

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Arthur Hill of Wilkes-Barre was with the Vogt brothers beginning of this week.

Both Kenneth Wert and brother John B Wert, Jr., were ill and confined to bed beginning of this week.

Perry Krise, III at his home in Pleasant Gap following a stroke is not improving. His condition is serious.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Auman of Newark, N. J., are expected to spend the coming week-end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Goodhart.

Drivers' licenses were granted to Norman E. Carter, Beatrice E. Homann and Jay H. Runkle, all of Centre Hall.

The Athletic Association of the local high school is arranging for a dance the beginning of October. They have in mind securing the Bob Lyons orchestra, Sunbury.

Albert Sager, 14, while playing in a football game between 7th and 8th grades in Bellefonte, fractured the right leg at two places. The fractures were reduced at the Centre County hospital.

Charles S. Hosterman of Coburn was granted a certificate of public convenience by the Public Utility Commission to haul materials for WPA projects, road and building construction materials.

Due to the serious illness of a daughter, Isabel, 12, Charles Alvin Jones, Democratic candidate for Governor, canceled speeches to be given on Monday at Appollo, Leechburg and Kittanning.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Forster of Aronsburg and Charles Allison and son Donald of Toronto, Canada, were recent guests of Miss Grace Smith and Mrs. Levan Smith. Mr. Allison is connected with a large refrigeration corporation in Canada.

Mrs. Salome Spyker and sisters, Miss Florence Piper and Miss Carrie Piper and cousin, Miss Florence Camp who make up the family living in Alexandria, were guests on Sunday at the home of the former's son, C. A. Spyker, in Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Dunkle of Pittsburg have been in Centre Hall the past few days assisting Mr. and Mrs. Henry Houser, who moved here from Warriorsmark to establish themselves in their new home in Centre Hall—the former Strohm home. Mrs. Dunkle and Mrs. Houser are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Burkholder with Mr. and Mrs. James Harshbarger as traveling guests, motored to Williamsport on business on Monday. The Harshbargers were most interested in the business affairs with Mr. and Mrs. Kline Deeter in the thriving city named.

The small pump at the reservoir is being put in condition. The water in it is up to within ten feet of the surface. The large pump at the base of the mountain is now working. On Monday, washday, the inflow to the reservoir was more than the consumption, indicating the water question pretty well solved.

The opportunity to cleanse the borough reservoir was seized on Sunday and was thoroughly done by volunteers. The town firefighting equipment was put into use, which proved to be of invaluable assistance in both washing off the sides and floor of the reservoir. To have done the work by hand alone would have taken much time and labor, and could not have been as efficiently done.

The rainy weather on Sunday out the motor traffic to much below normal. Saturday's rain also melted the bean soup attendance at McCure. Few from this section ventured to attend the gathering. Anyway, the bean soup appears to leave a bad taste in the mouth. Like a Ben Davis apple, after you eat one you have no hankering for another in a long while, and so with eating a dish of bean soup at McCure.

Mrs. A. G. Cummings of Rebersburg, due to a broken bone in the left ankle was obliged to have a cast placed on the leg. The injury was the result of striking the ankle against an iron on one of the Cummings farm gates as she was passing through.

Workmen on Grange Park under superintendent of grounds A. H. Spayd, completed removing tents and storing floors and other equipment for the interim between now and next August when another cycle will begin.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Burkholder and sons Kenneth and Tracy, and Miss June Condo, all of Milroy; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Zellers and daughter Nancy; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Knarr and daughter Josephine, of town, were dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Burkholder on the Burkholder homestead in Potter township. The former is a brother, Miss June is a niece of Mr. Burkholder, while the two couples last mentioned are sons-in-law and daughters and the children grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Burkholder.

Mrs. Jennie Rockey of Tusseyville, widow of the late William F. Rockey, is recovering nicely from a severe attack of pneumonia at the home of her son, William Rockey, a city mail carrier in Altoona. Mrs. Rockey was cared for by her daughters, Miss Myra Rockey and Mrs. Ruth Brouse. The latter has returned to the Rockey home at Tusseyville but the former will remain with her mother until she is able to accompany her home. While Miss Myra and Mrs. Brouse were taking care of their mother Mrs. Emma Brouse, of Boalsburg, was in charge of the Rockey home.

CENTRE COUNTY HOSPITAL MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

A number of citizens of the Centre Hall-Potter township hospital district met at the home of Mrs. F. V. Goodhart on Monday evening and laid plans for the annual Hospital Membership Drive, which is to begin at once.

Mrs. Goodhart, the chairman, announces the following committees for the various sections in the district:

REGIONAL MISSIONARY RALLY

The Missionary societies of the southern area of the Williamsport District of the Evangelical church held a rally in the Bellefonte Evangelical church, Rev. J. B. Mays pastor, Friday afternoon and evening.

At the business session in the afternoon Miss Anna Holter of Howard was elected president for the ensuing year. Program leaders in the afternoon were Mrs. R. A. Babcock of Rebersburg, Mrs. R. H. Smith of Millhelm, Mrs. Lawrence Waltz and Mrs. H. A. Wahl of state college.

Rev. A. J. Faust, a missionary of the Evangelical Church serving in Africa, now home on a furlough, gave an address both at the afternoon and evening sessions.

At the evening session the Millhelm Y. P. M. C. conducted the worship service and the Howard Y. P. M. C. presented the pageant, "Challenge of the Cross."

The sessions were attended by a delegation of nine from the local Evangelical church. Lunch was served by the Bellefonte W. M. S.

Next year the local Evangelical church will be host to the Regional Missionary Rally.

Rain during the past week has prevented the playing of the championship game between Centre Hall and Pleasant Gap in the Tri-Valley league. An effort will be made to play this (Wednesday) afternoon, starting at 4 o'clock, at Bellefonte, but prospects for proper weather are not bright.

WHAT IS AN I. E. S. LAMP?

HERE IS AN ADVERTISEMENT OF TIMELY AND LASTING IMPORTANCE. EVERY PARENT, CHILD AND GRANDPARENT SHOULD READ IT. . . NOW!

I. E. S.—These initials are the abbreviation for "Illuminating Engineering Society"—the non-profit organization of the nation's leading lighting authorities which developed the I. E. S. lamp to provide "better light for better sight."

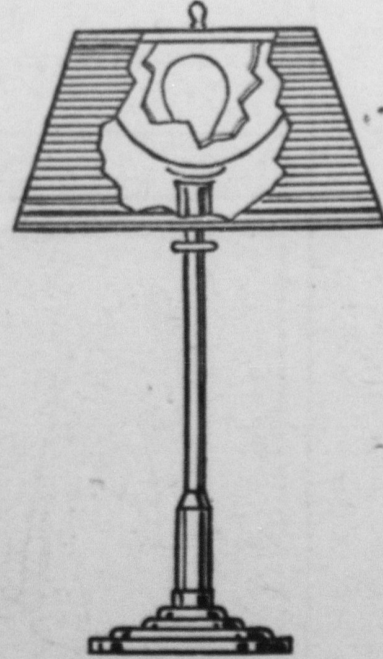

54 RIGID SPECIFICATIONS—There are 54 specifications for I. E. S. lamps, covering all materials and measurements. The Electrical Testing Laboratories, New York, is entrusted with the task of regularly inspecting and testing the products of every I. E. S. lamp and shade manufacturer—and places its approval only on lamps that measure up to all requirements.

I. E. S. TAGS—Don't be satisfied with a lamp that merely resembles an I. E. S. lamp. It's genuine ONLY if there's an I. E. S. tag on the base and another on the shade.

GOOD LIGHT FOR SAFE, EASY SEEING—

Seeing—particularly "close-work" like reading, studying and sewing—can make you as tired as though you worked at hard manual labor. But laboratory tests show that an improvement in lighting eliminates needless waste of energy.

I. E. S. lamps are built to provide ENOUGH light—so that even the most difficult seeing task is made easy. This light is evenly distributed over a wide area, and it's free from annoying shadows and irritating glare. It helps to protect eyesight and to keep you physically fit.
