

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Mrs. Kathryn Jamison of State College was named senior stenographic clerk in the Bellefonte parole office.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reuning of Ridgeway were guests over the week-end of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Long, in the Penns Cava area.

A new clerk in the Wells Pure Food store is Darline Faust, a member of the senior class of Centre Hall-Potter high school and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Faust.

Mrs. G. W. Tressler has closed her home here and has gone to live for a short time with her daughter, and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Musser, near Madisonburg.

Carl Burkholder, while assisting his father, M. A. Burkholder, on the farm, received severe sunburn on the arms, shoulders and back that were very painful. He is regularly employed on the Kerlin Poultry Farm.

Guests at the home of Samuel Gierich over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ray and grandson, Thomas Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wright and children Frances and Franklin, and Mrs. Lizzie Sommers, all of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Mrs. Ida White of Woolrich.

A fishing party of three, composed of Wm. H. Homan, Centre Hall; Cyrus Hoy, Zion, and Hugh Dale of the Branch, who fished off Cape May for an eight-hour period had reasonably good success. They left here on Thursday and returned Saturday. Aside from the fishing they had a pleasant motor trip.

Lee W. Frazier, Esq., and daughter Marion, of Painesville, Ohio, arrived at the Earl Frazier home during last week for a vacation of a few days. On Sunday they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Grady, the former head of the Union Abstract and Title Co., also of Painesville. On Tuesday they motored back to Ohio.

Over three-quarters of an inch of rain fell Saturday afternoon in a storm of only a quarter-hour's duration. Trees were uprooted, fields washed, and drains on main street, Centre Hall were clogged so that small lakes were formed in sections of the town where the drains failed to carry off the storm waters.

Charles Slaterbeck of near Tusseyville was a caller at the Reporter office on Saturday morning. He is tenant on the John J. Spanier farm, the owner of which lives in Downer Grove, Illinois. The fact that Mr. Spanier has not been on the premises in two years indicates he has great confidence in his tenant farmer.

Mrs. John S. Getchell of Uniontown arrived in town on Monday, having come by train to Bellefonte and met there by Mrs. Andrew Mark and Mrs. Emma Emerick and brought to their home in Centre Hall where she remained until Tuesday. Mrs. Getchell reported her husband and two sons were regularly employed, and all in good physical condition.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Buckwalter and daughter Rosalie, of Roselle, N. J., motored to Centre Hall the latter part of last week and became guests at the Packer-Brooks home. Mrs. Buckwalter is a daughter of Prof. L. O. Packer, an instructor in one of the Pittsburgh high schools, who also was in Centre Hall during the school vacation incident in Memorial Day.

A group of deep-water fishermen from State College had wonderful success in catching a variety of edible fish off the coast of Bowers Beach, on Delaware Bay, during last week. The catch of several hundred fish was estimated to weigh a half ton, only a part of which the fishermen were able to bring home with them in their cars. The remainder were shipped by express.

Harry W. Frantz, while driving along State Highway No. 226, one mile east of Tyrone in his '29 Nash sedan on Sunday, struck a guard post and badly wrecked the right front of his car. He was accompanied by Mrs. Frantz and says he is unable to account for the accident. No other car was involved, and neither he nor Mrs. Frantz was injured. The car was towed to Centre Hall by R. S. Haglan.

On Sunday, Miss Jennie Bartholomew, on descending a stairway, made a misstep and badly sprained a leader back of the knee, resulting in very severe pains which only began to lessen on Monday. It was the intention to take the unfortunate lady to Hubbersburg, her former home, to visit the cemetery. She has been confined to her room for many, many months from illness and a broken hip, but had recently made a marked recovery.

Mrs. Claude K. Stahl of Eausman, her son, Thomas Hawthorn, and Mrs. Hawthorn, of Mt. Alto; Mrs. John Lingle and daughter Miss Lingle, of Lancaster, comprised a motor party on a trip through this section of Pennsylvania. While here they called on Mrs. Mary Stahl and the Bartholomew family, and placed flowers on the grave of Mrs. Stahl's late husband. Mrs. Stahl is looking fine, having recovered from an attack of arthritis that sent her to the hospital for treatment.

Richard S. Bailey of Baltimore, Md., and his fiancée, Miss Devona Frances Collins, of the same city, visited with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Bailey, over the week-end, departing on Sunday for New York City and the Worlds Fair. Another son of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey—Muth M. Bailey—was home on Memorial Day. He is employed as a junior architect in the Navy Department, Washington, D. C., on work in connection with the huge National Defense program. All phases of the work are clothed in secrecy.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Mary Emerick is quite ill. S. M. Campbell, retired undertaker in Millheim, has recovered from a recent serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. James Seanson were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Ishler in Millheim. Miss Charlotte Keller, a teacher in the Buckhill Falls high school, became ill last week and returned to her home in Centre Hall.

Mrs. Helen Bitner will become employed in the W. A. Wagner household, Juniata, this week. Mrs. Wagner has been in delicate health during the past month.

Harry C. Yeager, the shoe man in Bellefonte, on Tuesday rounded out fifty years devoted to the shoe business. Since 1902 he has been in business for himself.

Don Slotman, of Akron, Ohio, on his way to visit his mother, Mrs. Brose Slotman, in Lock Haven, stopped in Centre Hall with his cousin, Harold Behn, for a short time. Mr. Slotman is connected with the Goodyear Rubber company in Akron.

Fifty years ago this week the city of Johnstown was in the midst of an experience the like of which has not been witnessed to this date. We refer, of course, to the Johnstown Flood, which took a toll of over 10,000 human lives, and did property damage of countless millions of dollars.

T. C. Henney and daughter, Mrs. Anna Erb, and granddaughter, Miss Lila Erb, of Latrobe, were guests over the week-end of Mrs. Lucy Henney and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Henney. The former, a brother-in-law of the former Mrs. Henney, remained until after Memorial Day.

Observers state with much positiveness that under the James administration there is no difference in the activity of the WPA workers on School Parkway, work on which was resumed for the second time during May, on Monday. The biggest job looming up is to decide when the work is completed.

Guests at the M. A. Burkholder home over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Class of Palmyra, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. David Raub, Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hess and son Neil of Winfield; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Burkholder and baby Mary Kay, Centre Hall; Miss Ellen Burkholder and Gordon Bowden, State College.

Mrs. Harry Bowersox, formerly Miss Bertha Snyder, and her sister, Miss Romie Snyder, of Millifield, and Mrs. Mary Durst, were guests of their sister, Mrs. James L. Decker, beginning of the week. From here Mrs. Bowersox and Miss Snyder went to New York City for a week's stay with a sister, Miss Isabel Snyder, who is taking advanced studies in one of the universities in that city. The ladies, of course, will spend a part of their time at the Worlds Fair.

IN RUSSIA, THERE IS A PREJUDICE AGAINST HELPING ANYONE TO SALT AT THE TABLE, FOR IT MAY PRODUCE A QUARREL. IF THE SALT IS PASSED WITH A SMILE A QUARREL IS AVOIDED.

The Reporter refrains from broadcasting the misdoings of a group of six youths in and nearby Centre Hall, because it feels they should have the same consideration that is being extended to the mature who are being shielded to a greater or lesser extent at this time for offenses to society of much greater import. Of course, the acts of neither group is condoned by the Reporter, but it has the greater sympathy for the youngsters. And this is because of the fact that the community has done so little for youth.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD

Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts. The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or these things—your stomach often pours out too much acid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain or sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over. Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes these little black tablets called Bell-Lax for indigestion to make the excess stomach acids harmless, relieve distress in no time and put you back on your feet. Relief is so quick it is amazing and one 2c package proves it. Ask for Bell-Lax for indigestion.

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dance and parties. BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls along who are full of pep. So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 3 generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in giving you more pep and lessens distress from female functional disorders. You'll find Pinkham's Compound WELL WORTH TRYING!

ENCHANTMENT ON A SUMMER NIGHT

A garden pool is mysteriously beautiful when lighted at night. Light bulbs are concealed under artificial lily pads to light this pool.

By Louise Brown
THE garden is all too often left to darkness on a summer night. . . nature is fickle and can't be depended upon to supply full moons and decorative fireflies. But when the sun goes down, the garden can be awakened to new beauty by the clever use of artificial light.

Garden lighting effects can be very thrilling. It's the sort of thing that calls for imagination and a bit of finesse for it must be done with a "light" hand to bring out the delicacy of flowers and foliage, the shimmer of water in a pool—harsh floodlighting is to be avoided or the garden will look like a ball park at night.

Garden lighting is rather like stage lighting—you want to spotlight the stars in the show—in this case perhaps a graceful tree, a rosebush in full bloom, or a piece of statuary. And you don't want to spoil the illusion by having the machinery too obvious, so the light sources should be concealed as much as possible. You can buy inexpensive lighting fixtures that do the trick—artificial rocks, mushrooms, lily pads and birdhouses are all ingeniously made to conceal the light bulbs so that you are not conscious of a definite light source.

Colored light is apt to be disappointing in the garden. If you have had no experience with garden lighting, stick to white light which brings out the truest colors in flowers and shrubbery. Blue light may sometimes be used to create a charming moonlight effect.

A small garden lends itself to lighting effects just as well as a large one. Indeed, the smallest garden nook will be exquisite at night when it is touched up with light.

It isn't a bit too soon to plan garden lighting and get it installed so it will be ready and waiting for your first gorgeous blossoms. Can't you imagine your favorite cherry tree, looking like a Snow Queen touched with the magic of light?

Equipment Inexpensive

There are on the market now attractive, easily installed and inexpensive garden lighting fixtures. To mention a few: There are artificial lily pads for underwater lighting in pools; artificial rocks that conceal light bulbs for spotlighting some particular bit in the garden; small floodlights for spotlighting and larger ones for moonlight effects; rows of shields, bird or animal cut-out shields, each concealing a bulb to edge flower beds or paths.

Perhaps you prefer to build your own garden lighting equipment. Whether you buy or make it, remember that all wiring connections, wires, outlets and switches must be properly installed and weatherproof so that they will withstand dampness. The necessary wiring installations are very low in cost—your local wiring contractor will be glad to help you.

You'll be more than repaid for the small outlay of money in lighting the garden by the added hours of enjoyment it will give you.
