A COLLECTION OF NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND PERSONALS FROM GREGG TWP.'S METROPOLIS.

The property of the late Andrew Corman, with some household goods, will be sold at public sale on Saturday, March 11.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Erdley on Thursday evening entertained at Bridge Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas, Rev. and Mrs. D. R. Keener, Mr. and Mrs. Gay Corman.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Meyer, C. B. Stover, Mrs. Wm. Rishel on Tuesday attended the funeral of Elaine Christine at Phoenixville, returning home on Wednesday.

On Friday after receiving word of the death of her uncle, C. A. Stambach of York, Mrs. C. B. Stover left Monday afternoon from the United Brethren church, Mr. Stover and Miss Josephine went to York on Monday to attend the funeral.

G. Rufus Hettinger of Sunbury spent the week-end at his parental home, that of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hettinger.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Houser, Leotta Russell and Mrs. Carrie Kreeger spent Saturday in Sunbury shopping.

Vocational Girls Win Every Game—The invincible Vocational Girls won all of the fifteen Centre-Clinton County League basketball games during the 1938-1939 season, topping the period with a heavy score against Millheim on Friday night.

John W. Decker, coach, brings forward these reasons for the team's continued success for the second season: "We lost only two players from last year's squad, one guard and one forward. The team this year showed very fine spirit with ability in both defense and offense.

"I think the success of our team was due to the ability on both offense and defense, plus a wealth of good substitutes. Regular guards who deserve credit for the low scores of our opponents are Pauline Stitzer, Hazel McCool, Mary Zettle, Ruth Zuber, and Bernice Fetterolf. This entire group of girls is sophomores.

"In our forward division, the following players deserve much credit for the success of the team: Barbara Fetterolf, Marie Long, Joan Watta, and Isabella Musser. Here, Barbara Fetterolf leads with a total of 224 points to date in 14 games. Marie Long had 183 points. The other two players set us the scoring plays. On the foul end, they have scored 70 out of 140 tries for 47 percent as compared to our opponents making 50 out of 172 for 35 percent.

"This year's team is composed of one senior, three juniors, and the rest sophomores. Substitutes who contributed to the success were Ruth Breen, Sarah Zuber, Gladys Shawver, Christine Noll, Faye Yearick, Betty Robinson, Lorraine Grove, and Phyllis Emshwiler."

THE AWFUL PRICE YOU PAY FOR BEING NERVOUS

Quivering nerves can make you old and haggard looking, cranky and hard to live with—can keep you awake nights and rob you of good health, good times and jobs.

What you may need is a particularly good woman's tonic—and could you ask for anything whose benefits are better proved than famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? Let its wholesome herbs and roots help Nature build up more physical resistance and thus help calm your shrieking nerves, give more energy and make life worth living again.

More than a million women have reported benefit—why not let Pinkham's Compound help YOU, too, to go "smiling" through those times like it has other grateful women for the past 3 generations? IT MUST BE GOOD!

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College

Creep Feeding Lambs—Lambs can be kept growing rapidly by creep feeding, say livestock extension specialists with the Pennsylvania State College. The creep can be built in the corner of the sheep shed so that the lambs can be fed separately.

Harvesting Maple Sap—The timeliness of tapping and harvesting has much to do with the quality and yield of maple sap, claim forestry extension specialists at Penn State. The earlier the harvesting is begun, the greater will be the supply of prime sap and the longer the period of productive harvest.

Poultry Planning—Advance planning is one of the first steps toward success with poultry, Penn State poultry extension specialists report. Chicks must be ordered, houses cleaned and moved, and brooders, waterers, and feeders made ready for the brooding season.

Growing Soybeans—Where soybeans can be fitted into the regular rotation, they offer attractive possibilities as a source of forage and grain, Penn State agronomy specialists say. Ground soybeans provide an excellent protein supplement.

Nitrogenous Fertilizers—Excessive stimulation of grasses in early spring may result from the use of improper nitrogenous fertilizers, Penn State agronomists have found. Cottonseed meal, tankage, and other organic fertilizers release their nitrogen slowly through decay over the entire growing season and do not excessively stimulate growth.

Horses in Pennsylvania—Keystone farmers last year spent over $3,000,000 for the purchase of horses from outside the state, say Penn State livestock extension specialists, offering encouragement to farmers equipped to produce work stock as part of their farm business.

MCCRACKEN—SPRINGER

In Grace Lutheran church, State College, by the pastor, Rev. J. F. Harkins, two Penn State College graduates were united in marriage on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 25. The bride was Miss Betty Springer, daughter of Guy S. and Pearl (Runkle) Springer of State College, and the groom John Wright McCracken of Tranger, Westmoreland county. A reception was held at Nittany Lion Inn immediately after the ceremony.

The young couple will live in Mt. Lebanon, where Mr. McCracken holds a position with the Mines Safety Appliance Company, doing business in Pittsburgh.
