asking for information in regard to steaming feed for cattle, and as the easiest way of answering all at once, have concluded to write for your paper a description of my barn and 6 PER CENT. GOLD INTEREST BONDS, arrangements for that purpose.

since 1858, with constantly increasing confidence in its economy. In the autumn of that year I found myself with a stock of twenty head of cattle to carry through the winter with the orage provided for six, and was consequently forced to cast about for the most economical method of solving that seemingly NATIONAL BANK impracticable problem. I immediately set about preparing to cut and steam the fodder.

My barn is built on a side hilf, and is three stories in part, the principal story on which the barn floor is situated being level with the ground on the highest side, and used entirely for the storage of hay, grain, &c. The next story below opens on to the barnyard, and is used for stabling and a root cellar, being under ground at one end. Under a portion of this story is a manure cellar 50 by 28 feet, and 8 feet deep, which opens on to a still lower On the stable story is located the steam arrangement. In one corner of the underground part is the boiler-room, about ten feet square. made as near fireproof as possible. The chimney is built of brick on the outside against the corner of the barn, and extends about six feet above the roof at that point. The boiler (tubular) is about the capacity of a four-horse engine. The vat or chest in which the steaming is done is built of brick and lined with two-inch plank, tongued and grooved; is six feet square inside and eight feet deep, and extends from the stable floor to the barn floor above, with a lid the whole size of the top, opening on a level with the floor. There is also a door four feet square on one side, near the bottom, for the purpose of taking out the feed. The steam pipe passes directly from the boiler to the vat, and extends around the four sides and across the middle, about six inches above the bottom. It is perforated with small holes, about six inches apart, for the escape of the steam. Conveniently located at one side, above the top of the vat, is a cask which holds about two hundred gallons of water, which is kept full by a pipe connected with an aqueduct.

The fodder is cut by horse-power on the barn floor, and consists usually of about one half corn-stalks and straw and one half good hay. It is thrown from the floor into the vat, and thoroughly wet and mixed with a small quantity of meal or bran, according to cir cumstances, continuing the process until the vat is full, and taking care to tread down well, using as much water as possible, to cause the fodder to absorb as much water as it will I usually direct my foreman to start the fire in the boiler before he begins to fill the vat, and by the time it is full the steam begins to pass into it. I never attempt to get up much | ame promptly executed. pressure, but let the steam pass into the vai ORDERS BY MAIL OR EXPRESS WILL as fast as it is generated, and like to keep it on three or four hours—the longer the better. I feed with the steamed mixture morning and evening, and with good dry hay at noon.

When feeding time arrives, the door at the lower side of the vat is opened, and a sufficient quantity withdrawn into a box, and the door closed at once; it is then carried to the cattle in a basket, giving to each about a bushel, less or more, according to size and cond tion. By the time it reaches the cattle it will be quite warm, but not hot. Last winter I steamed but twice a week.

finding no unfavorable effect from keeping the feed so long. This was done to save labor and fuel. 'Three times a week is better. My stock for several years consisted of about fifty head of thoroughbred Ayrshire cattle and five horses.

FORKING BARNYARD MANURE OVER. + This is essential to rotten well. When corn stalks, straw and ordure of animals are all trodden down firmly during the winter and spring, the air is effectually excluded, and the material will not rot until it has been forked over, were it to remain there for a year or more. If it is loosened up so that the air can circulate among it, the entire mass will decay in a few weeks so that it will be easy to pitch and spread it. Now the most expeditious manner of pitch ing manure up clean from the bottom is to do the greatest portion of it with a strong horse fork. Set up three long poles as, for pitching hay on a round stack, and make a hole down to the bottom of the manure first: then thrust the tines of the horse fork under the manure and turn it up in large rolls, and tear it to pieces with hand forks. Horse forks are of great service where the manure is very long. After it has rotted, a man or two men, can pitch much faster by hand. If barnyard manure remains in the yard all summer, it should always be forked over, to facilitate the decay of corn stalks and course straw. But it should be protected from rain. Some farmers pitch long manure on the wagon with horse forks. But I never could perceive that the practice would pay, because a horse fork will not hold as much as a horse is capable of elevating. --It is easy for any one to try the experiment, which will soon satisfy all anticipations or doubts on this subject. - North British Agriculturist.

How to MAKE GOOD COFFEE. -- Good coffee is a luxury, but one that is seldom met with. It is doubtful whether one family in a dozen knows what really good coffee is. We give the following, from a lady correspondent of the Germantown Telegraph: The making of good coffee is a rare thing in this country; most persons boil it, thus making a decoction instead of an infusion; this effectually gets rid of the delicate and agreeable aromatic flavor, and leaves a comparatively tasteless beverage. The following particulars will be found worth attention:

Never buy your coffee ground, but grind it yourself, immediately before using it; keep your coffee pot, whatever kind you may use, wiped clean and dry inside; a damp tea or coffee pot acquires a musty flavor that spoils the best tea or coffee. The cheapest and perhaps the best coffee pots are those made on the French plan, called cafetiers. It you have not one of these, adopt the following plan: Put your freshly ground coffee into the coffee pot, previously made warm, and pour upon it water actually boiling; set the pot by the side of the fire for a few seconds, but do not let it boil up; then pour a cupful out and return it back again to the pol in order to clear it; having done this let it stand on the hop or centre to settle, and in less than five minutes a transparent, strong, aromatic cup of coffee may be poured out. The proportions of coffee (which poured out. The proportions of coffee (which ded are an ounce to a pint and a half of wa-

Agricultural Implements. BRINKERHOFF'S

TORN SHELLER, SEPARATOR AND CLEANER. The underigned would inform the ablic that he has purchased from the Patentee of his extraordinary machine, the Patent Right for he States of Pennsylvania and Maryland.
Brinkerhoff's Corn Sheller, Separator and Clean-, is pronounced the best machine of the kind in his country. And in proof, it may be mentioned hat the "Advisory Committee appointed to select implements for exhibition at the Universal Ex-position in Paris, in 1867, have selected this Sheller as the best in America," and at the request of J. C. Derby, U. S. Agent, a uncuine has been shipped to Paris for exhibition. One important feature in this machine is that it will shell ears arge, small or crooked perfectly clean, and separates the cob and chaff from the Corn ready The fact may also be stated that at the great rial of Agricultural Implements, at Auburn, N. Y., in July last, under the auspices of the New York State Agricultural Society, the Brinkerhoff Corn Sheker, Separator and Cleaner was reported by one of the most competent Committees as the nest Corn Shaller out. They say, "We have caretilly examined and thoroughly tested this ma-

Johnson, Secretary to same; Solon Robinson, Agricultural Editor N. T. Tribane; S. Edward Todd, Agricultural Editor N. Y. Times. From among many complimentary newspaper actions, the fellowing, from the N. Y Observer, is deemed sufficient:
"Among all the Hand Corn Shellers made it New York and Albany—and one single firm manufacturers more than 10,000 annually—not one can enter the circle with the Sheller just invented by J. NEW WORK ON SINGING BASSINI'S Twenty Melodic Exercises,

IN FORM OF SOLFEGGIOS FOR SOPRANO OR MEZZO SOPRANO VOICES, INTENDED AS Studies to acquire the Art of Singing.

"These exercises were composed to be used simultaneourly with his system, "The art of FINGING." or with any other method for the cultivation of the voice, and will take the place of CONCINE'S FOLFEGGIOS; being more metodious and better adapted for teaching.

"Some of these exercises are specially beautiful as well as useful, a mingling of the dules of utile, which secures the interest as well as the improvement of the student. The various styles developed in these exercises render them invaluable in an educative all point of view, as they tend to enlarge the intrilige ce and the appreciation, and at the s me time form the taste of the papil. They must be studied carefully with reference to the innumerable marks of expression and forms of ornamentation. Upon the minute accuracy with which where are accomplished derends the actual sterling advancement of the pupil; any evasion or sourring in these respects is time and effort acterly wasted, while, on the other hand, a clusteand patient lovestig tion, and a minutely faithful execution of them, will give unexpected power and faculty, and open to the student the means and re-ources by which gives a stiefs produce their most brilliant and protound effects.—Watson's Art Journal.

THE GREAT CHOLERA PREVENTATIVE. X. 1866. L.

THE GREAT Zingari Bitters. CHIS WONMERFUL REMEDY was discovered an introduced about twenty years ago by Dr. 8. Cheep us. an eminent Egyptian physician. He had long seen and felt the want of some remedy which would strike at the rost of disease, and so present much of the suffering which the human family was hen compelled to ensure.

This great question was presented to his mind evary ray in vivid colors as he moved among the sick and dying, and observed the inefficiency of nearly all the remedies nee in use. Thus he was led to think and experiment; and after ten years' study and labor, he presented to his collow-man the wonderful Zingari Bitters. The effect of this preparation in the prevention and cure of discasse. colow-man the wonderful Zingari Bitters. The effect of this preparation is the prevention and cure of disease, was so mervellour and amoushing, that the most flattering marks of royal favor were bestowed upon him who iscovered if. His name was pieced upon the Roll of Nobles, and a gold medal with the following inscription—Dr. S. Uheopsus, the Public Benefactor—was presented to him by the Viceroy.

The preparation has been used in several epidemics of biolers, both as a preventive and curative measure, and with such great success, that it has been introduced integer to the proper state the property and the correct of the property and the control of the contro nearly all the general hospitals of the old world.

The old saying that an ounce of prevention is worth a could of cure, applies with marvellous force to cholera, and therefore any remedy that will protect us against his terrible disease should be freely and persistently ied. All pathologists now agree that the cholera polson acts

All pathologists now agree that the cholera poison acts on the system through the blood, and that any combination which acts on the exerctory or cans, and keeps them in working order, must prevent a sufficient sectionalist of the poison to exert its terrible effects on the organism. This is true not only of cholera, but of nearly all other instances, especially the different forms of fever. The Zingari Bitters is just such a remedy as the above unditions require. It acts on the organism description and secretion, keeping up a perfect balance between them. This Bitters is composed entirely of roots and increases on incely concucted that every organ is acted upon mup put in tone. Its taste is pleasant and its effects prompt and lasting.
