UNDOING NEW DEAL WORK
FOUND NOT SO POPULAR
Republican candidates for office who during their campaigns blithely made promises to undo everything New Deal administrations had accomplished, have found on election that the task was not so easy, and does not bring happy results politically. One case of this kind is that of Governor Arthur H. James of Pennsylvania.

But let the political correspondent of the strongly Republican Cleveland News, who was sent to Pennsylvania to appraise the situation tell the story.
"James is having some rough sledding," he writes, "and it is too early to tell now what the final judgment on him will be as a success or failure. He went into office pledged to undo the gigantic New Deal machine built there by Senator Joseph P. Guffey and former Governor George Earle. He promised to slash taxes and get the state government back on a business basis."

"He balanced the budget chiefly by cutting relief appropriations to the bone and signing a 'no work no relief' bill. This has caused an uproar in Pennsylvania, even among some of his closest political friends, and some Republicans predict that he must summon the legislature in special session soon to re-enact all the taxes which during the campaign he abhorred."

"His election ended the C. I. O. domination of Pennsylvania state labor legislation. His secretary of labor

Her husband, Samuel Weaver, survives with a daughter and two sons; Mrs. Helen Williams, Joseph I. and Malcolm, all of State College, and two grandchildren, Mrs. Mary Glenn of State College and L. P. Brisbin of Tyrone, are surviving brother and sister. Funeral services were held at the home Monday afternoon, and interment was made in the Pine Hill cemetery.

REDDING.—Complications following a fractured hip which he suffered in a fall last June proved fatal Sunday evening to Lawrence Redding, 75, one of Snow Shoe's best-known residents and for many years proprietor of the Mountain House hotel there.

Mr. Redding had spent about six weeks in a hospital after injuring his hip, and since that time had been at home.

His wife passed away in 1937. Surviving are these children: Thomas, Mrs. Leo Kelly and Miss Marcella, all of Snow Shoe.

Mr. Redding was a member of St. Mary's Catholic church of Snow Shoe, where funeral services will be held this (Thursday) morning, with Rev. Father J. F. Connelly officiating. Burial will be made in St. Mary's cemetery.

NEW VOCATIONAL SCHOOL AT LOGANTON DEDICATED

Formal dedication of the $50,000 addition to the Sugar Valley Vocational School building at Loganton was held in the Evangelical church at Loganton, Friday evening.

Bernard Daye spoke for the school while county superintendent Newton E. Bartzges spoke for the county educational unit. A. V. Martin of Harrisburg, adviser, Agricultural Education, State Department of Public Instruction, was the evening speaker.

Gilbert W. Hancock is principal of the Sugar Valley Vocational School. The others on the teaching staff are Miss Helen Tussey, Miss Mabel Kittle George S. Mumma and Allen Lamey. is an American Federation of Labor man. But the Republican legislature has angered both the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L. by tightening up the state's injunctive laws, by curbing sit-down strikes and generally putting the clamps on labor as few other states in the union have done."
The James presidential boom, the correspondent says, is being engineered by Joseph N. Pew of Philadelphia, the Sun Oil magnate, Ernest T. Weil of Pittsburgh, the steel man, and Joseph R. Grundy, the apostle of high tariff and representative of the textile interests.

"HIGH" SOCCER TEAM SCORES EASILY OFF HUBLERSBURG

Despite the fact that three players were not available, due to low grades, the Centre Hall-Potter high school soccer team easily defeated a scrappy Hublersburg high eleven by the score of 4 to 0, Friday afternoon on the local high school field. From the very beginning of the contest the Tigers took the lead when Bob Faust, playing an inside right position, took a centered ball from the wing to score. George Martz then tallied with a well-executed boot from the wing position to make the score 2 to 0. In the second quarter, Dean Bradford, on a pass from the outside, was able to tally the third goal. Late in the second period, Bradford again scored by driving the ball through the posts for the fourth and final score of the game. During the remainder of the game the Centre Hall-Potter booters resorted to a strong defensive type of play which was able to ward off all of the visitors' desperate efforts. Donald McCormick, John Knarr and Dean Smith were outstanding defensively, while the entire line of Martz, Ralston, Bradford, Faust and Harter are to be congratulated for their work which brought about the victory. The win over Hublersburg enabled the orange and black squad to enter the tie for first place with Spring Mills, Millheim and State College.

Due to conflicting dates, the big game of the year, that with Spring Mills, will take place on Thursday, October 12, at Spring Mills, in place of Friday, October 13. Although the Gregg township squad includes many veterans, plus the services of Kenneth Runkle, a former star for Centre Hall, the local players will be attempting to make up in aggressiveness what they lack in experience in their attempt to dethrone the 1938 champions.

"Get ready for Spring Mills" is the slogan of the Tigers this week; and with loss, or draw, this particular game promises to be one of the best of the soccer season.
