FLY'S POINT OF VIEW

"Who was the meanest man?"
"The fellow that invented fly."

TREAT

One day Betty went downtown. She had tokens to go on but no money to spend. On her return she confided to her mother.
"I fared pretty well to be broke. First, I received a free sample of gum on the street, then a taste of crackerjack in a store, then a drink. After a free spray of perfume I weighed myself for nothing and came home."

HOW ABOUT NOW?

"I was in Chicago a year ago and I met a lot of live people out there."
"Yes, but that was a year ago."

SHATTERED

The futurist artist was visiting the home of his only patron.
"By the way," said the patron, "did you hear about the burglary that occurred here the other night?"
"No," said the artist. "Did they get away with much?"
"A few bits of jewelry," said the other. "And you know that picture I bought from you. They cut it out of its frame, and—"
The artist gave a cry of delight.
"Good! My fortune's made," he said. "This is just the sort of advertisement I want."
"And," continued the patron lightly, "they took the frame and left the picture."

Not a Chance

The caller knocked at the door.
"Is Mr. Smith in?" he asked.
"Yes, he is," replied the lady of the house.
"That's fine," said the visitor. "Maybe I can collect the money he owes me."
Mrs. Smith smiled scornfully.
"You're an optimist," she said. "If my husband had any money he wouldn't be in."

A KINDLY WARNING

He—Ignorance is bliss.
She—Then you should be very careful as you come into a full realization of your happiness — you might die of joy.

Last Time

Bjones—How are you getting on with your courtship of Miss Cherry?
Drudi—Oh, just fine.
Bjones—I'm glad to hear that. I heard her father objected to you. Has he changed his mind?
Drudi—Oh, yes; he must have. When he kicked me down the front steps last night he said it was for the last time.

Good Answer

Warden—Don't you know that the bass season is closed? What are you doing with that big one on your line?
McFall—Well, you see, Warden, it was this way. He's been stealing my bait all morning, so I just tied him up until I get ready to go home.

Keeping Dry

Billy and Bud were having fun taking a shower bath with the hose and playing in a tub of water. Suddenly it began to rain and Billy said:
"Oh, it is going to rain and mother said for me to come home if it rained."

Same Things

Father—My son, I won't have you constantly at the bottom of the class as you are—
Aged Seven (bored)—Can't see it matters, myself, Pa. They teach the same thing at both ends.

Real Portrait

Mrs. Bjones—And the portrait will be real pretty?
Artist—Of course. You won't know yourself.

No! No!

Mabel (after Frank's proposal)—No! A thousand times, no!
Frank—Well, don't rub it in. I only asked you once.

NOT ALTOGETHER AN EVIL

"You don't seem to mind having that scarlet fever sign on your house at all."
"Well, there hasn't been a collector at the door since it was put up."

Same Thing?

Cryeng—There goes a fellow who seems to take the worst possible view of everything.
Holowyng—Is he a pessimist, then?
Cryeng—No; he's a candid camera fiend.

Warning

Mrs. B started out to get a curl put in her hair and was amused to hear Mr. B call out after her:
"Don't get an Angora wave put in."

HOW TO SEW

by Ruth Wyeth Spears

Patchwork pot holders hanging in a row.

A GREEN and white kitchen is as fresh and crisp as a lettuce leaf. I stepped into one the other day with white walls, green floor and green organdy curtains. Everything was green and white, and over the stove hung a set of patchwork pot holders like a row of bright green and white tiles. All of us love old quilt patterns. For those who do not have time to make quilts, here is a modern use for your favorite designs.

Perhaps you were put to bed as a child under this eight-pointed star? The sketch gives the dimensions for the patterns for the two triangles used in making it for the pot holder. Piece eight small squares of two triangles; then eight oblong blocks of three triangles. A layer of sheet wadding is used for padding. The backing for the holder is white. The three layers are quilted together by sewing just inside the white triangles of the pieced top.

Whistler Couldn't Pass Up Opportunity to Use Bailiffs

Mrs. A. M. Moncrieff, who has just celebrated her eighty-eighth birthday, knew many of the great Victorians in the days when, as Nita Gaetano, she was a celebrated singer—and tells some good stories about them.

Once she dined with Whistler, the famous artist, whose pictures now sell for fabulous sums. Two manservants were waiting at table.

"You must be doing well, selling a lot of paintings," she remarked, a little surprised that Whistler should "splash" in this way.

"No," whispered her host. "They're bailiffs. I thought they might as well be doing something useful."

Strange Facts

Prying Railroads Home Products Desert Increase

In the early days of the railroads, travelers often aroused suspicion and station agents frequently asked them personal questions. But the Liverpool & Manchester railway went further. Up to 1837 this road made each passenger fill out a ticket application that not only asked his name, address and the purpose of his trip, but also his age, occupation and place of birth.

In "The Westphalian Last Supper," a stained-glass window in St. Mary's cathedral in Soest, Westphalia, Germany, Christ and His disciples are depicted in their customary places at the table, eating Westphalian ham and pumpernickel and drinking Westphalian beer and kummel.

Scattered throughout England are some 400 "camping coaches," or remodeled railroad cars, in which about 50,000 persons each year spend their summer vacations. The coaches, permanently located on beautiful country sidings, accommodate private parties of from 4 to 10 and cost from $10 to $25 a week, which includes linen and tableware.

Soil erosion, now ravaging a large part of the world on a scale unparalleled in history, is believed to have formed about a million square miles of new desert in the past 25 years.—Collier's.
