

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Rev. Russell Goodhart, serving a Methodist charge at Clarington, Ohio, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Salina Goodhart, at Millheim.

Mrs. Sadie Kreamer and daughter, Miss Rebecca Kreamer, of Lewistown, on Sunday left for a brief vacation trip to Niagara Falls and other points.

Forty-four permits for private buildings were issued in State College during the first seven months of the present year. The approximate cost of the structures sums up to $329,500.

Miss Marion Smith, R. N., doing general nursing in the Jefferson hospital, Philadelphia, is at her home here on vacation. On returning to Philadelphia she will again begin private nursing.

Elene George Webb announces she will again open a fall and winter term in tap, acrobatic, toe and ballroom dancing, at the high school auditorium in Centre Hall. Reception and registration on Tuesday, September 6, at 7:15 p. m.

George W. Isher, one of Centre Hall's aged residents, during one of the rainy days of last week fell while near the stable and was well saturated with water when found and helped to his home. A few days later he was about as usual.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Keyser and family of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, spent two weeks visiting among relatives and friends in Centre county. Mrs. Keyser is a sister of Mrs. Annie Brooks at whose home the Keyser family had dinner last Saturday.

Mrs. Wilbur McClellan will finish her work this week as an instructor at Camp Mensch Mills where she has in previous years held a similar position. This week her young son, Martin, joined the classes during kiddies week at the camp.

Mrs. Charles Frazier of Penns Cave area continues to suffer from injuries sustained on July 4th when a nickel fire-cracker exploded, striking her body with pieces of wood, some of which penetrated deeply. The injury stubbornly refusing to heal is on the left leg below the knee, and requires frequent surgical attention.

George H. Yoxheimer, of Northumberland, has leased a part of the Wallace Ilgen farm, next to Grange Park, as an airfield during the time of the Grange Encampment and Fair. His equipment is said to be a superior one and the pilots men of experience. The concessionaire will be recalled as one of the Kesler superintendents in the road construction of the Missing Link, Seven Mountains.

Jerre Shunk of Port Matilda, hung his car on the anchor post of a guard fence along Route 53, a bit west of Old Fort Hotel on Wednesday evening. Jerre, who is a retired railroad trackman, had been at Spring Mills where he had lived prior to moving to Port Matilda, and on the way home got mixed up with the heavy guard posts. No one of the several passengers in the car were injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel S. Daup, Mrs. Annie Frazier and Miss Bernice Frazier, on Saturday afternoon, motored to Painesville, Ohio, where they became guests of Mrs. Frazier's son, Leo W. Frazier, Esq., and family. Returning home on Tuesday they came by way of Erie and Niagara Falls. Mr. Daup, assistant cashier of the First National bank, was the man at the wheel.

Mrs. Isreal Wance of Millheim recently became a hospital patient in Lock Haven. Her trouble is thought to be a hangover from typhoid fever. Another patient from Millheim is Paul Eoone, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Eoone, who is in the Philipsburg State hospital undergoing surgical treatment to correct a shortened leg, a handicap since infancy. Although the process is painful and slow some measure of success is assured.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Emerick, Mr. and Mrs. Gale Emerick, of Elmwood, Illinois, Mrs. Lola Walker and Mrs. Mabel Barner, of Lock Haven, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Spayd. The Illinoisians, who came east a week earlier, returned home on Monday. The former Mr. Emerick is engaged in conducting a 500-acre farm, growing corn, oats and wheat as grain crops, and relying on alfalfa and soy beans for provender. Alfalfa is largely supplanting ensilage in his section. The planting of hybrid corn is becoming almost universal in Northern Illinois. One of the chief benefits aside from yield is the deep rooting system insuring the stalks to stand until harvested with the corn pickers. Coming east the tourists motored through southern Indiana, Ohio, into West Virginia and Maryland, entering Pennsylvania by way of Hagerstown.

A week's motor trip through New Jersey, New York, Massachusetts, Vermont, and Canada was made by Robert McCormick and his fiancée, Miss Isabel Bradford, returning home the latter part of last week. Elizabeth, N. J., was reached over the Pocono Mountains and Delaware Water Gap. While in Elizabeth the couple were guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Duncan formerly residents of State College, who piloted them to many points of interest in New York City. The route north was over the Storm King's highway, crossing the Hudson River at Catskill in Massachusetts, up through Vermont to Lake Champlain, where a stop was made, and then crossing the border into Canada at a point south of Montreal, thence to Ottawa and across to Callander where they hoped to see the Quints, but found them under quarantine. From Callander the route was south to Toronto and around the lake to Niagara Falls, and back home, the total distance traveled having been 1700 miles.

CANDIDATES EARLE AND JONES TO BE ON GRANGE PARK WEDNES. EVE'G, AUGUST 31

George H. Earle, Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator, and Charles Alvin Jones, Democratic candidate for Governor, have signified their intention to be at the Grange Fair at Centre Hall on Wednesday evening, August 31, between the hours of 6:00 and 7:00 o'clock. They will address the people at that time.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Grey, a youthful brother of R. S. Jamison, is a guest for the week at the Jamison home. He is from Millburg.

Mrs. Emma Vonada, widow of David Vonada, of the Farmers Mills section, will occupy a part of the B. H. Emerick home recently remodeled, in Centre Hall.

Mrs. Albert Gilder, of Lakeworth, Florida, was an arrival in town on Monday and will remain for a few weeks with her grandfather, H. J. Lambert.

Mrs. Mamolen of Nieman's Department store, Millheim, has returned from New York City, while Mr. Nieman still remains in that city making purchases for the fall and winter clothing trade.

John D. Knarr, Jr., a few days ago received a bar for marksmanship in the Civilian Military Training Corps Camp rifle range at Fort Meade, Md. This is an adornment the youth can be justly proud of and one earned through superior skill.

Miss Helen Martin and Mrs. Esther Henderson, of Steubenville, Ohio, were week-end guests of Rev. and Mrs. F. P. Geary. Miss Martin is superintendent of the Ohio Valley Hospital at Steubenville, having succeeded her hostess, Mrs. Geary, resigned, to that position.

Rev. H. C. Erdman and Mrs. Erdman, of Burkettville, Md., were recent dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. L. Arthur Wagner on their way from their Maryland home to Akron, Ohio. Rev. Erdman is a minister in the Lutheran faith and is a distant relative of Rev. Wagner.

Rev. L. Arthur Wagner, pastor of the local Lutheran parish, will be on vacation during the last week in August and first week in September. He and Mrs. Wagner and children will be about home much of the time, but may be at their respective parental homes over week-ends.

Ralph Stamm and Clyde Stamm, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Stamm of near Coburn, made application to join the United States Army. The application was made through the Lewisburg Recruiting office. The young men are in their early twenties. Ralph was a farm-hand and was employed with Bruce Runkle for five or six years.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dasher and Mrs. Harry Harshbarger of Altoona, motored to Warren on Friday to meet the former's son, William Dasher, who is employed as a chemist there, on a sight-seeing trip to Erie, Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Canada. Mrs. D. C. Fohringer was a driving guest as far as Youngsville where she visited a sister, Mrs. Rev. Horner.

An electric storm on Wednesday afternoon of last week resulted in the shattering of several poles in Penns and Brush valleys, interrupting electric service in Centre Hall for a short time and for a much longer period customers east of here. The West Penn Power company sent two groups of workmen to make the repairs as soon as they were notified.

A caravan of twelve cars bearing forty-two children from the Evangelical Orphanage, Lewisburg, were guests of the Lewisburg Lions Club on a trip through Penns Valley to the top of Nittany Mountain where they made a brief stop to view the valley, and then went on to visit the Pleasant Gap fish hatchery, the Big Spring, and on to Hecla Park where they ate their Wednesday evening dinner.

J. Elmer Bierly, of Tallahassee, Florida, a brother of E. S. Bierly of Rebersburg, prominent in Florida politics, legislative measures, real estate, etc., with Mrs. Bierly, are visiting about the old home sites in Brush Valley. Mr. Bierly has been in Centre Hall for twenty-three years while Mrs. Bierly is a native of the state. In this issue is an advertisement of E. S. Bierly, agent, who is prepared to pulverize limestone and lime on the farm.

Six men, one of whom was Dr. H. J. Little of Hughesville, a veterinarian in charge of the Wellboro office of the Bureau of Animal Industry and former sheriff of Lycoming county, are being held under $17,000 bail charged with alleged conspiracy to defraud the State in connection with cattle indemnities for Bang disease infection. Their method was to use fake health charts and transferred ear tags from cattle shipped from other states.

Dr. Franklin Meyer, of Washington, D. C., was one of the Reporter's subscribers who carefully read the appeal for funds in the issue of last week. Dr. Meyer, whose account is never left to lag, advanced his label well into the future. He has been a subscriber to the Centre Reporter since 1890 at which time he left his home at the White Church, two miles east of Penn Hall, to become a student in Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, and later graduated from that institution. Taking up teaching in high schools, he became principal of the Ardmore high school and from there went to Washington, D. C., and has since been connected with one of the departments there.

BOHN-MOYER

On Saturday, August 29, a very beautiful wedding was solemnized in the Country Club Garden at Rolling Green, when Anna Mary Moyer of Hummels Wharf became the bride of James David Bohn of New York. Rev. Bailey of Hummels Wharf performed the ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Moyer of Hummels Wharf and is a graduate of Susquehanna University. For the past six years she has been a successful teacher in East Penns Valley high school.

The groom is a son of David and the late Sara Wert Bohn of Boalsburg. He is a graduate of Pennsylvania State College and received his Master's Degree from Ohio State University. At present he is employed as a chemist for the Sheffield Company in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Bohn have gone on an extended honeymoon, after which they will be at their newly furnished home at 151 Highwood Avenue, Lodi, New Jersey.

EBDLEY-RUHL

On Wednesday afternoon, August 17, at 5:00 o'clock, in the local Reformed church, Miss Mabel N. Ruhl of Lewisburg became the charming bride of Henry P. Erdley, of Spring Mills, the pastor of the church, Rev. D. R. Keener, officiating. The bride for some time had been chief telephone operator for the Buffalo Valley Telephone Company at Lewisburg, and the groom is the enterprising cashier of The First National Bank of Spring Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. Erdley on their wedding trip expected to visit the states of Ohio, Virginia and West Virginia. They will be at home at Spring Mills after September 1st.

Felicitations from many friends are being received by them.

CENTRAL PA. DEMOCRATIC PICNIC, MOSHANNON PARK

War veterans from Centre and Clearfield counties have been named committee members to greet the "All Veterans" Democratic state candidates George H. Earle, U. S. Senator, Charles Alvin Jones, Governor, and Leo C. Mundy, Lieut. Governor, and Thomas A. Logue, Secretary of Internal Affairs, at a Veterans' reception to be held at the Hotel Phillips, Philipsburg, Wednesday, August 31, at 1:30 p. m., the day of the Fourth Annual Central Penna. Democratic Picnic at Black Moshannon Park.

Following the reception the candidates will address the afternoon session of the fourth annual Central Pa. Democratic Picnic.
