THANKSGIVING SET WEEK EARLIER BY PRESIDENT

On Monday, at Campobello, N. E., President Roosevelt announced that he will advance the date of Thanksgiving one week to meet requests that holidays be spaced more evenly during the last six months of the year.

The holiday will be observed this year on November 23 instead of the last Thursday in November, he said. Next year, he said, it will be observed on the second Thursday of November, instead of the last.

The President declared that for the last six years he has been getting many requests for such action on grounds Thanksgiving falls too close to Christmas and there was too long an interval between Labor Day and Thanksgiving. The requests, he added, came from stores, working people and small retailers.

NOTES FROM THE BAD LANDS

The trio of Centre Hall young men—Messrs. William Weaver, Eugene Weaver and Chester Wagner—remembered associates here by mailing post cards and noting a few incidents. William Weaver, under date of August 9, wrote thus to G. A. Crawford from Murdo: South Dakota:

"Hello, Abe: Am writing this from Murdo, S. D., about 40 miles from the Badlands. It has been very dry in S. D. and Kansas, but early this week it rained as much as 2 inches and lessened the dry spell. It is not as hot as we had expected due to the rain. This country is really something to see, drive miles and not see a single person or building. There are no mountains through this part of the west, and it's no wonder the wind loosens the ground and causes dust storms."

Chester Wagner, from the same point, wrote the Reporter:

"We are 1684 miles from Centre Hall. This is a very good place to see sights of huge size. There has been plenty of rain here recently, but the crops don't look very good. The nights are cool but today was warm and clear, and you can see for miles around."

Eugene Weaver gives Crawford further details, thus:

"We visited the Badlands today and they are really something to see. There are 32 miles of them and we took a lot of pictures, of the best formations. The memorial on the other side of the card (the Rushmore Mt., Washington-Jefferson-Lincoln memorial) is not nearly finished. Washington's coat buttons are to be 6ft. across. We expect to climb to the top of Rushmore tomorrow morning."

PENN STATE PROFESSOR SAVES LIVES IN WRECK

Dr. E. A. Betts, Pennsylvania State College professor, was unanimously acclaimed a hero by survivors of the wreck of the speeding Southern Pacific streamliner, in which one Pennsylvanian was killed and five others injured, on Sunday. A total of twenty persons were killed and 114 injured in a platted wreck at a Humboldt River bridge, in Nevada.

Himself badly bruised, Dr. Betts was credited by fellow passengers with saving the lives of many who would have died to death had it not been for his efforts.

"Never have I seen a more courageous display of nerve and coolness by other passengers," he told interviewers. "I spent the night applying tourniquets—30 of them—and helping as much as I could."

"Every friend I had on the train was instantly killed."

Dr. Betts, head of the college's Department of Education and Psychology, was en route to a lecture engagement at Alameda, Calif. He lost all his clothes, and luggage.

MOORE'S STOCK RANCH AT NEFFS MILLS HAS NOTED VISITOR

By Wm. Gregory Moore

Dr. Stanley Michael, an American-born refugee from Czechoslovakia, who was in Prague several months ago when Hitler's Legation entered that ancient Bohemian capital, spent the past week as the guest of this writer at the Moore stock ranch near Neffs Mills, Shavers Creek Valley, Huntingdon county, leaving for Pittsburgh where he hopes soon to secure a position on the staff of a hospital.

Dr. Michael was placed in contact with the present writer through the efforts of Colonel Vladimir Hurban, Czech minister to the United States, whose offices are in Washington, D.C.

Having had farm experience intermittently while a high school and medical student in Prague and unable to get rooted-in as a doctor since he returned to Pittsburgh three months ago, the twenty-seven-year-old medic came out to the Moore stock ranch to try his luck in the role of cowboy. He was just getting acclimated to his new environment a few days ago when word came from a Pittsburgh placement bureau that his prospects for securing a position on the staff of a hospital in a nearby city were good, so Dr. Michael left immediately to seize the opportunity.

Dr. Michael is an American citizen, but his mother, a native Bohemian, took him to Prague from Pittsburgh, the city of his birth, when he was quite young. He was educated in a Prague high school, graduating from St. Charles University in that city where he received a medical degree. His young wife, also of Prague, a university-trained woman and a doctor of philosophy, remained in Czechoslovakia while her husband is trying to establish himself in his native United States.

Dr. Michael's varied experiences and travels in Continental Europe, together with his university background, make him an interesting conversationalist. He speaks Czech, German and English fluently, also being able to talk some in French.

International "rag tapes" at present is keeping the medic and his young wife separated, but they hope to join each other as soon as he secures a permanent position.

EPITAPH

GRANGE EXHIBITS TO AGAIN FEATURE FAIR THIS YEAR

Adult Grange exhibits, products portraying the activities of farm and home, have always been one of the outstanding points of interest at the Grange Encampment & Centre County Fair, at Grange Park, Centre Hall. Last year's winners in the competition were Port Matilda and Half-Moon Granges.

With the opening of the Encampment scheduled for Thursday, August 24, this year and continuing through Friday, September 1, elaborate plans have been completed for an increased number of displays. Last year, thirteen different organizations participated in this part of the program.

The bride was given away by her father, and Mrs. David Allman of Wyandott, Mich., was matron of honor while Miss Emma Eliza Stuart and Alice Corl were bridesmaids.

Cyrus Hoy, Bellefonte, was elected president of the board of directors. Other officers selected are the Rev. C. R. Helm, of Loysville, first vice-president; E. L. McMurtry, of Mansfield, second vice-president; Edwin C. Leber of Middletown, secretary; Chas. E. Mensch of Bloomsburg, treasurer.

A.A.A. TO SUPPLY SEED FOR DROUGHT DAMAGE EMERGENCY

In an effort to assist farmers to replace seedlings of legumes that have been seriously damaged or entirely destroyed by the recent drought, the Pennsylvania Agricultural Conservation Committee is cooperating in an emergency reseeding program under which any farmer may obtain specified amounts of alfalfa and timothy for reseeding destroyed seedlings or reinforcing those seriously damaged.

The State Committee has selected alfalfa and timothy for this emergency use because it is the opinion of agricultural authorities that throughout the State, in practically all types of soil, these two types of seed are best adapted and offer the best possibilities for giving a good stand when seeded at this time of the year. The maximum price fixed by the committee that dealers may charge the government for this seed is based on current prices.

In order to benefit under this emergency plan the Committee pointed out it is not necessary that a farmer be a participant in the Agricultural Conservation Program. All that is necessary for any farmer to do in order to obtain this emergency seed is to get in touch with his county Agricultural Conservation office, certify to his drought damage and sign an application for seed, agreeing to reseed the damaged acreage or to reinforce the damaged acreage. The amount of seed that any farmer may obtain under this emergency seed program is limited to one-half his largest soil binding payment as computed under the 1939 Agricultural Conservation Program.

The Centre Hall-Potter high school is indebted to Miss Carrilbert Emerick who furnished all the missing National Geographic Magazine numbers for the years 1935, 1936, 1937 and 1938; also to Mrs. Bruce Arney for six issues of earlier date.

LOCAL BUSINESS MEN PLAN TRIP TO PITTSBURG IN SEPT.

The Centre Hall Business Men's Association held a meeting in the directors' room of the First National Bank on Thursday evening, at which tentative arrangements were made for the annual outing of the association, which will likely be in mid-September.

The two vacancies in offices were filled by electing Dr. H. R. White, vice-president, and Dan S. Daup, secretary.

Dr. White, acting chairman in the absence of the president, F. V. Goodhart, on motion appointed a committee comprised of William P. Campbell, E. W. Miller and Dan S. Daup, to arrange for a time, place, and transportation for the outing.

It was decided that all members holding 1938 cards would be eligible to the association's benefits without paying dues for 1939. Members not holding such cards may avail themselves of the same by paying the annual dues.

Although the committee named has full authority to select the place, time, etc., it appears Pittsburgh will be the city visited, and the Pittsburgh State Glass Company's plant inspected. To accomplish this the caravan will leave on a Wednesday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock and return Thursday evening.

The association was organized in 1932, and a banquet given at the Mitterling restaurant. Every year since a trip was made by a large percentage of the members, in 1933 to Hershey; 1934 to Hanover; 1935 to Wilkes-Barre; 1936 to Johnstown; 1937 to Titan Metal Works, and banquet; 1938 to Lancaster, and 1939 (proposed) to Pittsburgh.

LOCAL EVANGELICALS HOLD FIRST UNION PICNIC

The first union picnic of the Centre Hall Grange, Evangelical church, as that charge is now constituted, was held Thursday on Grange Park. Guests for the day were the Girl's Saxophone Band with the Director, Prof. Luther Albert of the Evangelical Orphanage and Rev. G. L. Malce and Mrs. DeHill from the Evangelical Home, Lewisburg. Dinner and supper were taken in the boarding house. Entertainment during the afternoon consisted of two concerts by the band, contests for the different age groups and soft ball games.

The charge is made up of the following appointments: Centre Hall, Lemont, Tusseyville, Locust Grove, Spring Mills and Bethesda. Although the turnout was not large, those present had an enjoyable time and the venture was considered a success.

MILESBERG TOWN COUNCIL INSPECTS LOCAL WATER PLANT

Members of the Milesburg town council were in Centre Hall a few days ago to contact councilmen here on the water proposition. Milesburg, like Centre Hall, owns its own water plant, but the increase in population and use of water is forcing the borough authorities to obtain an increase in supply. To do this the council has in mind, after taking proper measures, to sink a well.

The body came here more particularly to inspect the large deep well pump and ascertain how it is performing.

The five councilmen in the group were Messrs. E. J. Hess, Edward Reed, Arthur S. Wasson and D. T. Sherry.

ONE DEAD, AND 24 OF 26 ON TRUCK INJURED

Of 26 Osceola Mills residents traveling on a truck to their home after attending an outing sponsored by a Lithuanian fraternal order, one was killed and all with the exception of one was injured. Helen Sokol died in the Phillipsburg hospital from head injuries. Several are very seriously injured.

Victor Unick, 16, the only uninjured person in the wreck, said he was saved because he "lit on a fat woman."

Tofield Gravish, Jr., president of the lodge, is thought to have lost control of the truck, which plunged from the road and overturned.

The accident occurred on Saturday night at Sandy Ridge.

Appointed to Tenant-Purchase Com.

Appointment of George Mothersbaugh of Boalsburg to the Centre County Tenant Purchase Committee by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace was announced a few days ago by O. S. Havens, Farm Security Supervisor.

Mothersbaugh succeeds George W. Ralston of Centre Hall whose term as a Committee member expired on July 1st.

Mr. Mothersbaugh is a dairyman and active Granger. He is a former tenant farmer who now owns his own dairy.

NOTES ON WORLD'S FAIR VIA SUNDAY EXCURSION

The excursion to the New York Worlds Fair on Saturday over the L. & T. R. R., carried 160 persons, thirteen going from Centre Hall.

The L. & T. coaches were coupled to the Lock Haven train at Sunbury, making a train of fifteen coaches. The excursion arrived at the fair grounds at 9:45 a. m. and left at 6:45 p. m. E. S. time.

The attendance at the fair Sunday at 5 p. m. was 153,987.

The fair is very spectacular and artistic and for educational purposes outstanding. The amusements are of the best and should please anyone pleasure bent.

A one-day excursion is a short time to see a fair so stupendous in its proportions but even at that it is worth many times the actual cost involved.

Billy Rose's Aquacade, The Railroads on Parade, the Russian Building and General Motors alone would be worth more than the expenses of the entire tour. Prices for food and the actual necessities are moderate and the service excellent.

Lock Haven Sunday School Class Enjoys Supper Here

The Cheerful Workers Class and husbands and children of the Church of Christ, Lock Haven, taught by Mrs. John Gluck, enjoyed a twelve supper Wednesday night, August 9, on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lindsey, Centre Hall.

The table was decorated with flowers and the lawn was well lighted with electric lights. A short business meeting was held. Games were played. Twenty-seven were present, besides these guests: Mr. and Mrs. John Runkle, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wagner of Centre Hall.

SUGAR VALLEY VOC. ELECTS GEO. MUMMA, SUPERVISOR

George Mumma, 32, of Washington, Pa., was elected supervisor of agriculture in the Sugar Valley Vocational school, at a special meeting of the board of education held in the new $65,000 annex which will be opened to classes this fall.

Mumma will receive a salary of $1800 and will reside in Loganton. He graduated from Penn State, class of 1937.

Jacob B. Barges, who formerly held the position, resigned.

PHILIP H. DEWEY

Philip H. Dewey of Tioga county died during last week.

Through the Pennsylvania State Grange and in public office, Mr. Dewey without ever surrendering his chosen status as a Tioga county farmer, and without abandoning his residence in the rural community in which he was reared, achieved prominence and usefulness.

The recognition which came to him through election to the position of master of State Grange and later to that of Secretary of Internal Affairs of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania showed that others had the high opinion of Mr. Dewey which prevailed among his neighbors, who had chosen him to represent them in many public capacities.

Mr. Dewey, on a number of occasions, spoke at the Grange Encampment and Fair.

LETTER FROM SUBSCRIBER

Highland Park, Ill., Aug. 6, 1939
Messrs. Smith & Bailey,
Centre Hall, Pa.

Gentlemen:

The label on my paper says that unless you get some money pretty soon here will be no more Reporter for me; and that would be a calamity of the first magnitude in my world. Hence please find enclosed a check for three dollars.

Always I look forward to Friday for that is the end of the work week and the Reporter will be waiting for me when I get home. It is read religiously although there are fewer and fewer familiar names in the news items; all too often there are familiar names in the obituary column. Thirty-six years make many changes in the personnel of a community, but through the Reporter I feel that in a general way I know what is happening in Pennsylvania. Your recent account of the retirement of Prof. L. O. Packer reminds me that time is passing. In my memory he is a young fellow preparing for College at Spring Mills with Dr. Wolfe.

One matter about the Reporter worries me considerably. From the news items and the editorial comments one is almost convinced that the political millennium has arrived and that all the New Dealers, even the Earles and the Guffeys, are the Lord's anointed. But when I turn to the inside pages and read the political comment by Duckhart, my amazement knows no limit. Not even our celebrated Chicago Colonels—Col. McCormick in the "World's Greatest Newspaper" and Col. Frank Knox, the "also-ran," do a better job of debunking the New Deal, setting forth its fundamental fallacies and describing the graft and hypocrisy with which it reeks. So when I finish my Reporter I am a sadly puzzled man; am almost in the position of the man who said his dog was half curbstone setter and half pointer and he never did know which end of him to believe.

With kindest personal regards and best wishes, I am,

Sincerely yours,
A. M. ALLISON.

[Editors' Note: Dear friend and former high school teacher—Call it a cock-eyed world, and let it go at that.]

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS

Mrs. Harry Davidson of Milroy visited her sister, Mrs. Earl Lutz, several days last week.

Rev. and Mrs. O. E. Feeman of Millheim are on a two weeks vacation to Montrose.

The Grange Encampment and Fair opens a week from today (Thursday) and continues to September 1st.

West Penn Power Company turned off the "juice" for several hours last Friday in order to make changes to take care of the heavy load which will be occasioned by the Encampment and Fair.

To avoid the ravages of the Hessian fly in this locality, County Agent Blaney recommends sowing to wheat after September twenty-seven. Centre county's infestation was 21 per cent above the state average, which was 14 per cent.

Mrs. F. P. Geary, superintendent of the Centre County hospital, is contemplating the erection of a bungalow on the rear of the former Kerlin home, now converted into a two-apartment house. The new structure will face on Ridge street. The location is a very desirable one.

Mrs. Bruce Arney, Ralph, Robert and Lois, Miss Pearl Arney and Francis Jodon, the latter of Bellefonte, drove to Stone Glen, near Dauphin, Sunday where they spent the day with Mrs. Kate Moore and Miss Elizabeth Harpster, who are spending the summer months in a cottage.

Falling to comply with a compensation claim, Ray Aumiller of Mifflin county is under $500 bond to pay a fine of $100 or undergo a jail sentence of 30 days. While operating a saw mill at Hecla Park in 1933, Raymond Vaughn received an injury to his hand. Only a small part of the claim was paid.

A car operated by Robert McCormick of Pottery Mills was damaged to the amount of about $45 in a crash with a machine driven by Harry S. Klinefelter, Centre Hall, at the Tusseyville intersection, on Wednesday evening of last week. No injuries resulted from the accident. Klinefelter, it is said, was operating a car without a license.

Under a heading "AAA to Supply Seed for Drought Damage Emergency," will be found information of benefit to farmers who are able to note a poor set of grasses and clovers in stubble fields. The article should be carefully read and acted on as soon as possible. Seed sown this fall on stubbles can produce an abundant crop of hay next season.

Recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McClellan in Millheim were Reuben Breen and Percy Swower of Port Clinton; Mrs. Savilla Klyder, Mrs. Mabel McElfresh, Mrs. Alvina Flory and Mrs. Celesta Strohmeier of Centre Hall; Mrs. Emma Whitmyer of Akron, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Ulrich and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ulrich of Cleveland, O.; the former Mrs. Ulrich's father, W. Mrs. Smith, a graduate nurse, discontinued the practice of her profession, but Mr. Smith continues teaching in an industrial school for which he made special preparations, following his honorable discharge from the army at the close of the World War. He enlisted in service from Potter township.

A class in the Lutheran Sunday school taught by Reeder Sharer, during this week held a picnic at the former CCC Camp 62, back of Colyer, which affords many opportunities for enjoyment by picnickers. The members of the class to participate were Miriam Foust, Dorothy Crater, Alice Duntrow, Wilma Houts, Mary Smetzer, Thelma Burris, Helen Ralston and Jean Cobbe. The young girls were accompanied by their teacher and a few invited guests.
