PENNSYLVANIA OFFER

SURVEY OF SAFETY PROBLEMS

A comprehensive survey of the problems of traffic control and traffic safety will be given during the third annual Traffic Officers Training School at the Pennsylvania State College April 17 to 23.

The various steps in accident investigation will be stressed during the course in lectures and demonstrations conducted by Sergeant John Knecht of the accident investigation unit, Philadelphia, bureau of police.

The relation of alcohol to accidents will be described by Dr. S. Palmer Carter, chemist and bacteriologist for the city of Altoona. Lieut. Ray Hoover of the Pennsylvania Motor Police will lecture on the Pennsylvania Motor Vehicle Code.

Fifteen outstanding lecturers in traffic problems and safety education will be presented during the two-weeks' course, according to H. C. Roundtree, acting executive secretary of the Institute of Local Government at Penn State.

Cooperating with the Institute in sponsoring the school are the Institute of Public Safety and the Extension Services of the International Automobile Assn.; the safety division of the International Chiefs of Police Association; National Conservation Bureau; National Safety Council; Pa. Chiefs of Police Assn.; Pa. Motor Federation; Pa. Motor Police, and the Institute of Local and State Government at the University of Pennsylvania.

DEMOCRATS JOIN IN

CONFIRMING 5 APPOINTEES

Democrats joined with Republicans in the State Senate last week on the confirmation of five appointees of Governor James.

Those approved:

Superior Court Judge William E. Hirt, of Erie.

Municipal Court Judge John Robert Jones, Philadelphia.

State Athletic Commissioners Leon L. Raines, Philadelphia; Harvey J. Boyle, Pittsburgh, and George J. Jones, Jr., Williamsport.

There was no opposition, all forty-five Senators present voting in the affirmative.

Judge Hirt takes the seat made vacant by the election of Governor James. Jones fills the vacancy created by the recent death of Wm. M. Lewis. The judicial appointees will serve until next January. It is expected that both Hirt and Jones will be supported by the Republican organization for full 10-year terms at the election next November.

DEMOCRATS UNITE TO PASS

REORGANIZATION BILL

[Editorial, Philad. Record]

What some of us dared to predict last fall, that increased Republican strength might lead to a new cohesiveness in the hitherto huge and unwieldy Democratic forces, may yet come true.

The debate over reorganization is going to go down in our history as one of the most curious legislative struggles of our time. Reorganization is fought for two reasons: First, because Mr. Roosevelt wants it; and, second, because by giving the President the power to merge bureaus and eliminate personnel, it makes it possible to fire the Congressman's Uncle Ned out of his job among the file cabinets while the Congressman isn't looking.

There are two bills. The House Democrats have lined up behind the Cochran-Warren measure, which sets up six executive assistants for the President, at $10,000 each, and gives the right to merge and change bureaus, with only a "negative" Congressional veto—that is, his chances stand unless Congress blocks them within 60 days.

The Senate or Byrd bill, which is getting G. O. P. support, though introduced by a nominal Democrat, omits the six assistants to save $60,000 and to spite the President. It provides for "affirmative" Congressional action, no bureau change is valid unless Congress says okay in advance.

But the Republicans are not much concerned about this minutiae. They took their stand, to do or die, on reorganization last year. They built reorganization up to a grade-A menace. They tried to convince the country that executive reorganization of the clumsy Federal structure (demanded by almost every President since Taft) was despotism. Therefore they have made it a matter of high policy to defeat reorganization as a symbolic defeat for the New Deal. Even if they could introduce a bill to levy an excise on dogs, and call it reorganization and defeat it, they would be happy.

But the Democrats are now wise to the game. They are going to pass reorganization, a symbol made important by the G. O. P. They have learned their lesson.

The glad news from Washington is that the Democrats have learned to come in when it rains. By almost a straight party vote, 246 to 153, the House has passed the Cochran-Warren reorganization bill, substantially as the President wanted it.

This is the first major sign that conservative Democrats are worried lest they have gone too far in playing ball with the Republicans for the sake of spitting Mr. Roosevelt.

P. O. S. OF A CLASS INITIATION

HELD AT ALTOONA, FRIDAY

A very large assemblage of members of the P. O. S. of A. of Blair, Huntingdon, Clearfield, Centre and Clinton counties witnessed the initiation of a class of 57 candidates by the splendid Mill Hall degree team in the P. O. S. of A. Temple in Altoona last Friday. The class included men in most walks of life.

C. H. Paul, National Conductor of the Order, presided. The degree team, dressed in white, with caps to match, and red, white and blue sashes over the right shoulder, put on a practically faultless degree and floor drill. This team is composed of men that have put forth the proper and vast amount of practice effort in order to equip themselves to do real work. Their home can be, and is, justly proud of them.

The meeting was attended by National and State officers, most of whom spoke briefly. The main address was given by Chas. B. Helms, State Secretary of the Order, who has served as secretary for twenty-two years. His address was one that should have been heard by all interested in America.

Centre Hall Camp No. 889 was represented by D. W. Bradford, A. H. Spayd, P. H. Luse and W. H. Bland, of Centre Hall; A. H. Walker, of Boalsburg; J. B. Wirtz and Homer Walker, of State College; Geo. Reed, Donald Sunday and Jay Harper, of Pine Grove Mills; and E. S. Ripka, of Millheim. The following camps were represented: Philadelphia, Huntingdon, Honesdale, Everett, West Decatur, Glendon Mill Hill, Lock Haven, Carroll, Bedford, Centre Hall, Manunkas, Juniata, and four Altoona camps.

"HANOVER ACRES" IS A

PENNA. HOUSING PROJECT

With actual construction now under way on "Hanover Acres," slum-clearance and low-rent project at Allentown, Pa., the United States Housing Authority today estimated that wages for direct labor on the site will total about $522,200.

Construction materials for the 322 dwelling units to be built will cost about $659,600. The total cost of the project, including land and other items, is estimated to be $1,595,582.

The major contracts for construction of the 37 buildings in the development, involving a total of $1,118,808, recently were approved by Nathan Straus, Administrator of the USHA, upon recommendation of the Allentown Housing Authority.

It is estimated that the "Hanover Acres" project will be completed by April 1, 1940, and that jobs for about 1,160 workmen will be provided on the site during the course of construction. Direct labor to be created on the site will total 580,200 man-hours, with an additional estimated 870,300 man-hours of direct labor to be required off the site.

Miss Helen White, primary grade teacher in the Centre Hall public schools, is taking an art course at Lock Haven Teachers' College, finding Saturday of each week for devoting several hours to her studies.

MAMMOTH AFRICAN LILY.

Mrs. Agnes Luse, who devotes much time in summer and winter to growing and caring for flowers and house plants, at present has an unusual plant, one of a large number of species of the African lily, also known as corn lily, having sword-shaped leaves and spikes of remarkably showy flowers, mostly in shades of pink and purple.

The plant grows from a bulb, which blooms only when it becomes five years old. The bulb is planted out of doors in the summer and in the fall is removed, cleaned of earth, and set in or on a convenient vessel. Throughout the winter it thrives without earth or water.

The plant at this time is a growth from a bulb six inches in diameter and four inches deep, and has attained a stem fifty-one inches in height. The flower proper is in true lily form, the cup being about thirty inches in circumference and sixteen inches in length. The stem is more than an inch in diameter. The flower is purple in color, with a highly decorated and varicolored pistil.

On the bulb "warts" appear which may be removed and will develop into a plant like the parent.

The plant with the mammoth lily is pretty, but its odor is extremely offensive.

13,000,000 TREES TO BE

SET BY 2,000 PLANTERS

More than 2,000 private planters from all parts of Pennsylvania have ordered 13,000,000 seedlings and transplanting for the spring season's planting. The orders vary from 1,000 trees, the minimum, to 60,000 trees. The available supply of most species is exhausted, but there remain some black locust, pitch pine and Bank's pine.

Shipments have not yet begun from the State Nursery, Seven Mountains, but preparations for the work are underway.

Orders are already being received for planting stock for use during the spring of 1940.

In the cities 72 per cent of the homes have bathrooms while in the rural districts but 14 per cent of them have this convenience.

EVANGELICAL CONFERENCE

ANNOUNCES APPOINTMENTS

Changes announced at the close of the Evangelical Conference session in Carlisle on Monday affecting this area and of local interest are:

Bellefonte—Rev. H. H. Jacobs of Danville and Rev. J. B. Mays to Williamsport (Trinity).

Lewistown (Grace)—Rev. C. C. Kreller of York (Bethlehem) and Rev. E. J. Bayne to Williamsport (St. John).

Buffalo Valley—Rev. W. E. Smith, a former local pastor.

Rev. N. L. Hummel is the new District Superintendent for Williamsport District, and Rev. G. C. Gabriel for Lewisburg District. Rev. A. F. Weaver was re-elected District Superintendent and will remain on the York District. Rev. H. Leroy Brininger, who several months ago was appointed Director of Public Relations of Albright College, ended his pastorate at Mt. Holly Springs and will live in Reading where the college is located.

Retirement of four veteran pastors, with a service record totaling 189 years, was announced at the opening session of the one hundredth anniversary meeting of the Central Pennsylvania Conference, Evangelical Church, at Carlisle.

They are Dr. J. W. Thompson of Williamsport, 50 years; the Rev. David F. Young, Williamsport, 46 years; the Rev. Harry Minsker, Ballastown, 48 years; and the Rev. F. H. Foss, Mount Rock, 45 years.

Memorial services were held for Dr. A. A. Winter, former superintendent of the Evangelical Homes at Lewisburg; W. H. Lily of Milton, the oldest member of the Conference; John H. Becker, of Lancaster; J. H. Welch of Lewisburg; J. E. Crumbling of Lewistown and J. T. Pettit of Carlisle, making a total of 142 deaths since the conference was established.

ANOTHER GRUENWALD HORSE

SALE THIS MONTH

William Gruenwald announces he will sell a carload of South Dakota horses on March 25th or 27th. A definite announcement will appear in this paper and on posters at a later date.

NOTICE.

The Millheim meat truck will be through Centre Hall next Saturday to maintain the business that H. H. Letzel has conducted for the past 29 years, now operated by Rauck and Brooks.

SUNSET DINER, SEVEN MTS.

A birthday dinner was given Wednesday of last week for Mrs. George H. Sweeney and daughter Betty Lou, whose birthdays fell on that day and the day following, at the Sunset Diner, Seven Mts., by Mr. Sweeney.

A special feature of the dinner was a table especially prepared for those whose birthdays come in March. The honor guests were Mrs. Sweeney, daughter Betty Lou, J. F. Wetzel and George H. McCormick.

The guests presented Mrs. Sweeney and daughter with very lovely and appropriate gifts. The honored guests were also remembered with gifts.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George H. Sweeney, daughter Betty Lou and son Billy; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wetzel and daughter Clara Lou; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Neff, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Burkholder, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Burkholder, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Delaney, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. McCormick, A. L. Slatebeck.

EMPLOYMENT BOARD MEMBERS

RESIGN TO GOVERNOR JAMES

Solicited resignations of State Employment Board members—former State Senator Walter S. Pytko, Philadelphia, Miss Julia Kernan, Pittsburgh and Calvin Friedberg, Pottsville—were on Gov. Arthur H. James' desk this week.

They complied promptly with the Governor's request that they vacate the positions by Wednesday to open the way for "contemplate changes" in the relief civil service set-up which had been widely criticized by members of the legislative committees on welfare.

"We are of the opinion that the Governor is carrying the ball and has the right to surround himself with whomsoever he pleases" said Chairman Pytko while confirming reports the board had resigned in compliance with requests from James.

The Governor earlier had withdrawn the appointments of the three Democrats from the State Senate. Former Governor George H. Earle appointed them early in December in response to pressure from the legislature.

The trio replaced shipper Lewis, Philadelphia; Mrs. Harvey Fouse, Pittsburgh, and Hugh Dolan, Jr., of Pottsville. The new board retained Dolan as consultant at $25 a day the same salary as that allowed board members.

ONE IN 14 AMERICANS

FILED TAX RETURNS

About 5,000,000 persons expected to file Federal income tax returns yesterday (Wednesday), approximately the same number as in 1935. This is equivalent to one in every 14 men and women over 21, but it does not mean that only one in 14 adults have a gross income of at least $5000 or a net of $2500 if married or $1000 if single.

About one in 30 will have to pay anything.

GRUENWALD HORSE SALE—

IS ANIMALS AVERAGE $163.50

Rain on Saturday afternoon interfered to some extent with the horse sale at the Centre Hall sales barn held by William Gruenwald, the South Dakota farmer and horse shipper, but since the sale could be conducted under roof the elements were no great hindrance. The horses offered were above the average in appearance and quality; in fact, those attending the sale expressed themselves in praiseworthy manner of the animals.

Of the lot, thirteen were sold on the auction block for an average of $163.50, and since the close of the sale some of the horses were disposed of at equally satisfactory prices.

A notation of individual animals, the prices and purchasers follows:

Jacob Sharer, sorrel mare.....$183.50
Harry Shelly, grey mare.....$171.00
S. C. Yearick, bay team.....362.00
Louis Crab, bay horse.....140.00
Samuel Grob, sorrel mare.....170.00
G. H. Lehr, sorrel mare.....163.00
Devoce Marshall, black mare.....175.00
Clint Thompson, team.....210.00
D. C. DeLoe, horse.....101.00
D. C. DeLoe, pair mules.....161.00
Emma Watta, 2 single colts.....125.00
A. T. Wimmer, team horses.....350.00

A mule, injured in shipping, found a resting place at the Vogt rendering plant.

REISH-ALLEN.

In Winchester, Virginia, in the "Little Church 'Round the Corner," Russell Reish and Miss Betty Allen were united in marriage on Saturday.

The "little church" proved to be a Reformed church of which Rev. Fishinger is the pastor. The ring ceremony was used. It was witnessed by the bride's mother, Mrs. Lydia (Smith) Allen of Maylan, Delaware county and the groom's parents of this place.

The groom is a high school senior, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Reish of Centre Hall, and the bride is a sophomore in the local high school, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. "Bert" Allen.

The couple have the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

CUMMINGS-KLINEFELTER

The marriage of Miss Olive Gaynell Klinefelter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Klinefelter, of South Williamsport, and Walter M. Cummings, of Morrisville, took place Wednesday evening in Messiah's Lutheran church at South Williamsport.

Mr. Cummings is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Cummings of Rebersburg.

The Rev. Dr. R. G. Bannen, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. A reception for only the immediate families was held at the home of the bride following the wedding.

CARLISLE BASKETBALL

TEAM BEATEN HERE, 54-40

Carlisle is a long way to come for a beating, nevertheless that is just what a basketball team from that place did when on Friday night on Centre Hall's floor the Carlisle team went down in a 54-40 score.

"Bob" Horner was again the shining light for the local team, scoring 23 points. He was in exceptionally fine form, throwing baskets from many difficult angles.

CORN BORER DAMAGE

CAN BE CONTROLLED

Damage from European corn borer has been reduced to a minimum in counties where farmers have followed control methods advocated by county agricultural extension representatives of Penn State College, J. O. Pepper, extension entomologist, reports.

The original infestation of European corn borers was discovered in Erie county about 20 years ago. At one time the damage to the corn crop in Erie county was considerable, but recently only a comparatively small amount of damage has been reported. Many other counties had serious infestations at one time or another.

Field observations made in Centre county last fall indicate the advisability of cutting stalks low. Standing stalks show a 45.3 per cent infestation of corn borers compared with only 5.75 per cent for stalks cut one to seven inches above the ground.

Control of corn borers calls for co-operation between neighbors. Pepper said if one man fails to follow control practices, he can undo all the work of his neighbor.

Pepper explains that much can be done between now and May 1 to reduce the corn borer population. In the field standing stalks and those that are too high to be turned under cleanly in plowing can be broken down so that all refuse will be covered completely.

Another suggestion is to clean up and burn scattered stalks, cobs and corn refuse around the buildings and in the barnyard. The shredding of all stalks that are fed or are used for bedding is recommended.

One of our subscribers announced some time ago he was going to settle in another state. Hope so; he never did here.

ENCAMPMENT COMM. CLARIFIES

GROUND RULES FOR CAMPERS

The Grange Encampment and Centre County Fair Committee met on Saturday for the dual purpose of effecting the 1939 organization and laying plans for the forthcoming Fair.

Officers elected are: President, Geo. W. Halston; vice-president, Jacob Sharer, Sr.; treasurer, John Wert, Sr.; secretary, Sara Grove. Superintendents and assistant superintendents of departments are retained as of last year. Dates set for the 1939 Fair are Thursday, August 24th to Friday, September 1st; altho the Fair program itself does not open until Saturday, August 26th, camp will open as usual two days earlier.

In connection with the setting of dates, the Committee made the following modifications and interpretation of the 1938 ruling concerning moving into the Park previous to the opening day: Out of deference to the Wednesday half-holiday in part of the county, campers may move in from 1 p. m. Wednesday, August 23rd, without the payment of an additional fee. Any person wishing to occupy his tent before that time and date will pay, in addition to his tent fee, a fee of $1.00 per day or fifty cents for Wednesday morning. A tent is occupied and its renter liable for this additional charge as soon as any furniture or equipment of any sort is placed within the tent, or such equipment as an awning, porch, or kitchen is set up outside the tent or attached to it.

Superintendent Mothersbaugh reports that program plans are already under way for making this Fair both entertaining and educational. An excellent chorus has been engaged for the Sunday afternoon Harvest Home service; other popular features of previous Fairs will be retained, and new ones will be added. A. H. Soynd in charge of grounds, plans minor improvements to Fair buildings as well as some pruning to improve the condition of the evergreen plot north of the parking field.

Daughter Born to Young Couple.

A daughter was born Friday night in the Lock Haven hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wolfe, of Howard. The mother is the former Ruth Reiber of Centre Hall.

DONALD SMITH PRESIDENT

CENTRE HALL 4-H CLUB

Thirty-one boys and girls from Centre Hall and vicinity formed a 4-H Club at a meeting held at Centre Hall Thursday night. The club was organized by Elton B. Tait, Bellefonte, assistant county farm agent.

Donald Smith was named president, Inez Luse, vice-president, Mary Delaney, secretary-treasurer, Lois Holman, news leader, and Gilbert Ralston, news reporter. Richard Luse was chosen as acting 4-H Club leader.

Thursday's program included the showing of motion pictures dealing with 4-H Club activities. In signing up for project work fifteen members chose the raising of pigs; nine lambs; five, capons; and seven, flowers.

Following are names of club members and the projects in which they are interested:

Pig Club—Ernie D. Lansberry, Marvin R. Sharer, John L. Rimmey, Jr., George Ralston, Harry Burris, Jr., Eugene Wolfe, Dean Luse, Glenn Wolfe, Marion J. Sharer, Ruth Burris, Sherwood Lansberry, Delbert Lansberry.

Flower Club—Miriam Slack, Agnes Delaney, Cherry Corman, Janet Runkle.

Capon Club, Lamb Club—Dean Ross, Donald Ross, Capon Club—Lynn Miller, Evelyn Miller, Alta Miller.

Lamb Club—Ray V. Delaney, Randall Miller, David Noll, J. C. McClennahan, Jr.

DAMAGE SUITS HEARD

AND VERDICTS IN COURT

In the case of Frank P. Keller vs. the County of Centre, a verdict was returned in favor of Mr. Keller for $1200, for damages resulting to his farm at Pleasant Gap during the rebuilding of the Pleasant Gap-State College highway.

He had appealed from an allowance of $1500 allowed by viewers named to fix the amount of damages he had suffered.

In the case of Ruth W. Holt, now to the use of Isabella Hurlinger and David Hurlinger, guardians of Mary Hurlinger, a jury returned a verdict of $3,369.75 plus interest from November 1928, in favor of the plaintiff.

In the action of C. N. Eisenhauer vs. B. N. Eisenhauer, executor of the last will and testament of Alice E. Eisenhauer, late of Haines township, a jury verdict of $985.80, plus interest from July 1937 was returned.

A claim for the loss of two fingers against the Federal Life and Casualty Company by Pete Moravian of Holt's Hollow was non-suited, due to the fact that it was shown the accident happened fifteen minutes before the accident policy arrived in the office of the company. Moravian was engaged on a lumber job near Spring Mills when injured.

A jury awarded Hardman P. Harris of Bellefonte $550 damages due to an injury suffered when struck by a car operated by Ira E. Viehdorfer of Snow Shoe on Dec. 22, 1937. It appears Mr. Harris had been offered $1000 and cost of medical treatment, but refused the offer, preferring to settle in court.

Howard E. Patton of Port Matilda was awarded a verdict in the sum of $250 damages for injuries received in stepping from his car that had been hoisted while he was in it at the Harpster Garage at Port Matilda.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS

Farmer Harry Prantz began plowing on Thursday on his farm at Earlystown.

The fire towers in this region will be manned in the near future, if not already assigned watchmen who are on duty.

Brown, the Berks county well driller, moved his drill onto the Daniel Bohn property in town on Friday to make an opening for a cesspool.

F. V. Goodhart publishes letters testamentary in the estate of his sister, Myra B. Winegardner, late of Centre Hall borough deceased, in this issue.

Samuel Rauch of Phillipsburg and George Brooks of Lock Haven became the owners of the meat market in Millheim conducted formerly by Ray Stover.

Dr. Henry F. Bitner, who for the past few months has been with his brother, R. Urasmus Bitner, at Avis, was a hospital patient in a Jersey Shore hospital, but is reported improving at this writing.

What was good enough for former governors—Republicans and Democrats—is not pleasing to Governor James. He wants a new Governor's Manjion, one to cost something like $400,000 to begin with.

Mrs. D. N. Dorman, the former Rhoda Boyer, of Yeagertown, was in the valley on business during last week. Mrs. Dorman owns the Sankey farm near Potters Mills, formerly the property of her father, now deceased.

Bobby, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Nestor Keene, of Millheim, following a severe illness from pneumonia, was taken to the Lewistown hospital for treatment of a complication of diseases.

In a fall at her home in Millheim, Mrs. Warren P. Stover sustained a fracture of a shoulder bone at two points. She was taken to the Centre County hospital on Thursday for adjustments of the fractures.

Dr. Charles Edward McGirk, who with his father, Dr. John D. McGirk, established the McGirk Sanitarium, died Monday morning of last week. He was aged 70 years, and lived all his life in Phillipsburg and devoted it to his profession.

Last week was a grand time for public sales. Nearly every day was one of sunshine and no mud. All you needed for a successful sale was cows, young cattle, hogs, sheep and horses in good condition, and farm implements well taken care of.

The Clover Club met on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Clayton Homan. The gathering was one of the kind that is frequently described as having been one where "a good time was had." No special business was transacted, but the members did talk and eat.

Rev. Dale L. Kohr, of Middleburg, filled the appointments on the Lutheran charge of Rebersburg on Sunday. The pastorate is vacant since the resignation of Rev. J. J. Weaver at the beginning of this year. Rev. Kohr is regarded as a candidate to fill the vacancy.

Prof. J. F. Wetzel and James Myers, of the Centre Hall-Potter high school faculty, attended a meeting of the Central Pennsylvania Principals' Association held in Keith Junior high school, Altoona, on Wednesday. The question under discussion was on the subject, "Guidance." Mr. Myers was a member of the program committee.

Bellefonte will vote on the question of whether or not the borough will issue bonds in the sum of $55,000 for replacing the high school building destroyed by fire. The special election will be held Tuesday, April 18th. The above sum is in addition to nearly $100,000 received by the district from insurance companies and which, of course, will be used toward a new building.

Glenn Hargrave of Millheim, graduate of the Schoolship Annapolis, went to New York with a view to getting a position on a ship which would be in line with his training. He connected with the Merchant Vessel "Santa Rita," a boat of the Grace Lines, and went aboard as a cadet officer. They sailed the same day for South America with the first port of call being Antofagasta, Chile.

A team of horses at the D. C. Bohn public sale on Friday passed for $417.50, making one of the top records for farm team prices this spring. The team will be used on the former Horner farm on the Greens Valley road on Nittany Mountain where a mother is setting up her son in the business of farming. Stock and implements at the Bohn sale brought very good prices and was largely attended, due to some extent to its ease of access.

He was unaware of it, but nevertheless, F. P. Geary of town was harboring a fish-size skunk under his car parked to the front of his home the other night. We know, because we drove down that way and met Mr. Skunk as he took a stand in the middle of the road. We stopped plenty of distance ahead of him, and instead of crossing over, the animal retraced its steps and took refuge under the convenient auto. The odoriferous kitty behaved beautifully, as it always does unless attacked.
