. P.'s vs. Lutheran.
Tuesday, June 28—Ev's vs. M. P.'s.
Friday, July 1—Lutherans vs. Reformed.

ECKENRODE—SMITH.

At a ceremony performed at noon Saturday at the Central Presbyterian church, Buffalo, N. Y., Miss Eleanor J. Smith of Bellefonte, became the bride of Robert A. Eckenrode, also of Bellefonte. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Leonard V. Bushman with Mr. and Mrs. Weld J. McGlynn of Buffalo as attendants.
Miss Smith, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Smith, of Buffalo, lives in Bellefonte and has been home economics extension representative for Centre county since 1931. She is well and favorably known in Centre Hall where much of her club work was done.
After a wedding trip through the New England states, the couple will return to Bellefonte, where they will make their home. Miss Smith has tendered her resignation as extension representative.

POTTERS MILLS

Charles Foust and family of Pottersville are spending their vacation at the home of his uncle, J. G. Boal, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. McCormick, mother and aunt, Miss Caroline McClaskey, motored to Reading on Saturday. They left Miss McClaskey at Reading, at the home of W. E. McCormick while they went on to Lyonsville to attend the wedding of Miss Edan Rennard and Robert Windolph, grandson of J. R. Bible. The McCormicks returned to Reading Saturday evening. They left Miss McClaskey and Mrs. Laura McCormick in Reading to visit for a week, while Mr. and Mrs. McCormick returned home Sunday evening.

FINDS "REPORTER" ADV. BRINGS GOOD RESULTS

Does advertising pay?
Of course it does, but don't expect miracles, to happen when using advertising space only now and then. Consistent advertising pays, and pays big.
Now, does advertising in the Centre Reporter pay?
Let's have a business man from Lewisdown give the answer. Mr. Scheidhaefer is manager of the Personal Finance company, and after a month's advertising in The Reporter was so pleased as to write us the following, wholly unsolicited on our part:

PERSONAL FINANCE CO.,
20 E. Market St., Lewisdown, Pa.
June 13, 1938.

The Editor, The Centre Reporter,
Centre Hall, Pa.
Dear Sir,

It has been one month since we began running our advertisement in your newspaper, and to say that we have been pleased with the results is putting it mildly.
We have found that your circulation covers the large area of Centre county, reaching people who did not know of our service and whom we thought would be interested in our plan of financing.
We plan to be in Centre Hall shortly and will stop in to see you.
Yours very truly,
W. R. SCHEIDHAUER,
Manager, Personal Finance Co.,
Lewisdown, Pa.

CENTRE COUNTY CIVIL SERVICE APPOINTMENTS

Among civil service appointments of relief administrators announced at Harrisburg a few days ago, were the following for Centre county: W. Mam E. Ishler, of Boalsburg; Gilbert Strunk, of State College, and Walter Hering, of Spring Mills, visitors, at $1,350 and $1,620.
Millheim will probably have a new dentist soon. Harry Cooper, of Altoona, a graduate of the Dental School of the University of Pittsburgh, is arranging to open an office there soon.
