CENTRE HALL, PA., THURSDAY, JULY 28, 1938

NO. 29

CENTRAL PA. DISTRICT CONVENTION. P. O. S. OF A.

For the sixteen counties comprising the Central District of Pennsylvania all roads should lead to Centre Hall on August 6. Members of the P. O. S. of A. and the ladies' auxiliary, the P. O. of A. will gather from the camps of these counties for their annual sessions.

The leading speaker will be the State President, Harry J. Leary, John R. Bell and C. E. Ford, State building trustees, are also expected to be there. Other speakers will be ex-State President Roy Schuyler of Lock Haven, and C. H. Paul, who is National Conductor and Secretary of Allied Patriotic Legislative Committees at Washington.

There will be music and a good orchestra, and two floor drills, one in the forenoon and one in the afternoon, by two different P. O. of A. teams. Momentous problems have arisen and loudly call for solution. The patriot of today cannot stay at home and remain inactive, thus abetting the growing tide of indifference to duties accepted while the call to action is so imperative.

The local order is looking forward to a rousing attendance at the district convention at Centre Hall. The State President and other State officers will be there, and in this convention the Order wishes to give evidence of its willingness to uphold the hands of its State and National officers who are so faithfully fighting to keep America for Americans.

$75,000,000 SCHOOL PROJECT PROPOSED BY SEN. THOMPSON

Governor Earle in his call for a special session of the Pennsylvania State Legislature included a $75,000,000 school project proposed by Senator Thompson.

Senator Thompson, of Centre county, said he had assisted in drafting legislation to enable the state to add 1,000 schools to its General State Authority program, which already has started jobs totaling nearly $65,000,000.

Thompson said speed is needed because federal aid could not be obtained after September. He estimated the federal government would contribute $33,000,000, the state $20,000,000 and communities the other $22,000,000.

"This is the greatest need of the day," Thompson said. "School facilities are sadly lacking, despite the fact that the 'little red school house' is the center of American life in most smaller communities."

"We could build consolidated schools or any kind of building needed to ease the crowding of present structures, many of which are in deplorable condition."

MRS. FRANK CRUST KILLED BY LIGHTNING; BABE SPARED

Lightning killed a 23-year-old mother and spared her month-old baby as it lay beside her in her home near Spring Mills, on the Allison farm, Sunday afternoon. The victim was Mrs. Frank Crust, who died almost instantly after a bolt of lightning followed an aerial wire into her bedroom during an electrical storm in that section of the county.

Summoned to the upstairs bedroom by a strange cry made by his wife after the lightning struck, the husband was in time to see his young wife die a few minutes after he entered the room. She had never regained consciousness.

The baby, to which the mother had gone to be near after the storm broke was uninjured by the shock.

Dr. W. R. Heaton, county coroner, made an investigation of the woman's death Monday morning as the body lay in the morgue at the Goodhart funeral parlors, Centre Hall, and also of the home. According to Dr. Heaton, the lightning followed an aerial wire leading from a shed about 300 feet from the house to a point near the window beside the woman's bed. There were no marks on the victim's body resulting from the shock, the doctor said.

Mrs. Crust, the former Helen Rebecca Benner, was born 23 years ago at Roopersburg, the daughter of William and Rebecca Lose Benner, now deceased.

She was married to Frank Crust of Spring Mills, R. D., six years ago and was the mother of two children, Shirley Lou, 2 years, and Joan Marie, one month.

The following brothers and sisters survive: Mrs. Wm. Smith, Mrs. Geo. Stewart, John Benner, all of Bellefonte; Russell Benner, Bellefonte, R. D.; Grover Benner, Milesburg; Harry Benner, Boalsburg; and Mrs. John Long, Spring Mills.

LAURIN DUBBS, WPA WORKER, SUICIDE IN BUSH HOLLOW

Without empaneling a jury, Coroner Heaton declared Laurin Dubbs, 31, a suicide. The rash deed was committed with a .32-40 caliber rifle, the charge entering the right breast. Before firing the fatal shot the man killed his dog also by shooting. Both were found by brothers of the man in a gully near the home of his parents in Bush Hollow, Union township. Four shots were fired, all heard by the mother and two brothers.

Laurin Dubbs was born at Pleasant Gap, June 29, 1907, a son of Geo. and Bessie Johnson Dubbs. He is survived by his mother and the following brothers and sisters: Andrew, Charles, Ralph, Thomas, Ruth and Roxanna, all at home; Theodore, Orrin and George Jr., of Union township; Mrs. Charles Holt, Detroit, Mich. The organization made a fine appearance and their music was of a high order and well rendered.

The attendance was quite large and the weather well adapted to an outside gathering. The gross receipts are said to have been $186.00. The leading item of expense was the band—$25.00, and $10.00 for transportation.

A few samples were brought to town on Wednesday, one of which measured all of ten inches in diameter. The flowers were of various beautiful colors. A prize dahlia in the flower garden measures two inches greater than the largest one exhibited here.

PROSPECTS OF BELLEFONTE CENTRAL R. R. TO OPERATE LINE TO TYRONE, BLOCKED

The litigation between the Bellefonte Central and Pennsylvania Railroad companies resulted adversely to the former company. The Interstate Commerce Commission ruled the Bellefonte Central is not allowed the "long haul" over the unused connecting link to the larger company's lines at Tyrone. The line, known as the Fairbrook Branch, purchased from the P. R. R. and improved at a cost of $350,000, was rendered almost worthless by the decision.

The majority decision in the case is based, according to the transcript, on testimony offered by the P. R. R. stating that under the present setup, a greater portion of freight circulating through the Bellefonte area is routed east on the company's Bald Eagle division. Thus, it is maintained, goods sent to Tyrone over the Fairbrook Branch would have to be returned to the section from where they were sent.

In their arguments to secure power to operate the 25-mile branch Bellefonte Central officials maintained the opposite viewpoint. Officials state that shipping costs would be lessened, and further, that greater service could be given State College and those shipping from any point along the company's 43-mile line.

The Fairbrook Branch, extending from Tyrone to Fairbrook, six miles west of State College, was purchased by the Centre county railroad from the Pennsylvania, in 1923. It was bought at salvage price after the P. R. R. had made application to abandon the line.

After the purchase was made the Bellefonte Central constructed a new line connecting State College with Fairbrook. The company then operated the complete line from Bellefonte to Tyrone from October, 1930, to February, 1932. At no time was it permitted to route traffic through Tyrone.

In the 18 months that the new branch was in operation only 8 carloads of freight originated from points along the line and only 170 carloads were delivered. These figures are interpreted by the Bellefonte Central as showing the futility of operating the branch for its own sake and without the right to dispatch traffic through to Pennsylvania lines.

The Bellefonte Central is permitted to appeal to the U. S. Supreme court.

OVER 600,000 WILL BE ELIGIBLE TO VOTE ON AGE

It is estimated that from 600,000 to 700,000 new voters are coming of age this year in time to participate in the balloting, if they register.

Party workers will find it their task to get new eligibles to register, and then it will be necessary to get them to vote, together with those who were registered and did not vote in the primaries.

Later it was discovered that Mr. Miller had suffered several slight paralytic strokes, and that his fall was due to the effects of one of them. At the present time the entire right side of the gentleman is paralyzed, rendering him practically helpless.

4-H CLUB MEMBERS TO HOLD MEETINGS AT P. S. C.

MARRIED TEACHERS NOT WANTED AT PORTAGE

The Portage school board was joined with the boards in Johnstown and Somerset in a campaign to obtain the resignation of married teachers.

The Portage school board voted to request its married teachers to resign. Johnstown had taken similar action some time ago and Somerset followed. No resignations have yet been reported in either Johnstown or Somerset.

Many teachers, believing themselves safe from discharge because of the new Teachers Tenure Act, recently passed by the legislature, have married. In the past, school boards have had their own rules against permitting married women to teach. The general belief among teachers is that they cannot be discharged or refused new contracts should they marry under the new tenure law although no court test of the question has been made.

The Johnstown school board, in requesting the resignation of some 30 teachers who have recently married, explained to them that matrimony imposes a dual obligation upon them and that as a result the board was of the opinion that they could not give maximum efficiency in the school room.
