CONGRESS.

Congress re-assembled on Thursday last, pursuant to the adjournment resolution passed at the July session. There was a quorum in each branch, and both adjourned over till Monday of this week, on which day the Speaker of the House intended to announce the Standing Committees, and the Judiciary Committee were to report on the proposed impeachment of President Johnson. It is understood the majority of the Committee (Messrs. BOUTWELL, WILLIAMS, THOM-AS, LAWRENCE and CHURCHILL, Repub licans), will report in favor of the impeachment of President Johnson, and submit such facts as they believe make it the duty of the House to present articles in its advocacy of the great principles of very creditable examination. of impeachment to the Senate. The miconstitutional freedom, and to-day advonority of the Committee (Wilson-and cates essentially the same principles WOODBRIDGE, Republicans, ELRIDGE which it espoused in the year of its estaband MARSHALL, Copperheads), will relishment. port adverse to impeachment. It is understood that both reports will be very lengthy, inasmuch as a very large amount of testimony has been taken by the Committee. We hope to give an abstract of these reports in our next issue. In the House new members were sworn: WASHBURNE of Illinois, who was in Europe when the Congress adjourned; Woodward of Pennsylvania, in place of DENISON, deceased; and CA-BY of Ohio, in place of HAYES, Governor All of the Tennessee members were sworn, except R. R. BUTLER, who was charged with having voted for the Secession Ordinance in the Senate of Tennessee in 1861, and with having favored the Rebellion in its earlier stages. Upon these facts, his credentials were referred to the Committee on Elections, with in structions to inquire into these charges, All the Copperheods voted against this inquiry, except AXTELL of California who was a War Democrat throughout the War. In Copperhead eyes, it is nothing against a man's fitness for effice, that he was in the Rebellion from first to last; and they are consistent in so voting, for that has been their position throughout the war. In its darkest hours, they resisted the enactment of the "Test Oath" and, since that, they have constantly agitated for its repeal. From this position, it is but a short step to the other which they have publicy taken where they are a secure majority (as in Maryland and Kentucky), viz: That men who were voluntarily in the Rebel army ought to be preferred, for public office, over those who served in the Union army. The President's Annual Message will not come in till the Second Tuesday in December next, the second day of the second Session of the Congress; nor will sented sooner.

Our representative, General KOONTZ, is not in Washington, and will not be till after the Somerset Court which began on Monday last. Mr. STEVENS was able to be in his seat

Some of the more malignant Copperheads, North and South, have not concealed their disappointment that he has been able to resume his place. Their wishes for his death have been, not covertly insinuated, but openly expressed, for they realize controversy, not yet entirely settled, between the true and false friends of the for the Government are the Rebel ex-Union. THE Northern Copperhead papers find a chief employment in ridiculing the reconstruction Conventions in the Southern States. The "Secsesion" Conventions of 1861 were more to their mind, than the Reconstruction Conventions of 1867. Anything tainted with the spirit of rebellion, is grateful to them.

WITH the present issue we commence new volume of the STAR & SENTINEL Sixty-seven years ago, the SENTINEL was established by ROBERT HARPER, father of the senior member of the present firm, who had previously had control of the FRANKLIN REPOSITORY, and in the fall of 1800 came to Gettysburg and started the new paper. He conducted the SENTINEL until his death, in the fall of ing. 1816, when his son then a lad of 17 years of age, took charge of it, and continued as its sole editor and proprietor until its consolidation with the STAR last May. During these sixty-seven years the Republic has marched steadily on with giant strides in the development of material and political greatness, unparalleled in the histories of nationalities. and to-day challenges precedence in the world by reason of its greatness and power. During these sixty-seven years, the of various political organizations, developed by the changing character of the issues which from time to time claimed the attention of the country, and has recorded the definite settlement of many questions which for a time divided great political parties. During all these changes in parties and issues, the SENTI-

Although the STAR was established subsequent to the SENTINEL, it also lays claim to age and experience, having beer established forty years ago during the memorable conflict between the adherents of Adams and Jackson. From that day to this, it has taken an active part in the political arens, and has been an acknowledged power in State and local politics. The consolidation of the two papers has in no wise changed the political character of either. It will be the aim of the editorial management to make the STAR & SENTINEL every way worthy of the liberal support extended to it. With enlarged facilities to which we are daily making additions, we hope to present a Printing Office, in all its details, equal to the best in the State and a weekly newspaper that may be read with profit in every family.

COPPERHEAD papers are growing very uneary lest the Southern States may be re-constructed and restored in time t take part in the next Presidential election; and they cry aloud against allowing "negroes to elect the next President." The New York Tribune thus disposes of this Copperhead rant:

"We have but one consolation for The World under this afflicting dispensation of Divine Providence and Thaddeus Stevens that is, that the negroes of the South always have elected the President since Jackson's Administration. In the capacity of chattels, their importance controlled the white vote which elected Van Buren, Harrin, Tyler, Polk, Taylor, Fillmore, Pierce, and Buchanan. If as slaves they were of sufficient importance to elect eight Presidents, through ballots cast by their masters, will the country perish if as freemen they assist in electing one by casting the ballot themselves? any of the Department Reports be pre- The sooner equal rights are given to any class of oppressed human beings the sooner they will cease to be the disturbing and controlling element in politics. "COMETH UP AS A FLOWER," is the title of an autobiographical story of the richest kind just issued by D. Appleton & Co., New children, the house being densely crowded, York. The London Times speaks of it with great praise. Its chief merits consist in the powerful and vigorous manner in which it is told, in the exceeding beauty and poetry of ts sketches of scenery, and in the soliloquies, sometimes quaintly humorous, sometimes cynically bitter, sometimes plaintive and melancholy, which are uttered by the heroine. It is written by a lady-a new hand, and is said to be so extraordinarily good, that whenever you begin it you cannot lay it down again, hardly even when it is finished. New Fork: D. Appleton & Co. Price, 60 cents.

THE OHIO RAILROAD DISASTER.

On Thursday last, a terrible accident occur on the Cincinnati and Dayton Railroad during a heavy fog, by two trains coming is collision, resulting in the death of five passengers and the wounding of some twenty others. Three cars were crushed. In two of the cars people were writhing under the tortures of torn limbs and bodies; but in the rear car death was revelling. Six persons were in it. One escaped but four women and a man imprisoned between timbers and panels, bleeding, gasping and dying, one with her entrails torn out, and another with her head cut off. If this was terrible, that which ensued was horrible. While the bewildered and frightened passengers in the other cars were being eleased, the steam was parboiling these mangled victims, the smoke was choking Tuesday, on a lecturing tour in the United them, and soon there was a whirl of fire States. through their car from the engine's head-
