Play, "Well Met by Moonlight."

The Junior class of the Gregg Twp. Vocational school will present "Well Met by Moonlight," a comedy in 3 acts. It will be presented in the high school auditorium at Spring Mills on Friday evening, Dec. 9, 8 o'clock.

It has been nominated as the favorite play of the season. You will get real enjoyment from this modern up-to-date comedy.

The three chuckling darkies will afford much laughter and amusement and we can't leave out the irresponsible "Happy Powell" whose broad smile always gets him out of trouble. The comedy takes place in the radio station of Paul Powell who is trying hard to land the national program of "William Gardner" that will ensure the success of the station.

The cast is as follows: Fred Feltenberger Harold Kenneley, Jean Watts, Hester Ripka, Helen Wallace, Marie Long, Ruth Breen, Margaret Inschweller, Viola Crader, Elsie Showers, Marshall Frazier, Walter Snively, Dean Spayd, John Treaster, Eugene Wolfe, Leroy Duck. Popular admission prices.

Thinking of Christmas presents? A year's subscription to The Centre Reporter for some one away from home will make an acceptable gift.

Attention, Mr. Merchant

The Centre Reporter has a very limited amount of advertising space for sale to Merchants who believe in Advertising, especially at the Christmas season.

There remain only three more issues of The Reporter before Christmas. The Merchant who fails to advertise,—to tell people what he has to offer at Christmas time, and request patronage of his place of business—should not complain when people go where they are invited to go, and where Merchandise is presented attractively in store as well as thru the advertising columns of a newspaper.

Make reservations for your space now, Mr. Merchant, and help yourself to a Better Christmas Business.

The Call Must Go Through—5,000,000 Times a Day!

Year after year the telephone job grows bigger and more complex. Last year in Pennsylvania alone we handled more than 5,000,000 calls a day. And rare indeed was the call that failed on accuracy, speed or clearness.

One reason for this is fine equipment—designed and made for Bell System use. But even more important are the 16,000 Pennsylvania men and women behind the equipment. They are well-trained and well-paid... eager and able to serve you well.

You can have a telephone in your home for less than a dime a day. It will run your errands, do your shopping, keep you in touch with family and friends. It will bring you quick aid in emergencies; save you time, trouble and money. Just call the Business Office or ask any telephone employee to place your order. The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College

Calves Eat Dry Mix—A trend toward the dry mix method of raising calves has been noted by Penn State dairy specialists in recent years. It allows for a minimum amount of milk and keeps the calves growing in a thrifty manner. Some dry mixes are fed in the form of cubes or pellets.

Spray for Control—San Jose scale, leaf curl, and brown rot are destructive pests of peaches. Penn State specialists report. Fall and spring spraying while the trees are dormant will control these enemies. Your county agent can supply detailed information.

Calves Need Water—Penn State dairymen remind that water is essential to the good growth of calves even when they are receiving whole or skim milk. Experiments show that calves receiving water ate a third more grain and twice as much hay and gained nearly a half-pound more per calf daily than those getting no water.

Feed Balanced Ration—A good ration for brood sows consists of four parts of ground shelled corn, three parts of ground oats, two parts of ground wheat or middlings, and one part of tankage. Penn State animal husbandmen recommend this mixture where hand feeding is practiced.

Store Vegetables—Cabbage, celery, Chinese cabbage, and endive have similar storage requirements, moist air and a temperature between 32 and 40 degrees F., according to Penn State vegetable gardeners.

Mulch Strawberries—Mulch the strawberry bed after the ground is well frozen. Penn State fruit specialists suggest.
