30 Years Ago Items of news which interested those of a generation ago, taken from the files of The Reporter, year 1908.

September 24, 1908—Upon solicitation of The Centre Reporter, Col. Wm. J. Bryan, the Democratic candidate for President, sent a bunch of alfalfa grown on his "Fairview Farm," together with a letter wishing the Grange Encampment and Fair success. This particular exhibit was viewed with considerable interest, a portrait of the Nebraska savior in making the exhibit conspicuous.

The borough schools opened Monday for an eight months term. Miss Martha Farmer died suddenly near her home at Coyer, Sunday at one o'clock. She was seized with a spell of coughing and in attempting to reach a neighbor's home a hemorrhage of the lungs developed, proving fatal.

Centre Hall defeated Linden Hall in a baseball game picnic week, 16 to 6. Linden Hall pinned their hopes on Harmon, a Reedsville pitcher.

Miss Leila Huyett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Huyett of Centre Hall is a student at the Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove. She will study music.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Keller of Phoenixville, and Mrs. John H. Krumbine of Vintondale were among the many former residents who were here during the Encampment.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Sweetwood of Clarvo, Wisconsin, just completed a two weeks' visit with friends and relatives in Penns Valley.

More than 450 new school building plans involving an expenditure of about $25,000,000 have been received by the Department of Public Instruction during the past fifteen days, prior to September 19th.

Deaths

KOLB.—Harry S. Kolb, father of Drew E. Kolb, Millheim theatre manager, died Sunday morning from a cerebral hemorrhage, as he was about to return home from Techoborn, Ontario, Canada, where he had gone on a fishing trip.

He was a retired druggist and was born and reared in Williamsport. He was aged seventy-three years. A wife, four sons and a brother survive him.

DUNKLEBARGER.—Mrs. Catharine Dunkleberger died in Thompsonstown and burial was made in Middleburg. She was a daughter of George (deceased) and Mrs. Yarnell, and a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newton E. Yarnell, of Levistown. Both parents and grandparents were residents at one time of Harris township, near Linden Hall.

She is survived by two children, Richard Allen and Joan Irene, both at home.

Deceased was born January 1st, 1912, near Boalsburg. Mrs. John Jordan of Potter township is an aunt of the deceased. Mr. and Mrs. Jordan attended the funeral.

TRESSLER.—Mrs. Nettie Benner Tressler, wife of Harvey Tressler, died on Saturday morning at her home in Bellefonte. She was aged 55 years, 5 months and 10 days.

There survive the deceased her husband and these children: Mrs. Edward Saxton of Waddle; Mrs. Boyd Corl, Mrs. Clarence Grove, Mrs. Roy Yarnell, Mrs. Henry W. Houser and Harrison Tressler, all of Bellefonte.

Burial was made in the Union cemetery, Bellefonte, on Tuesday.

HOLTER.—Mrs. Emma Long Holter, former Howard resident living with her grandson, Robert Long of McVeytown, died Thursday night, aged 83 years. Her grandson and a niece, Mrs. Charles Robb of State College are the only surviving relatives.

Mrs. Holter was born in Millheim, the daughter of Jacob and Susan Lose. Twice married, her husbands were Robert Long of Nittany and David Holter of Howard, both deceased. Mrs. Holter was a member of the Howard Evangelical church. Funeral services were held Sunday at Howard and interment made in Schenck's cemetery.

Elmer H. Bryan, at Milesburg, aged 71 years. Several children survive. He was a furnace worker and was the last of that class of worker in his section.

William P. Fisher, Jr. at Glenn Ridge, New Jersey, 77 years. He was reared at Unionville, a son of the late Wm. P. Fisher. He was an attorney by profession.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Road supervisors and auditors in the county will meet in the court house, Tuesday, October 4th.

C. W. Boozer, local postmaster, and W. L. Jacobs attended the legislative hearing at Harrisburg on Tuesday.

Harry Wolf, farmer east of town, is profiting in growing good crops on six or seven acres of meadow land which he tile-drained during the past few years.

Jean Musser, who underwent an eye operation at the Huntingdon hospital, is again taking her place in the sophomore class of the Vocational school at Spring Mills.

The bids received by the County Commissioners for the construction of a home for the county poor were all rejected because they were $37,000 more than the original estimate.

A committee from the Centre Hall-Potter high school district, Dr. H. R. White, M. A. Burkholder, Prof. J. F. Wetzel and D. K. Keller, on Wednesday morning carried the architect's plan for the proposed new Junior High School building to Harrisburg and put them into the hands of the State Department of Education. Dean E. Kennedy, State College, the architect employed by the school board, joined the committee in the conference with the Department of Education.

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS

A CHICAGO lawyer was showing off to the jury not long ago going through all the usual motions about a woman that shot her husband.

"Just look at her," this prosecutor tell the jury. "She weighs near a hundred and sixty, and she's not afraid of anything! But how about the four husbands she's had and got rid of? In every case she picked out a meek man to marry! Why was that?"

The charming defendant raised her head and forgot the instructions she'd got from her lawyer.

"You're a liar!" she yells. "They wasn't one of 'em meek when I married 'em! I'm the guy that made 'em meek!"

TEN HIGH SCHOOL CENTERS IN COUNTY; C. H.-P. OKEYED

Major changes in the public school set-up in Centre county are included in a tentative plan prepared by county superintendent of schools F. Glenn Rogers, in anticipation of the statewide move for the consolidation of grade and high schools. Mr. Rogers plan received approval of the State Department of Public Instruction last week.

Revision of the present borough and township school divisions is provided in the new system which calls for the establishment of ten administration units or areas in Centre county. High school centers, are designated in each of the areas and it is the hope to eventually provide large and complete high schools in each of the centers to serve all the school pupils in the area.

The only compulsory feature of the present laws, Mr. Rogers sets forth, is that any district having 10 or less teachers must vote at the general election in 1939 as to whether or not they wish to merge with some other adjoining school district. If the voters do not favor a merger, their wishes will be respected.

One of the new laws enacted to regulate school practices throughout the states provides that during the school year 1938-1939, the age for the compulsory attendance of pupils in the State's schools is to be increased from 16 years to 17 years. Next year, under the School Code, school districts will be required to pay transportation costs for all pupils sent to the high schools of other districts.

Under the present set-up the ten administration centers, each of nine having one central high school and the tenth two, are given herewith:

THAT REPUBLICAN "LIBERAL" PLATFORM HYPOCRITICAL

In his address in Pittsburgh on Friday over a state-wide radio network, Governor Earle, candidate for United States Senator from Pennsylvania stated the Republican organization at its convention in Pittsburgh on the Saturday previous, adopted what it hypocritically hailed as a "Liberal" platform in the face of rather unusual circumstances. One of these circumstances is that it has consistently opposed the Liberal New Deal in its entirety at every opportunity. Another is that its candidate for Governor is an outspoken bitter-end opponent of Liberalism and all that the New Deal represents. Yet another is that its candidate for United States Senate never supported the New Deal's fundamental objectives, is not a Liberal, is not a New Dealer, and is now pussyfooting on the Liberal New Deal issue.

Over 118,000 unemployed Pennsylvania boys have been sent to Civilian Conservation Corps camps since the CCC program was inaugurated in 1933.

CENTRE COUNTY TRIENNIAL T. B. RETEST HAS BEGUN

The Triennial T. B. retest started this week on all of the 24,000 head of cattle in Centre county, according to Ward Krapa, chairman of the Centre County Livestock Disease Control Committee.

At a meeting of the county committee on Tuesday of last week Dr. Milo Sam C. Yearick, of the Bureau of Animal Industry at Harrisburg, in cooperation with the committee, made plans to start testing Monday of this week in the following townships: Spring, Walker, Ferguson and Halfmoon. Plans were also made to start in Penn and Haines townships Monday of next week.

This test is being applied at no expense to the cattle owners. It is a cooperative project between the Federal, State and county governments. The same plan as used in previous years will be followed. Cards will be mailed advising them the time the veterinarian will visit their farm and asking that all cattle be in the stable.

Other members of the county committee are A. J. Burrell, Millheim; Sam C. Yearick, Spring Mills; John Bauser, Spring Mills; J. J. Markle, State College; C. E. Peters, Port Matilda; A. Y. Williams, Julian; Harry Confer, Howard; L. E. Hess, Phillipsburg.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College

Reset Flower Plants—If your lily-of-the-valley plants flowered rather sparsely this year, it may have been due to overcrowding, say Penn State floriculturists. September is a good time for resetting. After digging the old bed, the larger pips of roots may be reset 2 or 3 inches apart and just under the surface.

Improve Pastures—Fall is the most desirable time for applying lime and phosphate to pastures, according to Penn State agronomists. About six months' advantage is gained by this practice. Grasses grow new root systems in the fall and early spring.

Use Clean Litter—Clean eggs and the sanitation of the poultry flock depend upon the use of clean litter in the laying house. Penn State poultrymen recommend a deep bed of dry, broken litter. An additional light covering can be put over the old litter as needed. Straw is the best material to use.

Make Lawn Repairs. Repair and fertilizing of the lawn can be done best at this time. If lime is needed 75 lbs.

of ground limestone to 1,000 square feet is the normal application. Experiments at the Pennsylvania State College show that a high phosphorus complete fertilizer with at least 60 per cent of the nitrogen in organic form is best.

Transplant Evergreens — Evergreens may be transplanted or set out when the tips of the branches have stopped growing or become mature, Penn State ornamental horticulturists explain.

Plant Cover Crop — Rye is a good cover crop to plant in the home or commercial garden as soon as the vegetables are removed, say Penn State gardeners. Wheat is an excellent substitute where rye is not available.

The annual corporate meeting of the Centre County hospital will be held at the court house in Bellefonte on Monday, October 10.

Next Wednesday September 28, is Frances Willard Day. The high purposes exemplified by her life are worthy of recognition by the public schools of the Commonwealth on the occasion of the 99th anniversary of her birth.
