A COLLECTION OF NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND PERSONALS FROM GREGG TWP.'S METROPOLIS.

Gregg Twp. Civic Club Activities—Wednesday, March 8, the regular monthly meeting of the Civic Club was held in the Community Hall. A crowd of about 200 citizens and families made the evening one of maximum benefit and enjoyment for all.

This meeting also marked the initial public appearance of our Junior band under the very capable leadership of Harold Breen of State College. This band consists of 10 pieces: trumpets, Ralph Watts, Melvin Snyder, Wm. Snyder, Gerald Bressler; clarinets, Dorothy Miller and Gerald Grove; baritone horn, Rex Seawson; alto horns, Milan Grove, Elwood Heckman, Kenneth Barger. They gave a short concert preceding the business meeting and requested by request later in the evening.

Under the report of committees it was announced that the next Family Night Party for the month of April would be a night of free bingo with prizes. Intermissions of various types of literary numbers, music, etc., made up of local talent. No dancing is planned for this program. A committee of club members served refreshments and a new committee was appointed to serve for the next meeting.

Mrs. Flora Weaver of Millheim has been visiting for several days at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lester Condo, at Penn Hall.

On Monday Mrs. Weaver was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. King.

Miss Mary Slagle, R. N., was appointed county nurse beginning April 1st. Miss Slagle is very capable for her position, due to her experience in her field of work.

PROGRAM FOR BOYS AT PLEASANT GAP The following interesting item appeared in the current number of "The Angler," the official organ of the Penna. Fish Commission:

The regular monthly meeting of the Pleasant Gap Sportsmen's Association was held recently in the Pleasant Gap Fire Hall. Plans were furthered for the shooting match held by the club and also for the construction of a permanent rifle range near the Pleasant Gap baseball diamond. The club wishes to take this means of thanking Ray C. Noll for his generous offer of a piece of land for this purpose.

A report was also received on the activities of the Future Sportsmen of Pleasant Gap group. This club has a membership of thirty-six boys between the ages of ten and fifteen years. This group is divided into two classes. Those from ten to twelve are instructed in conservation and sportsmanship by James Biddle and Cloyd Sunday. Those from twelve to fifteen are instructed in the same fundamentals by George Margarell, Jr. This group with the aid of some members of the senior organization has distributed thirty bushels of corn throughout the local game land and also constructed food shelters for same.
