

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Homan will visit the World's Fair during next week.

Mrs. Mary Koch of Altoona, who has been at the Seaton home recently, is taking care of the James Barnhart home in Bellefonte.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Fisher and Rev. and Mrs. E. R. Corman made a pleasure trip through the northern counties of the State, stopping at the Grand Canyon for the night.

Rev. D. R. Keener, Mrs. Keener and young daughter are on vacation at this time. The pulpit in the local Reformed church will be vacant until September 17.

After being laid off as a Viscount employe eighteen months ago, Russell Slack was called back to work during last week. During the time of his unemployment, Mrs. Slack worked regularly at the plant.

Rev. and Mrs. Russell Auman and daughters of Scarsdale, N. J., visited with relatives in Millheim, Rebersburg and Butler. The family will spend some time in a cottage near Lewisport.

William Thomas, son of Mrs. Ruth Thomas of Potter township, spent a few weeks visiting New York City and the World's Fair. He anticipates resuming class work at Penn State, in the fall of next year.

The E. R. Shreeve & Son grocery and dry goods store in Millheim has been purchased by Marvin Miller of Millhall, who has taken charge of the business. Mr. Miller was formerly a Weis store manager.

Frances Beverly Dunkle, a graduate of the Phillipsburg high school in June, won the scholarship in Centre county offered by the State. It is worth $100 per year or $400 in any accredited college in the State.

D. M. Kline, one of Bellefonte's prominent citizens and an outstanding member of the Centre County Grange, suffered a heart attack at his home on Wednesday morning of last week. His condition, alarming at first, has improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Goodhart and daughter, Shirley, of Youngstown, O., are visiting with the parents of the couple in Millheim. Mr. Goodhart, employe in the Sheet & Tube company plant in Youngstown, relates the works are operating at close to a normal capacity.

Mr. John R. Harter, formerly Miss Anna Ross of Linden Hall, now living in Washington, D. C., is a guest of Mrs. Margaret Jacobs at this time. Mrs. Harter is cashier in Washington's largest department store conducted by Woodward & Lothrop, where she has been since 1926.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Shope of Harrisburg were in town on Saturday, having come here to lease a place, if possible, to live in by the first of September. Mr. Shope is the director of music in the school districts of Centre Hall borough, Harris, Potter and Miles townships.

Lee Walker of Bellefonte resigned as Assistant WPA Administrator, a $7000-a-year job. The position, it is said, will not be filled. He held other high salaried positions prior to that from which he resigned. Mr. Walker is a son of the late Miles Walker, former sheriff of Centre county.

Rev. and Mrs. C. F. Catherman of Hanover, on their way to Newton Hamilton camp, stopped with the Bartholomew family in town. Rev. Catherman was a former pastor of the local Methodist church, and went to the camp for his son who this year, like heretofore, was engaged in camp service.

Mrs. Kathryn Jamison of Millheim, mother of Roy S. Jamison, left last Thursday for Kaneville, Ill., to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Finkel. Mrs. Finkel, 78 years of age, suffered a paralytic stroke. The Finkel family formerly lived in Spring Mills. The trip was made by Greyhound bus from Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Keyser of Barberston and Mrs. John Brooks of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, are with relatives and friends in Centre county. Mr. and Mrs. Keyser are spending most of their time with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Martin of Bellefonte at their camp on Fishing Creek, while Mrs. Brooks is with relatives about Centre Hall.

Miss Orpha Gramley of Millheim, and her guest, Mrs. Clara Bechtler, are on a journey southward. Motoring to Lewisport, they entrained there for Asheville, N. C. Mrs. Bechtler has two sons in the forestry service in the South—one in North Carolina and the other in Georgia—both of whom are graduates of Penn State School of Forestry. They will endeavor to show the ladies the points of interest in the southland.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford A. Rickard and young son are off on a vacation until the first week in September. Mr. Rickard is attending a convention of the Farm Bureau Insurance Company district managers at Elver Bay, N. Y., about fifty miles south of Lake Champlain, which opens Tuesday and will close Friday. After the convention the family will continue their vacation in the north, and may go into Canada. During Mr. Rickard's absence, R. C. Taylor of Bellefonte will be in charge of the insurance business.

Mrs. Wilbur McClellan of Lock Haven is engaged in teaching the group of young people in camp at Mensch Mill, near Alburts, Lehigh county, in a course of primary material and methods. She is also supervisor of the Daily Vacation Bible School being carried on at the camp. Mrs. McClellan finished a four-year course at Spruce Creek camp in 1929 and since '33 has been teaching at Camp Mensch Mill, a camp under the direction of the Evangelical-Reformed church. Rev. Wentzel, who returned from Amsterdam where he attended a World Youth Conference in which seventy nations were represented, is the leader of the camp.

MCCORMICK-BRADFORD

The preliminaries to the marriage ceremony in which Robert Henry McCormick and Clara Isabel Bradford were united in wedlock in Trinity Reformed church, Centre Hall, consisted of numbers on the organ by Mrs. D. R. Keener and songs by Mrs. Wm. F. Campbell. The instrumental numbers were "Summer" by Stebbins, "Le-Cla-Messenet," "Gypsy Love Song" by Herbert, Waltz-Linck, Mrs. Campbell sang "Because" by D. Hardelet, and "O Promise Me" by DeKoren.

Following the officiating ministers, Rev. D. R. Keener of the Reformed church and Rev. Ivan Miller of the Methodist church, taking their positions before the altar, were the bridesmaids, Miss Mary Williams and the first usher, Robert Bradford; Miss Thelma Hoffer and second usher, Wm. P. Campbell, and Mrs. Charles Jodon and Edward Koch, third usher; ring bearer, Marlin McClellan; the groom and his best man, William E. McCormick; matron of honor, Mrs. Wilbur McClellan; the flower girl, Beulah Bradford; the bride and her father, D. M. Bradford. The color scheme was blue and pink except for the bride who was gowned in white.

The ceremony, very impressive, was a combination of the ceremonies used by the denominations represented by the ministers. The altar decorations were representative of an outside garden, with palms, spruce and fall flowers.

A reception was tendered immediately following the ceremony in the social room of the church, where the refreshments were served. The bride and groom received many warm greetings, and looked the personification of happiness.

The young couple left by motor on a trip through a portion of the south, not having scheduled the tour before leaving.

The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Bradford, and graduated from the local high school in class of '33, entered Geisinger Memorial hospital, Danville, as a student in nursing and graduated in May of 1937. The following October she became a graduate nurse in the Centre-County hospital, remaining there until a few weeks ago, when she resigned her position.

The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. McCormick, Pottery Mills, and like his bride graduated from Centre Hall high in 1931. He entered Penn State as a student and received his B. S. degree in Chemical Engineering in 1935. Since his graduation he has been employed as Research Assistant in the Petroleum Refining Laboratory at Penn State.

The couple will live at 217 West Foster Avenue, in a new apartment, State College.

Miss Heister, R. N., is employed on the nursing staff of the Centre County hospital; Miss Williams, R. N., is from the Nassau Hospital, Long Island, N. Y.; Mrs. Jodon, a sister of the groom, is the dietitian in the Centre County hospital; Mr. Koch is a Philadelphia-employed in the Petroleum Laboratory, Penn State; Mr. McCormick of Mt. Penn, is engaged with the Wilson Chemical Co., Reading, and is a brother of the groom; Mrs. McClellan of Lock Haven is a sister of the bride, and Marlin McClellan is a nephew; Mr. Bradford is a brother of the bride; Mr. Campbell is manager of Penna. Canteen; and Beulah Bradford is a sister of the bride.

Honesses were Mrs. Harold Bradford and Mrs. Robert Walker, Miss Ellen Bradford of town; Miss Gladys Cogswell, R. N., and Miss Nellie Neal, R. N., of Bellefonte; Miss Geraldine Hoover, Altoona.

The presents were many and varied, all useful in a home. The cash contributions amounted up to $124.00.

MOORE-GREENOT

Leon Leslie Moore and Miss Viola Agnes Greenot, both of Karthaus, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Squire C. W. Slack at his home in Centre Hall. The bride is 19 years of age and the groom a few years older. Witnesses to the ceremony were two friends of the couple from Karthaus.

The presents were many and varied, all useful in a home. The cash contributions amounted up to $124.00.

MECHANIC BREAKS ARM

James Foust, head mechanic in the Hazan Garage, had the misfortune to have a bone in the right arm broken by being struck by a crank of a tractor on the John Snively farm east of Centre Hall on Tuesday forenoon. The accident resulted from the tractor back-firing. The fracture was reduced at the Lewisport hospital.

LOCALS

Jane Vogt, who visited with her young friend, Bert Schaeffer, at McAllisterville, returned home.

Mrs. Lizzie Whorley of Altoona is at the Shoop home during the absence of Mrs. Shoop, who is in New Jersey.

Miss Edith Boozer, an instructor in the Mt. Airy School, Philadelphia, is at the home of her brother, J. S. Boozer, for a few weeks vacation.

Mrs. Lavan Smith, on Tuesday, was a driving guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Foster of Aaronsburg to Williamsport on a pleasure and business trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Crockett are expected to come to the George Vogt home the latter part of the week. Mr. Crockett is a brother of Mrs. Vogt and will be engaged in constructing the stone work of a large porch at the Vogt residence.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Whiteman and daughter left here beginning of the week for Elburn, Ill., to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bower. They took with them Daniel Shook of Coopers, who will remain with his daughter, Mrs. Bower, for the winter. On returning on Labor Day, the Whitemans will be accompanied by Mrs. Jamison, mother of R. S. Jamison, who is at Kaneville with her parents.

G. EDWARD HAUPT

of Spring Township, Centre County, Self-Made Business Man and Life-Long Resident of Bellefonte and Spring Township is a Candidate for the Republican Nomination for Commissioner.

Ed Haupt was born in the old Haupt residence, corner Thomas and High streets, Bellefonte, and was the youngest son of Isaac Haupt, one of the pioneer business men of Bellefonte.

At the age of eleven years Ed Haupt was accidentally shot in the right hand and arm, resulting in the loss of three fingers on his right hand. Starting life with this handicap he promptly learned to use and write with his left hand, went through the common schools and three years in the Bellefonte high school. At the age of eighteen, not being able to get a job or work of any kind, started his business career peddling produce, fish and oysters; then into a small store on Thomas street. Once in the business field, by sheer force of character, ingenuity and grit he forged ahead.

Then into the concrete business with his brother, Theodore B. Haupt. They landed the first big job of concrete work, the building of thirteen fish ponds, and race-ways at the Pleasant Gap Fish Hatchery. All the earliest concrete work at Bellefonte, State College and vicinity was constructed by Haupt Bros., which still stands the test of time as to quality, skill and workmanship.

In 1911 Ed. Haupt and Clayton Brown purchased the Half Moon hill farm from the late Thomas Shoemaker. They laid it out in lots, plottting the Half Moon terrace plot or addition to Bellefonte borough and Spring township. This section is now considerably improved and built up.

This started his farming career. In 1919 he purchased the Shoemaker Place along the State highway leading from Bellefonte to Milesburg, which is known as Haupt's Place, where he now resides. Having embarked in the farming business, he soon acquired more farms, one in Brush Valley, one in Nittany Valley and one in Bald Eagle Valley. All are in the highest state of cultivation and are under the direct management of Ed. Haupt. His other activities consist of buying and building dwelling houses, and investing in real estate, stocks, etc., making him a heavy taxpayer, all the direct result of Ed. Haupt's ability, ingenuity and willingness to work, forge ahead, to accomplish and succeed in everything he ever undertook.

Mr. Haupt's charitable contributions are outstanding. Charity at home is his belief. He cared for his aged mother, who was partially blind for 20 years; now he pensions his aged sister, Mrs. Ella Metcalf, 79 years old, of Cambridge, Mass., and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Newton Haupt, 63 years of age, of Harrisburg, Pa. The monthly checks for $25.00 each go out as regularly as government pension and are a Godsend to the old ladies in their declining years. It is a great pleasure to Mr. Haupt to be able to give help to them.

Ed. Haupt was married to Lida M. Miller of Mansfield, some 30 years ago. Both enjoy the best of health and both have worked hard to gain the position they now enjoy.

This is the man who now with his wide range of experience as a contractor, merchant and farmer, property owner and heavy taxpayer, all certainly qualify him for the important office of commissioner of Centre county, and if elected you have the positive assurance of all business, finances and the county's many problems being handled in a fair, impartial, skillful manner, eliminating all reckless spending of the taxpayers' money (see and study 1938 auditors' report). All business of the county will go on a conservative, practical basis, regardless of political influence, favoritism or intimidation from any quarter.

Your support and influence will be appreciated.
