

The Star & Sentinel.

Wednesday, July 10, 1867.

300, HENRY W. WILLIAMS, OF ALLEGANY COUNTY.

TO OUR PATRONS.

We have had little or nothing to say about ourselves, since the change in the management of the paper—partly because we preferred to have the improvements we may introduce from time to time speak for themselves, and partly because of the difficulties under which we have been laboring, by reason of the general condition of our office. We had expected long ere this to be in our new office, but the work has been unexpectedly delayed. The new building is, however, now fairly under way, and in a few days we expect to be able to move into it, when we hope to be able to move more comfortably. In the meantime we have made such improvements in the paper as we found practicable, and hope from time to time to make still more marked ones. It is our purpose to spare neither labor nor expense to make the "Star and Sentinel" one of the best journals in the State, and every way worthy of the generous patronage it already enjoys. We have already been heavy expensers in the erection of a new office, and the purchase of new type, paper, &c. A number of subscribers have manifested their appreciation of our efforts, by promptly pre-paying their subscriptions, and we should be pleased to acknowledge similar compliments from all our patrons. We have already been heavy expensers in the erection of a new office, and the purchase of new type, paper, &c. A number of subscribers have manifested their appreciation of our efforts, by promptly pre-paying their subscriptions, and we should be pleased to acknowledge similar compliments from all our patrons.

CONGRESS—ADJOURNMENT.

The promulgation with which the Republican members of Congress reported at the opening of the adjourned session on Wednesday last, indicates the temper of the people, (whom the members represent) and whose views they reflect, in the present national crisis. When Congress adjourned in the spring, it was understood that there would be no session in July, unless some unexpected difficulties in the work of reconstruction should arise, imperatively requiring additional legislation. The Sherman-Military Bill, it was thought, would accomplish everything necessary to bring the South to terms. For a while all went well, under the efficient administration of the law by General Sheridan, Eckles, Ford, and the other Commanders of the Southern military districts. Leading citizens of the South, Rebel and Union, were rapidly giving in their adhesion to the terms prescribed by Congress, while contumacious State and Municipal officials like William Wirtz and Mosier, were promptly displaced and loyal men substituted. Everything gave promise of an early adjournment of our national difficulties, and a meeting of Congress in July was thought unnecessary. Attorney General SHERMAN, however, in his report of judicial interpreters of congressional enactments, a weeks ago undertook to arrest the work of reconstruction, in a lengthy legal opinion, by which the Sherman bill was emasculated of its essential vitality. This was followed by official instructions from the President, endorsing the Attorney General's heavy expensers in the erection of a new office, and the purchase of new type, paper, &c. A number of subscribers have manifested their appreciation of our efforts, by promptly pre-paying their subscriptions, and we should be pleased to acknowledge similar compliments from all our patrons.

OUR PLATFORM.

The Republican Press of the States has a most cordial endorsement of the admirable series of Resolutions adopted by the recent Republican National Convention, and which we published in full last week. The Philadelphia Press says the platform, "in its strong, vigorous language and earnest loyalty, reflecting the devotion and patriotism of the party, augurs success. In contrast with the Harrisonian abortion it is the living, breathing man, pulsating with life and energy, and of a cold color. It tells of a party fighting for an end, and that end their country, and not of a clique of ruined and disheartened politicians. Positive and clear in all its positions, and its words fairly ringing, it is a power in itself. Our platform will carry a candid vote. The Democratic resolution will sink one. That is the difference." The resolutions, it will be remembered, open with one demanding security against future rebellion and civil war. The second condemns the administration of ANDREW JOHNSON because he has been faithless to his trust in falling back not even trying to gather up and file the organic and statute law of the land, the great principles which the war has settled. The third declares that reconstruction must be so well completed that traitors driven from the field shall not find refuge in the courts, and that laws shall not be tortured in the interest of treason. The fourth endorses severely the reconstruction measures of the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses. The fifth threatens penalties and thanks of the State to Major Generals PHIL SHERIDAN and DANIEL E. SICKLES. The sixth censures President JOHNSON for his dilatory use of the pardoning power against the traitors. The seventh, and it is for the day the most important, declares that, warned by past misfortunes, it is demanded that the Supreme Court of the State be placed in harmony with the political opinions of a majority of the people, to the end that the court may never again, by unjust decisions, seek to set aside laws vital to the nation, nor imperil the safety of the public securities, nor impair the operation of the pension, bounty, and tax laws which were required for the public defence. Democratic partisanship already secured decisions from the bench against our legal tender—against the draft—against the right of the Government to protect itself. This we do not intend shall happen again. Democratic partisanship on the bench is what we are called upon to prevent. The State of this year, and the discussion of its history will be the key-note of the campaign. The eighth declares that the honorable contrast to the Harrisonian equivocation, in favor of a protective tariff that shall foster Pennsylvania industry. The ninth unhesitatingly calls for a free railroad law. The tenth is complimentary to Gov. JOHN W. GEARY. The eleventh is an emphatic and hearty endorsement of the continued gratitude of the people to the soldiers and sailors of the war for the suppression of rebellion, and commends the tardy action of the Treasury department in executing the bounty laws of 1865.

COMPLIMENTARY.

We are under obligations to our brethren of the Press for the many kind words of encouragement and flattering notices which the consolidation of the Star and Sentinel has drawn forth. We annex a few extracts from the large number lying on our table, simply that our readers may be told what is said of the new paper abroad—omitting much that our modesty will not permit us to publish. We will say for these compliments, published with life and energy, and of a cold color. It tells of a party fighting for an end, and that end their country, and not of a clique of ruined and disheartened politicians. Positive and clear in all its positions, and its words fairly ringing, it is a power in itself. Our platform will carry a candid vote. The Democratic resolution will sink one. That is the difference." The resolutions, it will be remembered, open with one demanding security against future rebellion and civil war. The second condemns the administration of ANDREW JOHNSON because he has been faithless to his trust in falling back not even trying to gather up and file the organic and statute law of the land, the great principles which the war has settled. The third declares that reconstruction must be so well completed that traitors driven from the field shall not find refuge in the courts, and that laws shall not be tortured in the interest of treason. The fourth endorses severely the reconstruction measures of the Thirty-ninth and Fortieth Congresses. The fifth threatens penalties and thanks of the State to Major Generals PHIL SHERIDAN and DANIEL E. SICKLES. The sixth censures President JOHNSON for his dilatory use of the pardoning power against the traitors. The seventh, and it is for the day the most important, declares that, warned by past misfortunes, it is demanded that the Supreme Court of the State be placed in harmony with the political opinions of a majority of the people, to the end that the court may never again, by unjust decisions, seek to set aside laws vital to the nation, nor imperil the safety of the public securities, nor impair the operation of the pension, bounty, and tax laws which were required for the public defence. Democratic partisanship already secured decisions from the bench against our legal tender—against the draft—against the right of the Government to protect itself. This we do not intend shall happen again. Democratic partisanship on the bench is what we are called upon to prevent. The State of this year, and the discussion of its history will be the key-note of the campaign. The eighth declares that the honorable contrast to the Harrisonian equivocation, in favor of a protective tariff that shall foster Pennsylvania industry. The ninth unhesitatingly calls for a free railroad law. The tenth is complimentary to Gov. JOHN W. GEARY. The eleventh is an emphatic and hearty endorsement of the continued gratitude of the people to the soldiers and sailors of the war for the suppression of rebellion, and commends the tardy action of the Treasury department in executing the bounty laws of 1865.

GENERAL NEWS.

Mr. Samuel Gallova has written a letter declining the Republican nomination for Lieutenant Governor of Ohio. The Fourth of July was celebrated in all the European capitals by the resident and visiting Americans. Many have given a majority of over 18,000 votes for a more stringent liquor law, out of a total vote of nearly 50,000. The Pittsburg Post, a Democratic paper, advises its readers, in case Grant is nominated for President by the Republicans, to disregard party ideas and vote for him. Wm. Wood, a colored man, deliberately cut his wife's throat with a razor, as a colored man, at Roseton, N. Jersey, on the 4th. Cause, jealousy. Hon. Alvin Flansburg, Republican, has been elected Congressional Delegate from Washington Territory. Congressmen Pomroy and Judd were arrested and fined in Washington on the Fourth, for "shooting" fire-crackers in the street. Hon. James W. Wayne, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the U. States, died at Washington on Friday last. He was appointed by Gen. Jackson. From Rebel War we learn that the parties who left the Rebel States on the close of the rebellion to settle in that country, are suffering greatly. This fact is now made public by the Military Commission that convicted Mrs. Surratt recommended her to the mercy of President Johnson. A new attempt will be made to connect Europe and America by cable. This time it will be undertaken by a French-American Company, which will lay a cable between Brest and some point on the American coast. General THOMAS FRANCIS MEAGHER, Secretary and Acting Governor of Montana Territory, fell from the deck of the steamer Thompson, at Fort Benton, on the evening of July 7, and was drowned. Advertisers from Utah state that three of Brigham Young's false apostles, the president of the dozen among them, have become apostates and have been cut off from the church. Gov. Geary has appointed Colonel H. M. Hoyt, of Wilkesbarre, an additional law judge of the several courts in the Eleventh Judicial District, under an act passed by the last Legislature. The President has tendered the Governor of our recent purchase from Russia to Hon. Benjamin Stark, of New London, Connecticut, lately a Democratic Senator from Oregon. It is understood that those members of Congress who are in opposition to the administration of Mr. Johnson, have informally agreed not to press their consideration at the present session, but to endeavor to have Congress convened on the third Wednesday in October next, for the express purpose of taking it up at that time. The amount of gold in the vaults of the Treasury Department on the 1st inst. was $108,000,000, of which amount $10,000,000 is payable on certificates. This amount will be reduced this month by the payment of interest on 50,000 bond notes, in all amounting to $18,000,000. An arrival at New Orleans brings intelligence that Santa Anna was shot on the 25th inst. by order of the Judge Advocate General. Vera Cruz surrendered without bloodshed to the Liberals on the 27th ult., and the captured soldiers—the Foreign Legion—were sent to Mexico. Santa Anna's mission to Mexico was for the purpose of placing himself at the head of the Government. Rochester, July 5.—During the performance at the Circus of Messrs. Thayer & Noyes, last evening, Elias White, the Lion King, was the cause of a serious alarm. One of the tigers attacked him, killing him to the floor of the arena, and fastening his jaws upon his throat, inflicting serious wounds. The circus men tried to rescue with iron bars, and finally succeeded in getting White away from the enraged animal. The Crops Abroad.—The London Mercantile Gazette surveys the various grain countries of Europe, and in England all look well, and no deficiency is apprehended. In Paris the stock of flour is the largest ever held, amounting to 800,000 cwt. Considerable shipments are making to England direct from France, but the United Kingdom is mainly dependent on the Black Sea ports. A Kentucky correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette has a poor opinion of the loyalty of that State, that he says, "Jefferson Davis is a candidate for President to-day, and earnestly devoted, like his senior, to the cause of Loyalty and Freedom. The new paper will bear the title of 'The Star and Sentinel,' and 'in union there is strength,' we may hope, as we cordially wish for the success of the Republican party in the political state of Adams county—York Reporter.

Local Items.

THE FOURTH.—No preparations having been made for a celebration of the 4th in this place, numerous Pic-Nics were the order of the day. The visiting military, however, prepared, and our streets on the morning of the 4th presented an animated appearance. On Wednesday, a detachment of the New York 14th, numbering about 50 men, under the command of Major McNEER, accompanied by Major BOON of Brooklyn, and representative of the City Council, and escorted by the "Ziegler Guards," of York, under command of Capt. IVEY, reached Gettysburg in the evening train. They were met by a committee of citizens, and marched to the Court-house, where they were presented to the Burgess, R. G. McCREARY, Esq., by Col. C. H. BUEHLER, Chairman of the Committee. Mr. McCREARY, accompanied by the Col. and a number of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon, and the national colors, on behalf of the citizens, extended to the visitors a cordial welcome to the town, which had been immortalized by the heroism of the defenders of the Union in the struggle of July, 1863, in which the 14th New York fell. The Fourth was ushered in with firing of cannon