MILLHEIM TO BEAUTIFY ITS MILL RACE SECTION

Millheim borough has made an important move to beautify a neglected section within its boundary. The Journal makes this comment:

The Oshima Mill property and lands, owned by F. Q. Hartman, sold at Sheriff's sale last Saturday, were purchased by the Borough of Millheim, both tracts, for one thousand dollars.

The purchase involves the mill dam on East Main street, the mill race that runs through the center of town, together with the brick mill on Mill street. Also included is the land along Elk Creek from the mill dam south, and the home erected on the hill across the creek from the end of Centre street. Extending up from the creek east, is also a considerable piece of farm land, adjoining the C. F. Stover lands. The former Houseman planning mill property is also a part of the lands.

From any viewpoint, the buy is a good one, giving, as it does, the opportunity for the borough to beautify the mill race section, which will be both useful and ornamental.

From a financial standpoint, it is likely that the purchase will be profitable, involving as it does a home, mill building and a lot or two. Inasmuch as no provision was made in the last budget for the purchase of the property, the money necessary for immediate payment was borrowed from the Ladies' Civic Club, whose activities in providing funds for civic improvement are worth commendable mention.

The committee from Council who effected this transaction was W. C. Gramley, L. E. Stover, M. L. Breon and E. S. Ripka.

POTTERS MILLS

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Carson visited for a few days among relatives at West Chester and Phoenixville.

Henry Gettig, wife and son of Braddock, and Miss Orpha Fleisher of State College spent the week-end at the Gettig summer home.

Chal Vroman and friend, Miss Amelia Copenhaver, of Phillipsburg, Misses Mary and Betty Klinefelter, of Tusseyville, visited over the week-end at the H. E. Foust home.

Mrs. Treaster, daughter, Mrs. Erma Phillips and two friends of Milroy, called at the J. Roy Smith home on Sunday.

Miss Willa Blausner, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Blausner, who is employed at State College was taken to the Lewisistown hospital on Friday and operated on Saturday morning. To date we have not heard how she is getting along.

Mrs. Laura McCormick, Miss Caroline McCaskey, Mrs. F. A. Carson, Mrs. G. H. McCormick attended the funeral of the Hon. J. T. McCormick on Thursday, at State College.

The authority to appoint a successor to Judge James, Governor-elect of Pennsylvania, will be hotly contested. Both Governor Barie and the incoming Governor claim the right to make the appointment.

Deaths

GOODHART—Robert Hamul Goodhart, a retired locomotive engineer on the Pittsburgh Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, died Sunday morning at 3:30, following a heart attack, resulting in angina pectoris. The night preceding his death, Mr. Goodhart instructed inducted officers in the Knights of Malta, an order in which he was a high official.

Funeral services were held from the home on Wednesday afternoon and interment made in Alto Rest cemetery, near his home city, Altoona, where he had lived for many years. The pastor of the Presbyterian church and the retired pastor of the congregation of which the deceased was a member, officiated at the services.

Mr. Goodhart was a P. R. R. employe for many years and was retired a year or two ago due to disability. He was connected with several fraternal organizations other than the Knights of Malta.

The deceased is survived by a wife, formerly Miss Ella Judge. There were no children, but he and Mrs. Goodhart reared a niece, Miss Isabel, a daughter of William Goodhart.

Deceased was a son of William and Mary McKinney Goodhart and was born on the Rev. Dr. Hamil (now Louder) farm, Oak Hall Station, on November 23, 1879, making his age 58 years, 11 months and 20 days. He was one of ten children and was the second to pass on. The surviving brothers and sisters are: William, Louisville, Ky.; Mrs. Myra Winegardner, State College; Mrs. Edward Foreman, Canfield, Ohio; Mrs. Edward Glenn, State College; Mrs. John E. Reaick, Penna. Furnace; Mrs. (Rev.) J. J. Glenn, Carlisle; Frank V., Centre Hall, and Samuel M., Johnstown. The second deceased brother was John.

PETERS—Mrs. Joseph Peters was found dead in a field near her home in the Rockview penitentiary section Wednesday night of last week, death being due to a heart attack.

Mrs. Sue R. Peters was born in Spring Mills 77 years ago last September, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Jamison. She was twice married. Her first husband, Allen Swyers, of Milesburg, died a number of years ago.

Surviving are her second husband, Joseph L. Peters, and two sisters, Mrs. R. E. Hockman of Philadelphia and Mrs. Robert Miller of Tyrone. She was a sister of the late Edward Jamison of Spring Mills.

The deceased was a member of the Presbyterian church of Milesburg, and Crystal Springs Rebekah lodge of Bellefonte.

On the afternoon of her death she left her home at about 4:00 o'clock to rout hunters from the farm, and was not found until after her husband returned from work and inaugurated a search for her. The death having occurred under these conditions, Coroner Heaton was called to make an investigation. He found death was due to natural causes.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon and burial made in the Union cemetery, Bellefonte.

KYLE—Miss Janet Kyle of Reedsville, a prominent figure for many years in the community in which she lived, died at the age of 75 years, 7 months and 29 days.

She was a school teacher by profession having graduated from Birmingham School for Girls. For fifty years she was organist in the Reedsville Presbyterian church, and secretary of a Mutual fire insurance company for eighteen years.

There survive her two sisters, Misses Bessie D. and Edith M. Kyle, who with a brother, Frank, and the deceased for many years made the Kyle family in Reedsville.

MULFINGER—John Michael Mulfinger, respected citizen of Spring Mills, died at his home there following a short illness of a complication of diseases.

Born at Pleasant Gap, Nov. 8, 1885, the son of John C. and Catharine (Mundrick) Mulfinger, he was aged 52 years, 11 months and 26 days. His wife, who was Blanche Barges, survives with four children: Mrs. J. C. Grenoble of Lock Haven; Mrs. William Devone, of Connecticut; Mrs. Harry Showers and Edward Mulfinger, both of Pleasant Gap. Also surviving are two brothers, Maurice, of Pleasant Gap, and Fred, of Akron, Ohio.

Funeral services were held Monday morning of last week and burial made in the Presbyterian cemetery, Spring Mills.

GRASSMYER—Miss Barbara Esther Grassmyer died at the family home in Spring Mills at 8:45 o'clock Thursday morning, 3rd inst., of a complication of diseases, aged 16 years, nine months and 23 days.

Deceased was a daughter of Abram and Arie (Reahl) Grassmyer and was born at Bratton, Mifflin county, Jan. 10, 1922. In addition to the parents, she is survived by three sisters: Mrs. Lydia Styers, and the Misses Ida and Mary Grassmyer, all of Spring Mills.

Funeral services were held Sunday following the death in God's Missionary church at Pine Glen, Mifflin county, the Rev. Wolfgang conducting the services. Interment was made in the cemetery adjoining the church.

MASSEY—Ill for several months Mrs. Lulu Gingery Massey died following a heart attack on Friday night at her home in Bellefonte. She was aged 53 years.

She was a daughter of John and Cora Wilson Rice and was twice married, first to Andrew C. Gingery and later to Joseph Massey, both deceased. Joseph and James Gingery of Bellefonte, and Carl Gingery of Philadelphia are surviving children.

MARTIN.—Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from his late home near Woodward for Warren Adam Martin, former school teacher, who died Wednesday of last week from complications following a several weeks' illness. Rev. G. A. Fred Griessing officiated. Interment was made in the Reformed cemetery at Aaronsburg. Mr. Martin was born in Haldensville, Pa., May 2, 1886, a son of Adam and Amelia Eisenhuth Martin. He never married. His survivors are his mother, living near Woodward, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Stover of Lewisburg, and Mrs. Ellory Schreckengast, Woodward. Eight nephews and nieces also survive.

WILLIAM DAUP, II, BREAKS ARM IN SOCCER GAME

While playing soccer on the grade school ground on Tuesday, William Daup, 11, a 6th grade pupil, broke both bones in the left arm between the wrist and elbow. The fracture was reduced at the Centre County hospital after an x-ray examination.

William is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan S. Daup.

Alumni Association Meeting

The alumni association will hold its regular fall meeting November 25 at 7:30 o'clock in the Centre Hall-Potter high school auditorium.

Old business to be taken care of at this time is the passage of an amendment requiring two business meetings a year.

Plans for the Christmas dance will constitute the new business to be discussed.

Birthday Supper by Progress Grange

Members of Progress Grange whose birthdays fall within a period covering the past four months, will be served a chicken supper by their fellow Grange members, in Grange Arcadia, Friday evening, November 25.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

The six-day open season for bear now on closes on Saturday.

W. F. Keller on Sunday motored to Johnstown and on returning brought with him Mrs. Keller who had been with her sister, Mrs. S. M. Goodhart, in that city.

John White man bagged a nice wild turkey hen during the early morning hours on Tuesday. The bird was taken on Nittany mountain, a short distance east of town.

Van Meeker, now living in the Colyer section, it is reported, will follow Lester Rossman as tenant on the farm of the Meeker heirs, near Potters Mills. Mr. Rossman will occupy the Peacock farm at Centre Hill.

On Wednesday the National Grange opened its seventy-second annual session in Portland, Oregon, with Louis J. Taber, National Master, in the chair. Throughout his address ran a note of confident optimism.

Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Goodhart of town, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Glenn of State College, R. D., on Wednesday attended the funeral of Robert H. Goodhart a brother of the former and Mrs. Glenn, in Altoona.

A Lock Haven firm has about completed siding the dwelling house on the George E. Heckman farm east of town, along State Highway Route No. 95. The siding, an asbestos composition, which is being used, is known commercially as Plincoat. The improvement is very pronounced.

Messrs. Paul L. Knorr and H. Harold Kershner of Reading, with the former's chauffeur, Frank Welkel, were guests of Mr. Knorr's aunt, Mrs. E. M. Huyett, for a few days the past week. Mr. Knorr, a retired shoe manufacturer, was making his annual visit to the Huyett home.

The Pleasant Gap Lutheran church, Rev. L. J. Kaufman, pastor, celebrated its seventieth anniversary on Sunday, and at the same time dedicated memorial art windows. Other ministers than the pastor who engaged in the ceremonies were Rev. W. J. Wagner, a former pastor, and Rev. J. F. Harkins, who delivered the sermon.

John Rimmey is preparing to greatly improve his barn and build a garage on the Rimmey homestead west of Tusseyville. The foundation for the garage has been laid. The barn improvement will consist of removing the old weather-boarding and replacing with new. The structure will also be repainted. Later on the farm house will be re-sided with one of the several asbestos compositions used for that purpose, which needs no painting.

DID YOU RECEIVE CREDIT ON SUBSCRIPTION PAID!

Look at the label on your Reporter (or on the wrapper) this week and note whether you received proper credit on subscription which you may have paid since we last called your attention to it. Our mailing list was corrected on Saturday, and all monies received on subscription up to that time have been credited. Your label should show such credit.

Now, again, a word to those who have been remiss in their duty. It is necessary that we receive the small subscription price to keep the wheels turning. To many it is simply an oversight; they mean to pay, but somehow forget it. This gentle reminder to them, we know, will be sufficient. We hope it may be sufficient also to those who have been receiving the paper far too long without paying for it.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College

Destroy Insect Refuges—Many insects hibernate over winter in dead plant parts. Penn State entomologists recommend a clean-up or wash in fields and gardens to help control insect numbers and lessen damage to crops next year. Where corn borers are still active, it is particularly essential that stalks be destroyed.

Good Condition Counts—Sheep growers agree that breeding ewes taken into the winter in good physical condition are half wintered. Another advantage, say Penn State livestock specialists, is that a healthy ewe flock is necessary for rearing a strong lamb crop.

Learn About Termites—The Pennsylvania State College has published Circular 187, "Termite Control for Pennsylvania." Ask your county agent for a copy or write to the Agricultural Mailing Room, State College.

Select Turkey Flock—The time to select next year's turkey breeding flock is before any birds are marketed this fall. Penn State poultrymen explain that fleshing qualities of turkeys are inherited. This characteristic must be supplemented by correct feeding to produce good market birds.

Sweet Corn Growth—Thirty sweet corn variety demonstrations were conducted this year by Pennsylvania State College vegetable extension specialists. Ask your county agent about varieties adapted to your conditions.

J. W. Shuey, secretary of the Doolsburg Fire company, was a caller at the Reporter office on Monday.
