

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ziegler of Duke, North Carolina, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Miller, one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snyder, son Philip, and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Finkle of Millinburg, were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Brungart.

Miss Jane Smith, who for many years has lived in Philadelphia, during last week visited with her sister, Mrs. J. C. Vonada of Centre Hill, who camped on Grange Park.

A daughter was born on Saturday of last week to Mr. and Mrs. James Bradford at their home in Centre Hall. She has been named Jean Elizabeth.

Lewis Garbrick secured a large school bus for transporting Potter township school pupils. While it is not a modern vehicle, it is a great improvement over the one used heretofore.

Mrs. Ellen Royer has returned to State College, after visiting for a few weeks with relatives in Reedsville and Lewisport, and also with her sister, Miss Bessie Coldron, in Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Whiteman and daughter, Anna Marie, arrived home on Sunday afternoon from a two weeks' motor trip to Elburn, Ill., in which section many Pennsylvania-ans are located.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Stewart of New Bloomfield were guests of Mrs. Lucy Henney, an aunt of the couple. They had as their motor guest Mrs. Sara Stewart, mother of the former and sister of Mrs. Henney.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bailey of New York City were guests of the former's sister, Mrs. W. W. Kerlin, for a part of Sunday and Monday. They left their home Saturday afternoon and were back in time to begin work on Tuesday morning.

Week-end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Henney were Mr. and Mrs. George Bare of Philadelphia, uncle and aunt of their hosts; Mrs. David True, sister of Mrs. Henney, and Mr. and Mrs. Aurand; also Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McCook, relatives of Mrs. Henney, of Lewisport.

Mrs. A. G. Lieb, on Friday, returned from Merchantsville, N. J., where she had been visiting for a month. Her brother, A. E. Smith, on his way with others to Lewisport to meet her were surprised on reaching Reedsville to pass through a shower of rain, while not a drop of water fell in Penns Valley.

While burning grass from an extensive poultry range dotted with colony houses and shelters at the Kerlin poultry plant, the fire got out of control for a brief time and destroyed two structures, a colony house and shelter. The fire was a considerable distance from the main plant and offices. The fire occurred at noon on Friday.

Earl Hazel of Youngtown, Ohio, was guest of relatives in Penns and Brush Valley for a few days, and on Sunday was an evening dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Runkle in Centre Hall. The young man traveled by bus and left here at midnight Sunday for his home. He is a carpenter and is engaged with his father, Byron Hazel, in doing construction work in Johnstown.

James Foust, who returned from the Black hospital, Lewisport, on Friday, has been making daily trips to the institution, due to the development of a bit of pus in the incision on the arm made necessary to wire together the large bone in the lower arm, broken when hit by a crank on a tractor, two weeks ago Tuesday. The operating surgeon feels favorable results will ultimately come.

Mr. and Mrs. David I. Graybill moved from the Rowe bungalow to the new residence erected by Lewis Garbrick, at the foot of Nittany Mountain. Mrs. Graybill will continue in her professional work in the Centre County hospital until late in the fall, leaving Mr. Graybill to keep bachelor's hall. In the meantime he will take his place on the faculty of the Centre Hall-Potter high school.

Slater McGeehon, son of Dr. and Mrs. McGeehon, who lived here during the nineties to take care of the practice of the late Dr. J. F. Alexander while he was recuperating his health in California, was a visitor in town last week. Slater was the eldest of the three children in the McGeehon family, the others being Fred and Zilla. He is now located in Ohio and is prospering. He came to State College to take home with him a son who was attending a conference at Penn State.

Reckless handling of firearms continues in a section about the old silk mill site near the Reformed church. A few days ago while Mrs. E. R. Corman, who was at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Fisher, was picking grapes, a bullet whizzed close to her head. She was much frightened, but it was not discovered where the bullet came from. Within the past few years a number of stray shots in that quarter narrowly escaped striking individuals. An investigation should be made.

Barbara, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Corman of Unionville, received a cut between the eye and nose in a mysterious way while playing with a dog at the F. M. Fisher home. It was at first thought the wound was the result of a bite from the dog, but the surgeon who dressed the wound and closed it with five stitches assured them their judgment was wrong. The presumption is the child, while romping with the dog as she did every day, fell on some sharp object which inflicted the injury.

LOCALS.

Prof. and Mrs. Ward Markle of Bryan, Texas, who had been visiting in Centre county, will return to Texas this week.

Wagner and daughters, Mary, Barbara, Catharine and son, John, of New Jersey. On Friday, Mr. and Mrs. B. Carl Wharton and son, Bryce, of Harrisburg, were dinner guests at the same home.

Messrs. William and Eugene Weaver and Chester Wagner on Tuesday evening returned from a western trip of over 10,000 miles by motor. The northern route was used westward, and returning from California the route was shortened by taking the most direct route from New Mexico, instead of going south into Mexico and up along the Atlantic Coast. Many hundreds of pictures were taken of scenic spots along the way.

Mrs. J. M. Coldron expects to reach Joliet, Illinois, today (Thursday) where her mother, Mrs. W. B. Fredrick, is in a serious condition following an accident. Mrs. Fredrick, 78, was on her way here to visit her daughter, and had reached Joliet, where a son, J. W. Keister, of Plainfield, had planned to meet her. For some reason the aged lady failed to leave the train at Joliet and was carried about three-fourths of a mile beyond the station where she was discharged in a desolate section. On leaving the train she fell down an embankment, breaking an ankle bone. Mrs. Coldron had no information in a brief note from her brother how her over 10,000 miles by motor. The north-left here by the Greyhound bus on Wednesday noon.

L. FRANK MAYES
COLLEGE TWP.

1. 44 years a worker for the Regular Republican Party.
2. Served one term as County Treasurer.
3. Asks what he believes to be a just reward for his unswerving loyalty in his years of service to the Republican Party.

Facts from the Record

BOND C. WHITE
SPRING TWP.

1. A registered voter for 17 years.
2. 8 of these 17 years a public office holder at a salary exceeding $4000 yearly.
3. A Political Opportunist — evidenced by frequent changes of political allies.

The above summary is the background upon which both Republican Candidates for the Office of Prothonotary base their campaigns for nomination.

Will you, as registered voters of the Republican Party continue to favor a man who has already been so handsomely paid for his services of questionable value to party strength and unity? OR, WILL YOU, as a reward for one who has given the best years of his life in the interest of the Regular Republican Party, go to the Polls on Primary Day and cast your VOTE for L. FRANK MAYES for YOUR Prothonotary.

Note: Due to an operation Mr. Mayes has not been able to conduct an active, personal campaign. However, he is now able to be about, and WIN or LOSE, Frank takes this opportunity of thanking all his friends for their support.

THE BURSAR SUBMITS TO THE WAYS OF POLITICIANS

Here is an item to be studied. It comes from Lock Haven and refers to the Teachers' College there:

"Trustees were quoted as saying Horace W. Clark, present bursar, resigned voluntarily when it became apparent to him that a change in the bursarship would be in accord with the political set-up in the county. He took the position 18 months ago after serving as commander of the State Run COC Camp for four years."
