

Spring Mills

A COLLECTION OF NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND PERSONALS FROM GREGG TWP.'S METROPOLIS.

Friday's weather was a combination of May and March. Temperatures were high for this time of the year early in the afternoon and a few hours later a typical "March gale" swept our town. Violets and dandelions are reported blooming along the roadside with the 21st, the shortest day, and Christmas, around the corner, and Spring not too far away.

A large number were present at the regular meeting of Townsend Club No. 1 on Wednesday evening. Carl Hassenpflug of Millburg was guest speaker and delivered a very forceful and convincing address, while his daughter, Miss Miriam Hassenpflug, rendered a few vocal solos. The Happy Five entertainers of Smulton gave a fine musical program.

A delegation of 46 Townsend Club members from this area were to Lewistown to hear Dr. Francis E. Townsend and Senator Sheridan Downey, last Friday evening, and reported a very fine time.

Mrs. Abraham Grassmire is on the sick list at this writing.

Harold Brungart of Pleasant Gap visited his mother, Mrs. Lulu Brungart, last Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Carrie Long left on Sunday for an extended trip to Florida.

Mrs. Wm. H. Smith is confined to her room with arthritis.

Miss Mildred Lundy of Williamsport was a week-end guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albin Jacobson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ziegler made a trip to Clearfield last Sunday.

Gerald Bressler, 12 years old, shot his first buck last week, a 3-pointer.

Social activities have been flourishing for the last few weeks in the way of old time butchering activities.

On the first morning of the deer season Clair Houser brought down a 12-point buck on Brush Mountain which is a fine specimen of a deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Brungart and son Billie of Loganport were Sunday guests at the Albin Jacobson home.

Walter S. Auman suffered minor injuries and his car damaged on Monday morning while enroute to Bellefonte. While driving down the north side of Centre Hall mountain Mr. Auman pulled too far to the right side of the road to permit an approaching car to pass and struck the berm and upset his car.

GREGG TWP. SCHOOL NEWS

School Christmas Programs—The grade schools at Spring Mills will hold their annual Christmas program in the school auditorium on Thursday afternoon, December 21 at 2 p. m. The four lower grades will conduct the major part of the program this year, with the upper four grades participating in the music. Parents and others who are interested are invited to this program. A silver offering will be taken to defray the expenses of the program.

High School Program—The high school Christmas program will be held at 9:00 a. m. in the school auditorium on Friday, December 22. The senior class is in charge of this assembly as in past years. Gifts will be exchanged at the close of the program. Parents and other persons who care to attend are welcome.

League Basketball on Dec. 19 and 22—The Gregg basketball teams will play two Centre-Clinton basketball League games at home the week before Christmas. The first game will be on Tuesday, December 19 when boys' and girls' teams from Howard high will be met, and on Friday, Dec. 22, the Centre Hall high teams will visit Spring Mills. Games are scheduled for 7:30 p. m.; admission 10 and 15c. The teams will appreciate a good turnout for the opening League games. Howard high boys have practically the same team they have had for the last three years and for that reason they are expecting an exceptionally good season. Centre Hall lost a number from last year's squad, but expect to have a bigger team than last year, and possibly a better balanced club. Girls squads from both schools will be strong this year.

TUSSEYVILLE

The young people of the Union church will present a sacred Christmas play titled "On the Road to Bethlehem," in the auditorium of the church at 8 o'clock Thursday evening, December 21.

Wm. Dashem of Warren was at his home over the week-end.

Mrs. Fred Klinefelter returned home from the Centre County hospital on Friday.

Roy Martz of Lewistown and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Smith of Rebersburg attended the butchering at the W. S. Martz home Saturday.

Mrs. Alwilda Biltney spent several days with her sister, Mrs. Anna Rossmann.

J. C. McClenahan and twin sons, Russell and Percy, of Trotters, North Dakota, are visiting the former's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Orvis Horner of Colyer. It is his first trip East since he left here thirty-five years ago.

CENTRE CO. 4-H LAMB CLUB ROUND-UP TO BE HELD

Centre County 4-H club members are looking forward to Saturday of this week when the Lamb Feeding Club will have their county round-up. According to Donald Smith of Centre Hall, president of the club, the round up will be held in the Livestock judging pavilion at State College. Club members will bring their lambs to the pavilion and be ready to have them judged at 1:30 p. m.

Donald states that six out of the seventeen Centre county members will be eligible to exhibit at the Farm Show at Harrisburg. The other eleven members are planning to sell their lambs on Tuesday, December 19, at the livestock auction, Williamsport, along with Clinton county. Members of the club who are working hard to win the coveted blue ribbons are as follows: from Centre Hall, Ray Delaney, Dean and Inez Luse, Junior McClenahan, Lynn Miller, John Rimmer, Dean and Donald Ross, Reeder Sharer; James Gilliland, Oak Hall; Wm. Hess, Boolsburg; Helen Homan, State College; Eugene Martin, Penn Furnace; John Musser, State College; Wilma Peters, Stormstown; Dan Sterna, Lemont.

Officers and club leaders are anxious for anyone interested to attend the round-up.

Centre County Bankers' Association for a number of years has backed the Lamb Club by contributing prizes and are anticipating doing the same again this year.

This is the fifteenth year that Centre county boys and girls had a 4-H Lamb Club and are looking forward to the close of another successful year.

Going down—the temperature. Monday night mercury dropped to 15 degrees above zero. And next Thursday winter will be officially with us.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders from The Penn'a State College School of Agriculture

Feeding Laying Hens—A sound feeding program for laying hens calls for a complete and well-balanced ration a workable feeding system, and a skilled manager, poultry specialists at Pennsylvania State College have found. Satisfactory production cannot be expected if the ration, the system or the person doing the feeding is faulty.

Farm Woodlots—The amount of farmland in timber in Pennsylvania is increasing annually. Penn State forestry specialists remind farmers planning to expand their woodlots that now is the time to order trees for planting next spring.

New Fruit Class—A new feature in the fruit division at the State Farm Show this winter will be the commercial class for eastern boxes of 1-1-1 to 1-1-8 bushel capacity, report fruit experts at Penn State. The class will make possible an excellent presentation of the quality of Pennsylvania's apples as they reach the market.

Oats for Laying Hens—Many Pennsylvania poultrymen have found that permitting the fowls access to a hopper of oats in the laying pen largely prevents picking and feather pulling. Penn State poultry extension specialists report.

Growing Greenhouse Tomatoes—Growers of greenhouse tomatoes select varieties that produce fruits uniform in size, smooth, free from cracks, and that give large yields. Demonstrations indicate that Michigan State Forcing and Long Calyx Forcing are among the best vegetable specialists at Penn State say.

Burning Wood—Penn State foresters say that a cord of dry blocky, ironwood, black locust, or white oak has as much or greater fuel value than a ton of good grade soft coal.

OUTLOOK CHEERS SHOPPERS IN PENNSYLVANIA

Christmas shoppers in Pennsylvania this year can be thankful for industrial conditions that are vastly brighter than a year ago, according to comparative figures of the Pennsylvania Business Survey of the Pennsylvania State College.

Although conditions were improving during December a year ago, the index of industrial activity was still slightly below 75, while this year the index had already reached 88.5 in October and was still rising.

Based on October and November business conditions throughout the state, the latest monthly report of the Business Survey, which is prepared by the division of economics at Penn State, predicted that this December would be Pennsylvania's best December in general industrial activity since 1925.

The upturn in Pennsylvania has been uninterrupted since last May. October increases over a year ago included the following: index of industrial activity, 33.7 per cent; factory payrolls, 34 per cent; factory employment, 15 per cent; bank deposits, 9 per cent; carloadings, 36 per cent; bituminous production, 44 per cent; and motor vehicle sales, 58 per cent.

Importance of a Check--

The bank checks may RESEMBLE merely a "scrap of paper," but it is MORE than that. It represents MONEY, CREDIT. It is now more than a printed slip of paper.

Many operations are necessary in order to transfer credit by means of a check. Millions of checks are circulating every day in the course of ordinary business. Yet handling checks is only a PART of the service our Bank renders the public. In every way we strive to do a sound, satisfactory banking business.
