This Bank will eliber convert, or purchase this time, with the sale of which such reports may seriously interfere, whether the facts of the 7-30's, allowing premium and interest. the case may justify it or not. Added to this. there are many hundreds of cattle fattened every year in these counties for the city market, in regard to which, any suspicions of FIRST NATIONAL BANK this character might prove the cause of much

The facts in the matter, so far as Adams county is concerned, are the fellowing: The I visited the farm after I learned of its existence there, and heard the facts from Mr. Bol cow out of a lot of dry cows brought from at 90 cents on the dollar, payable semi-annually at one of the dairies in or near Baltimore, which he intended to fatten for beef. After feeding her for about four weeks, she began to show symptoms of sickness, and gradually grew worse untill she died. After this, two more sickened and died in like manner. These three received little or no medical treatment. After these, four more were attacked. These received medical treatment and recovered.

-that of Mr. Shue below Hanover about six miles, and that of Mr. Price, in Jackson township. In both cases it was introduced by cattle bought from the same drove as that of Mr. Bollinger, and in no case has it appeared where not thus introduced.

The symptoms of theidisease are, first, languor and dullness, with loss of appetite, accompanied with a painful cough; then cos-tioness with dry mouth, nosirils, and the usual febrile symptoms. Difficulty of breathing follows, which terminates in suffocation and death. But one of the four cows diseased, which I saw, seemed to have diarrhoa. She seemed sicker than the other three.

The post mortem examination revealed extensive inflammation of the lungs and pleura (the membrane lining the chest), with adhesions of the former to the latter, and the former covered with gangrene. No other parts seemed much affected by the disease. These facts reveal plainly the character of and pleurs, the scientific name of which is Pleura Pneumonia: Of this disease there are two forms: simple Pleurs Pneumonia and Epizo-otic Pleura Pneumonia—the latter a fearful and terrible scourge to the land it visits. The latter form has never appeared in this country to the alarming extent to which it has appeared in Continental Europe and in England. A few years ago the State of Massachusetts was threatened with its ravages but the prompt action of the authorities ar rested its progress. Of its appearance here at this time there seems to be no danger, as the conditions necessary to its development spread from the localities where introduced nstead of which it has now almost disappeared from them.

which deserve serious consideration. In the U. S. 1881 BONDS, first place, the trade in stock of this kind should be the subject of rigid official investigation. Whether the cattle brought here were diseased before coming here, or whether they were brought from a stable in which the | 7-30 BONDS of all issues converted into 5-20's upon th disease existed, I have no means of knowing; but, certain it is, that a disease of this kind has existed for a year or more in the dairies in and around Baltimore, and no one has ever heard of any public action being taken in regard to it. It is also said to have appeared at many points along the roads from here to that place, and in some portions of Pennsylvania near Philadelphia-yet no one gives it any concern. The only way to prevent it spread is by "stamping it out"—that is, the appointment of a commission by the State to examine the cases, destroy and bury all diseased cattle, and remunerate their owners from the public treasury. Massachusetts did this, and Pennsylvania and Maryland might profitably follow her example, if their respective legislators could spare time enough from their party strife to look after the welfare of their constituents. When this disease first appeared in England, it was looked upon with the same apathy by the rulers there as it now is here. Even men like Youatt hesitated in deciding whether it was contagious or not; UNION PACIFIC but subsequent events gave a terrible decision to that question and compelled them to call it "The Epizo-otic." The diffusion of reliable information in regard to the symptoms and treatment of this lisease would also be of much service to the agricultural community. This disease has been introduced into Bucks county from Philadelphia in the same manner as here. The Agricultural Society of that county has appointed a medical gentleman to investigate the progress of the disease at the Society's WM. C. STALLSMITH & SON, expense. This is a step in the right direction. I addressed a note to the Corre sponding Secretary of the Society in order to learn something about the matter r. I herewith send you his reply, which you are at liberty to publish. D. P. F.

In reference to the disease called Pleura Pneumonia, or Cattle Epidemic, I think I can safely say that it does not exist I think I can safely say that it does not exist in our county to any very alarming extent—scarcely a case having come to my knowledge where proper care is taken of the cattle. But there have been several cases among farmers who have been in the habit of frequently changing their stock by buying of dealers who buy at the drove yards in Philadelphia, or wherever else they can buy, as they consider, to advantage. Plenty of good food, shelter, and proper care are among the best seferned. to advantage. Plenty of good food, shelter, and proper care are among the best safeguards against the disease. We have in our village here an eminent Veterinary Surgeon, P. M. Medical. DAVID MCCBEARY. JOHN P. MCREARY, THE GREAT CHOLERA PREVENTATIVE.

X. 1866. L. THE GREAT Zingari Bitters.

Ingari Bitters.

This wonwerful remains and by Dr. S. Cheops sur, an eminent Egyptian physician.

He had long seen and left the want of some remedy which would strike at the root of disease, and so prevent nuch of the suffering which the human family was then compelled to endure.

This great question was presented to his mind overy day in vividecolors as he moved among the sick and ying, and observed the inefficiency of nearly all the remedies then in use. Thus he was led to think and experiment; and afterien years study and labor, he presented to his follow-man the wonderful Zingari Bitters. The effect of this preparation in the prevention and cure of discase was so mervellour and astoniahing, that the most intering marks of royal favor were bestowed upon him who discovered it. His name was placed upon the Roll of Nobles, and a gold medal with the following inscription—Dr. S. Cheopsus, the Public Renefactor—was presented to him by the Viceroy.

The preparation has been used in several epidemics of cholers, both as a preventive and curative mersure, and with such great success, that it has been introduced but nearly all the general hospitals of the old world.

The old saying that an ounce of prevention is worth a count of cure a nother and an ounce of prevention is worth a count of cure a nother and an ounce of prevention is worth a count of cure a nother and an ounce of prevention is worth a count of cure a nother and an ounce of prevention is worth a count of cure a nother and an ounce of prevention is worth a count of cure and less with our values, since to chalers. The old saying that an ounce of prevention is wor pound of cure, applies with mervelbus time to chol his terrible disease should be freely and persistently sued.

All pathologists now agree that the choicers poison acts on the system through the blood, and that any combination which acts on the exercistry organizated keeps them in working order, must prevent a sufficient accumulation of the poison to exert listers tible effects on the organism. This is true not only of cholera, but of nearly all other maladies, especially the different verys of fever.

The Zingarl Bitters is just such a remedy as the above conditions require. It acts on the organism exerction and secretion, keeping up a perfect balance between them. This Bitters is composed entirely of roots and herbs, so nicely concected that every organ is acted upon and put in tone. It stasts is pleasant and its effects prompt and lasting.

Numerous cares of the following diseases have been cured by it: Cholera, Diarrhora, Dysentery, Scrofula, Typhoid and Typhus Fever, Fever, Ague, Nervous Debility, Amendia, Female Irregularities, Dysepsia, Flutulency, Colic, &c.
