

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Robert Meyer of Altoona was a guest of his sister, Mrs. W. A. Odenkirk, for a few days during last week.

Miss Ardah Ishler, graduate of a school of beauty culture, is now employed in a beauty parlor at State College, recently opened.

Isaac Emery shortened one of his fingers while butchering at the Emery home by cutting off one of the forefingers at the first joint.

Mrs. Ida (Sweetwood) Brannall leased her home at Metuchen, N. J., and after Nov. 1 will live in Long Island, at Jackson Heights, 35-59 82nd St., Apt. 6F.

Mrs. J. S. Booser and children, Patty and David, in the Pittsburg region, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Boggs until Sunday.

Mary Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wert of near Centre Hall, has almost completely recovered from ear trouble, feared at one time it would develop into mastoids.

Fish and game wardens found a ringneck pheasant in the kitchen refrigerator at the home of Edward Watkins, Millbrook, near State College. Watkins was fined $25.00.

Michael Douglas George, 24, escaped from Rockview on Tuesday morning. He is from Beaver county, five feet five inches tall, with brown eyes and black hair, weight 139 pounds.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Houser of Lemont on Wednesday of last week. This is the first child after a marriage of fourteen years. The youth has been named James Daniel.

Mrs. George Vogt and two children, who had been at Mrs. Vogt's home in Wilkes-Barre since Thursday, returned home Sunday with Mr. Vogt who motored to the Luzerne county city in the morning.

Thanks are tendered to all who so generously responded with expressions of sympathy and performance of aid during the brief illness and subsequent death of Catharine Grace Smith at Centre Hall. Mrs. J. Lovan Smith, H. Witmer Smith, and James W. Smith.

Mrs. Lillian Crow and children of State College and the former's mother, Mrs. Rebecca Romig, of Liverpool, visited in Centre Hall on Saturday evening. Mrs. Romig will return to the Bartholomew home on Wednesday for a visit of several days.

Miss Louise Ishler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ishler of Millheim was a week-end guest of Miss Betty Searson, a cousin. Other callers at the Searson home on Sunday evening were Mrs. James Searson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ishler of Lock Haven.

Mrs. Agnes Jamison, a member of the Centre Hall-Potter high faculty, was named an alternate delegate from the High School Division to the Pennsylvania State Educational Association to meet in Harrisburg in December. Mrs. Jamison is a second to Paul Beaver, Bellefonte.

Recent week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Jamison were Mr. Jamison's mother, Mrs. O. A. Jamison, Mr. and Mrs. Milan Jamison and Rufus and Grey Jamison, all of Millburg; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wisman and son and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rumbaugh, of Washington, this state.

The annual drive over Snow shoe mountain was made on Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hagan, Mr. and Mrs. William Luse, John H. Zorby, Miss Miriam Zorby and friend Roll Estelene, and Mrs. H. N. Brungart, the letter of Rebersburg. While the drive was a delightful one it was a bit late for the color display in the mountain regions.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Lingle and daughter, Miss Arlene, of Sunbury, were in town on Friday and as is his custom Mr. Lingle paid his respects to the Reporter. Mr. Lingle has been in Sunbury for thirty-two years, most of which time he has been with his present employers, the Sunbury Milk Products Company. Miss Arlene is a graduate of Sunbury high school, class of '33.

The Centre Hall basketball team recently elected Robert Horner manager of the team. "Bob" is one of the team's outstanding players, notwithstanding a physical handicap which would keep him from being a first-class player on the bench. It will be recalled a news item in this paper some time ago told of a constricted oesophagus which had caused virtual starvation to the youthful Horner. Food taken could not enter the stomach due to the small opening in the tract, and would be almost immediately expelled. Surgical attention was given, but after months of treatment very little relief was apparent. However, doctors at Geisinger hospital report that if the young man will submit to weekly treatments, which are most unpleasant, for a period of two years, a definite improvement will take place. The young man has agreed to do so.

PERVERSION RECIPROCAL TRADE AGREEMENTS

Before Centre county farmers turn down the Democratic candidates at the coming election they should get the real truth as to what the Democratic party has done for them. The literature sent out by Senator Davis purposely misrepresents the facts as to the Reciprocal Trade Agreements. In this week's issue of the Reporter a few of the measures affecting local farmers are recited as having been supported by Representative Decker.

It is now clearly demonstrated and generally recognized that the trade agreements program is a constructive line of solution and is accomplishing results. We have never claimed that it can perform magic. It cannot produce exports after a drought year when there is nothing to export. Neither can it reopen markets overnight. It has, in addition, rendered a world-wide service in checking further excesses, in encouraging all nations to make further reductions, and in paving the way toward ultimate restoration of stable conditions. It is laying a sound basis for trade expansion. It has already created, and will continue to create, wider markets for farm and other products both at home and abroad. That is the important thing.

TUSSEYVILLE

Mrs. H. C. Grove of Huntingdon and Mrs. Willard Smith of Rebersburg spent Thursday at the home of their father, W. G. Martz.

Miss Mary Swartz spent the week-end in Bellefonte with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Williams.

Recent visitors at the Fortney home were Mrs. Gray Hastings and grandson, of Avis, and Miss Anna Louise Corman of Zion.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ramer and family of State College spent Sunday evening at the C. P. Ramer home.

Sunday evening supper guests at the Swartz home were Mr. and Mrs. Mark Williams, Mrs. Kate Miller and Mrs. Hannah Kelley, all of Bellefonte, and Mrs. Charles Neville and two children of Clinton county.

Miss Mary Salzman and sisters of Jersey Shore visited with friends on Sunday.

The night Hoover was talking, with his customary regard for consistency, the man he was attacking was cabling all night long seeking reopening of conversations in Europe to avert open, awful war. The fact remains that Roosevelt centered his efforts in a critical hour toward ways and means of avoiding another world war. Meanwhile, a discredited President told America about the terrors of the New Deal, its immorality, the awfulness of an Administration that offers jobs instead of breadlines to the Nation's unemployed.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Supt. Pennington of the Huntingdon Industrial School, charged with manslaughter, was declared not guilty by Judge McCann, the presiding judge.

Several deluxe town sedans are on the floor of the Miller Motor Company Garage. They are fine in both appearance and performance.

Sunday guests in the Bartholomew home were Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Kittleberger and daughters, Misses Louise and Elizabeth, and Regis McKnight from Our-venville.

The R. S. Hagan Dodge sales agency has now on its floor a new American Dodge Luxury Liner Deluxe, '39 four-door sedan a most modern car. And it rides as well as it looks.

Last Saturday was spent in Altoona by Misses Elizabeth and Jean Bartholomew, Miss Doris Moltz, and Mrs. Hattie Meyer. The E. L. Bartholomew home was their destination, which they reached before noon. The return trip was made in the afternoon, and they were accompanied to Centre Hall by Miss Mary Kennedy, who remained here until Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Horace Hartrant of Bellefonte informs the Reporter that her father, F. M. Crawford is in fine form at the Jefferson hospital, Philadelphia, following a second operation and anticipates his release from the institution within a short time. Mrs. Hartrant and her brother, Francis Crawford, returned home on Saturday after visiting with their father.

J. William Bradford and V. A. Auman of the Bradford Milling Company; Fred Malone of Coburn, on Sunday went to Washington, D. C., to attend a meeting of dealers in Purina Mills stock feeds.

The former, who had been ill the week previous from influenza, went to the capital city by train while the others traveled by motor. The meeting was one of much importance to dealers and was largely attended.

Notes School Plan

In Recovery Measure

Referring to the National Recovery Bill passed by the 1933 Congress, the Democratic Watchman, Bellefonte, July 15, 1933, said: "The bill also makes possible adoption of the Thompson plan of public school improvement through medium of the General State Authority. Approximately 1,000 schools in Pennsylvania would be improved should the plan be adopted."

Senator Thompson is an Honorary Member Veterans Foreign Wars, Elks, Kiwanis, Red Cross, Eagles and Moose.

"Re-Elect Senator Thompson"

Labor Groups, Educators, Coal Men Praise Thompson

"When something is done for the peoples interest by those in public office the Tribune is quick to give credit. The appeal of Senator Edw. Jackson Thompson for $5,000 to pump the Brookwood Shaft at Houtzdale deserves highest commendation and support."—From Altoona Tribune, October 28, 1937.

VOTE STRAIGHT DEMOCRATIC

Educator Endorses Thompson

"Dr. W. F. Dunaway, professor of history and political science at Pennsylvania State College, has endorsed State Senator Edward Jackson Thompson for re-election. In a letter of endorsement, Professor Dunaway, an outstanding teacher in Pennsylvania history and author of text books, wrote Senator Thompson: 'In my judgment you have made an excellent record at Harrisburg and have rendered conspicuous service to the Commonwealth as well as to your own senatorial district. In the future, as in the past, you can rely upon my continued and hearty support.'"—From DuBois Express, July 6, 1938.

Thompson Gains Brotherhood Support

"State Senator Edward Jackson Thompson today announced endorsements for his re-election to the State Senate by two outstanding Railroad Brotherhoods in Pennsylvania. Senator Thompson announced that the Executive Committee of the Legislative Board of the Pennsylvania Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen advised him of that organization's support in a letter from James A. Fox, Chairman, who stated: 'Upon examination of your record as a member of the General Assembly, we find that you made an excellent one in behalf of social, humane and labor legislation. We therefore, most cheerfully send you our endorsement for re-election.'"

Record Writer Notes School Plan

"Pennsylvania will glorify the 'little Red School House' with the Thompson School Improvement Plan about to be written into law. The plan provides for 1,000 rural laps of learning to replace ancient arks that have fallen into repair."—Cecil Pennyfeather in "Perhaps It's News"—Philadelphia Record, August 12, 1938.

School Districts Favor Plan

"Virtually certain of legislative endorsement, the Thompson School Improvement Plan is anticipated with much interest and satisfaction on the part of school districts throughout the state. The measure has already received approval of the State Senate and by the end of the week should be passed into law."—From Millheim Journal, August 4, 1938.

RE-ELECT THOMPSON SENATOR

Thompson School Plan Endorsed

"Deeply interested in public school development of Pennsylvania, Harry L. Leary, president of the Pennsylvania Patriotic Sons of America has advised members of his organization to stand squarely behind State Senator Edward J. Thompson's plan for improving obsolete and inadequate school buildings in the state through joint action of the local school districts, Department of Public Instruction, and the General State Authority. Mr. Leary has advised Charles B. Helms, State Secretary of the P. O. S. of A. to endorse and openly advocate the Thompson Plan."—From Centre Democrat, Bellefonte, June 9, 1938.

Record Compared To Council Term

"An enviable senatorial record has been gained by the Senator during his term of office. It is comparable in many ways with his outstanding record while on the borough council. He was the motivating force behind many of the town's improvements. During his term in office, the streets were all paved, new fire equipment was purchased, Cold Stream Dam was built, the sewer system improved, and a number of other improvements made."—From Phillipsburg Daily Journal March 26, 1938.

12 Schools in County Apply For Funds

"According to a statement issued by Professor G. Glenn Rogers, superintendent of county schools, nine high schools and three elementary grade schools have already applied for funds under the Thompson plan with which to make additions to their present school buildings, with exception of State College borough where funds for the erection of an entire new high school building have been sought of the Federal government."—From Bellefonte Keystone Gazette September 27, 1938.

"Recommends School"

"County Superintendent of Schools W. P. Trostle today informed the PROGRESS that he had recommended to the Department of Public Instruction at Harrisburg that a vocational high school be established in or near Clearfield. The information was secured for the department, which is looking forward to the passage of the Thompson Bill which provides for a 75-million dollar school construction program."—From Clearfield Progress, August 8, 1938.
