COUNTY AUDITOR, ALBERT M. HUNTER, Gettysburg bor. ELECTION-TUESDAY, OCTOBER 8

THE temporary defeat of the Republicans in California, by divisions and trouble in their ranks, is hailed by the Democratic and Rebel Presses throughout the country, North and South, as a perfect God-send. They have been so accustomed to defeat and disaster since the firing on Fort Sumpter, that their joy over this little victory finds the most jubilant expression. True they had some little comfort in the battle of the Wilberness. and the first and second fights at Bull Run, where the Union armies met with disaster; but the victories of Vicksburg and Gettysburg sealed the fate of the Rebellion-since which the Democracy have met with nothing but disaster in the field and at the ballot box. Thankful for small favors, the news from California is hailed with exstacy; and down South, through the entire Rebel camp, as in that of their friends of the North, there is most extravagant rejoicing. Every Rebel and Democratic exchange that we open is jubilant over the California election, and for the same reason. It is regarded as a reverse to the Union cause and a triumph of the enemies of the Republic. Their rejoicing, however, will be short-lived .-The Republicans of California, taught by this reverse the folly of dissensions and divisions will close up their ranks and in the next contest show their strength in the utter rout of their now jubilant enemies. The Republicans of the Union will answer by re-producing at the ballot-box a victory as decisive and overwhelming, as that which led to the unconditional surrender of the Rebel armies and the overthrow of armed treason.

A RECENT paragraph in the Chicago Times is quite suggestive. It twits SHERIDAN for not having challenged ROUSSEAU when the latter pronounced a statement made by him as false. It states that ROUSSEAU used this language, anticipating a challenge which he would have accepted.

The story is inherently probable, and illustrates the wicked spirit which animates the Democratic leaders. Rous SEAU knows that dueling is specially prohibited by the articles of war which he is bound to obey; yet when he has a chance to wreak vengeance on a political opponent he proposes to break through chance to kill him.

In this way, United States Senator BRODERICK was some years since goaded into a duel and killed, when he had grown offensive to the Democratic leaders who then governed California. The same spirit existed in the South during the war, when large rewards were publicly advertised for the murder of LINCOLN. BUTLER, and others. It exists now all over the South, and finds vent in the most horrid atracities which the military cians as Chauncy Bur and others, who gloat over the assassination of Abrah am | what we can do without trying.

To put such men into power, would be to let loose every bloody passion, and turn the Nation into a Pandemonium.

THE Republican State Committee will which, at the ensuing election, shall show the best return for Hon. HENRY W. WILLIAMS, compared with the vote of last year for Gen. GEAR.

THE Democratic Convention of Alabama, whose resolutions were so ostentatiously paraded all over the country, had five counties, and of the eighty-seven delegates sixty-two were from five counties. The leading men were not there. Knowing that overwhelming defeat awaits the ticipation in it. We give elsewhere some country, than these text books. Democof their resolutions, which will go for what they are worth.

WHY don't the Democratic papers let the people know that GEORGE SHARSwood was a Calhoun man against Jackson in 1832? And why do they suppress all mention of his State Rights Speech proval Vallandigham's speech and artidelivered in 1844? Are they afraid to allow their readers to know the public record of their nominee for one of the highest offices in the State?

THE Vicksburg (Miss.) Herald thinks that if President Johnson does not strike at Congress by preventing its assembling in November, or forcing it to admit the Southern representatives elected under Jounson's Reconstruction, he will be impeached, and ought to be. So the PRESIDENT has fair notice of what is expected of him. .

They then asked the Court to declare as un constitutional the Act of Assembly of Penn. sylvania of 1866, which provides the plan and means, whereby the election officers may carry out the law of Congress, disfranchising Deserters. Again the Court refused to comply with their request; on the contrary, the Judge held that was not the case, and that election boards were bound to obey the law as they found it on the statute book. The Judge informed them that they might go to the Supreme Court for a decision of that question; and further that it would be a shame and a disgrace in any civilized or Christian ounished for obeying the plain provisions f the law.

The Alabama Democrats must half white blood were declared legal voters, and have ever since enjoyed the right of suffrage. This decision was afterwards sustained by the Democratic trong" on flattery of the negro, and party when the new Constitution was framed. The Democracy having enfranchised the mulattoes, the question now s whether all of the race shall be enfranchised. Another issue is financial. The Democracy of Ohio are so much in love with "legal tenders" that they propose to call in all the Government bonds, manufacture two or three millions of greenbacks, and force the holders of the bonds to take them in payment. As the Democratic party has always claimed to be against paper money, this proposition to flood the country and inflate the currency with several millions more, so as to force gold up to four or five hundred per cent. premium, and overwhelm every existing interest, is very remarkable, and would be inexplicable if we did not know that the next move would be to their Southern brethren. ROBERT TOOMES in his letter of June 9th, says: "I regret nothing in the past but the dead and the failure, and I am to-day ready to use the best means I can command to establish the principles for which I fought." * * * "I am stand that? THE Democrats make a howl because

Under the old system, when a Bank broke, the bill-holders were invariably heavy losers. Under the present, they are perfectly safe. Hence, a National Bank failure generally creates very little disturbance in business circles. The Bond-holders lose, but they make the Directors, and if they elect bad men they ought to suffer.

Such Democratic Orators as Vallandigham and Pendleton, who are now stumping Ohio, don't discuss their war record, preferring to treat it as a "bygone." The people, however, cannot forget that they were for the success of the Rebellion which would have destroyed all hope of the perpetuity of free government on this Continent. Men thus guilty don't deserve public confidence, and will not get it.

Dauphin county papers give an interest-ing account of a Centennial Celebration of the organization of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, in Middletown, last week. This church was established in 1767, that locality being at that time one of the outposts of civllization. The deed for the lot on which the town Female Seminary, under care of Rev. church stands is still in existence, bearing Dr. Martin, opened on the 2d inst., with a with the rather singular additional rent of one grain of wheat every year, to be delivered annually on the first day of May. In the same year a petition was sent to King George III, through John Penn, Lieutenant Governor of the Province, praying for the privilege of erecting a church and collecting funds therefor. The required license was given, and the church erected in 1767. It seems from documents still in existence that at that period the Indians were very troublesome, and whenever the inhabitants went to a store, mill, or church, they armed themselves to the teeth. They would stock their arms inside the church and have one person to stand at the door as sentinel to warn the others of approaching danger. The church, since then has had 19 Pastors, including some well known in Gettysburg, viz: Rev. Drs. Lochman, Sadler and Baum, Prof. Ehrehart, &c., Rev. mony of some of our first citizens prove the recent Republican State Convention in Massachusetts, and at its close thus addressed GENTLEMEN of the convention: I need not

kind vote of thanks which you have just passed. I have simply endeavored to do the duties which I know each member of this convention would do if placed here, acting with impartiality and fairness. I want to say a few words, however, before we part, if you. will pardon me a moment. Dr. Loring, in his eloquent remarks today, referred to the test he would put to the Southern States, and that is education. Now I want to say to you, gentlemen, just this: It has been my good fortune to know something of these Southern States. I have devoted some attention during the last few months to their condition, and I tell you that the freedmen of the Southern States are as earnest for education as any man in this convention or among the people of Massachusetts ever can be: [Applause.] Now I want to say another word and I want you to carry it home with you. I heard something said about our misfortune in California.-Why, we are so strong that we can afford to have some places struck out of our control and still not suffer from it. We hear a good deal too, about our losses in Maine and gloomy predictions that the State will yet be lost to us. You might as well talk of losing Vermont. We are about twenty five thousand strong there and we need have no fear of the final result. We have put the ballot into the hands of six hundred thousand black men, true to the country in peace and in war, and I look today with as much confidence to those ix hundred thousand black men enfranchised by the ballot, to carry these Southern States for loyalty, for justice, and humanity, as Napoleon ever did to his Old Guard to carry the victory on his battle-field. And to those gentlemen who are dancing over their little victory in California: who are shouting over the small things in Vermont and Maine, I say to one dollar bill and about ninety dollars in them here to-day—and they can generally believe what I tell them, for I am accustomed to tell the truth-that the Republican party of this Union will carry this autumn seven or eight, and possibly ten, but not less than be negroes, and robbed of three hundred and seven, of these rebel States for the Congressional plan, and will elect Senators, Represen melee the watch was dropped by the high- tatives, and State Legislatures as firmly Re. publican as this convention. [Loud applause.] I want to put another thing on record. Those of this nation who have been against their country: those men who have sympacausing his death in half an hour.—The West | thized with them; those men who have sneared Pennsylvania Synod met in Chambersburg, at us and our principles, 1 say to them here on Thursday evening last, Rev. Counting them in, they will not change the result in a single State.

The effect of the last proclamation has been o stimulate the Union men of the South to renewed energy, to prevent, beyond all possibility of doubt, their States being placed again under the rule of Secessionists. The Congressional Executive Committee are extending their labors all over the South, and will not relax their efforts until they have a Republican organization in every county in every Southern State.
