Townsend Rally

A Townsend rally held in the school auditorium on Tuesday evening and sponsored by the Penns and Brush Valley Townsend Clubs was largely attended, the auditorium being filled to capacity. The meeting was opened with a concert by the Spring Mills band. Harry A. Corman gave the address of welcome. C. L. Nonemaker of Altoona gave a short address and introduced the principal speaker, Dr. Joseph E. Robb, of Lewistown, National Representative. Dr. Robb delivered a forceful and convincing address on the Townsend Recovery Act, and won a lot of applause. The program was interspersed by piano solos and vocal selections. Walter S. Auman, chairman of the committee, deserves credit for making this event a success.

Birthdays at Burns Run Cabin.—A dinner served at noon was the feature of a birthday party held Sunday at the Burns Run cabin in the Allegheny Mountains in honor of Mrs. Willard Hettlinger of Spring Mills, whose anniversary birthday fell a few days later. The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rhoads and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Jordon, all of Coleville; Mrs. C. D. Conder and son, Dale, Mr. and Mrs. George Goodhart, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Emery and family, Howard Reed, and Fern Michaels, all of Centre Hall.

Mrs. Adam Heckman, who is living with her brother, Prof. W. P. Hosterman, at Penn Hall, is confined to bed much of the time by illness.

Catharine Meyer, 6, Injures Shoulder.—A fall from a sliding board on the Gregg township school grounds, Spring Mills, proved disastrous to Catharine, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ardell Meyer. An x-ray examination at the Centre County hospital showed the socket bone in one shoulder cracked, causing much pain to the child until properly bandaged.

Grandmother of Mrs. Johnson Dies.—Mrs. Matilda Catherman, 86, of Hartleton, died Thursday night after a five-day illness with a complication of diseases and infirmities of age. She was a lifelong resident of that section. Mrs. Catherman was a member of the Hartleton Methodist church.

Surviving are the following sons and daughters: Alfred Catherman and Harry Catherman, of Hartley township; Curtin Catherman, of Hartleton; Wm. Catherman, at home; Mrs. J. P. Neff of Millburg; Oliver Catherman of Lewis township and Mrs. Clayton Hackenberg of Limestone township. She was the grandmother of Mrs. Miles Johnson of Spring Mills. Almost up to the time of her death Mrs. Catherman was able to take care of her home.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the home, followed by services in the Hartleton Lutheran church. Interment was made in the adjoining cemetery.

Grover C. Musser and John Albright are engaged in concrete and carpenter work improvements at the farm barn of John A. Hosterman, near Penn Hall. The barn, in the former Hering farm, is being put in condition to meet requirements of the milk inspection division of the State.

Spring Mills Girl Becomes Bride.—On Monday evening, October 2, at 9 o'clock, Harry E. Auman, son of Harry Auman of Woodward, and Saphrona Hester Guisewhite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Guisewhite, of Spring Mills, were united in marriage by the Rev. H. A. Houseal in the Evangelical parsonage, the ring ceremony being used. For the present the couple will reside at the bridegroom's home in Woodward.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR NEEDY AND DESERVING GIRLS

Opportunities for work and vocational training will be given to needy and deserving girls in Pennsylvania through expansion of the National Youth Administration's resident work center program, it was announced a few days ago by Walter S. Cowing, State NYA administrator.

At various points in the State, notably New Castle, Lawrence county, West Chester, Chester county, and Shippensburg, Franklin county, these centers have been set up in school buildings, converted dormitories, and halls. They are places where from 20 to 50 girls live and work in a cooperative society under supervision of a resident center director.

The girls devote 80 hours per month to some type of public work such as making hospital supplies and linens or visual education aids. An additional 80 hours are spent in related training with emphasis upon domestic science, home economics, and household management.

Each resident work center is sponsored by some local public agency while the training program in most instances is under direction of the State Department of Public Instruction and State Teacher College officials.

These youths earn $30 a month, $20 of which is returned for maintenance, assistance, medical aid, and other costs. Enrollment periods at the centers vary from four to twelve months with six or eight months the average length.

To be eligible for NYA resident work center youth must be between the ages of 18 and 24 and be members of families certified as in need of public assistance. Application should be made to the NYA supervisor, W. I. Scott, County Supervisor NYA, Bellefonte, Pa.

TUSSEYVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kline and Herbert Garis and family spent Sunday with the former's daughter, Mrs. John Stoner and family, near State College.

W. A. Wagner of Juniata spent Friday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Anna Rossman.

John and Mary Fortney were Sunday dinner guests at the G. G. Hastings home at Avis.

Miss Charlotte Meyer of Philadelphia spent some time at the home of her mother, Mrs. Wm. Meyer, who has been on the sick list.

86 degrees hot on Monday. That's plenty hot!

HORSE PULLING RECORD The Pennsylvania pulling record for teams of horses weighing more than 3000 pounds has been broken for the fourth time this year. C. A. Burne, livestock extension specialist at the Pennsylvania State College, announced a few days ago. The new record was set by the team of Roscoe Mitchell, of Waterford, in the final contest of the season, the Waterford Community Fair. Mitchell was responsible for all four new records during the year, raising the mark from 3500 to 3625 pounds. The next contest will be at the Pennsylvania Farm Show next January.

HIGHWAY PROJECTS AND MEN AT WORK IN DIST. NO. 2-0 In this district, designated District No. 2-0, comprised of the counties of Centre, Clearfield, Clinton, Cameron, Elk, McKean and Potter, sufficient jobs to require the services of 4435 men on State highway work have been set up. As of October 4, the WPA has furnished 2238 men, leaving a shortage of 2247 men.

This is an increase of 141 over last week. The placing of bituminous surface is being given preference over all other work, and it is hoped to complete this work prior to November 1.

Two taproom licenses in State College held by Paul C. Boeger, 67 Allen street, and C. E. Linker, Beaver avenue, have been revoked. However, on Saturday, Judge Walker in Centre county court, granted a temporary injunction staying the order of the State Liquor Control Board. A hearing will be held November 6 to determine whether or not the injunction should be made permanent.
