indication is particularly observed. The other symptoms, which, however, are very uncertain, as regards any of them being present or absent, are pendulous head, short breath, inflamed membranes, swollen lips, dry mouth, enlarged eyelids, copious tears, sore throat, tucked up flanks, compressed tail, filled legs, big joints, lameness and het feet. Auscultation may detect a grating sound at the chest, or a noise like brickbats falling down stairs at the windpipe; whenever this last peculiarity is audible, there is a copious nasal discharge. Sometimes one foot is acutely painful, and notwithstanding the weakness, the leg is held in the air. Purgation has been witnessed, although constipation usually prevails, and the animal generally stands during the centinuance of the disorder.

Move the horse slowly to a well-littered loose box: mind the door does not open to the north or to the east. No food will be eaten; but suspend a pail of well-made gruel within easy reach of the animal's head. Let the gruel be changed, or the receptacle replenished at stated periods, thrice daily; sprinkle one scruple of calomel upon the tongue, and wash it down with a drink composed of sulphuric ether, one ounce: laudanum, one ounce; water, half a pint; do this night and morning. Should the weakness be excessive, double the quantity of ether and laudanum contained in the draughts. Watch the pulse—it always is feeble, but at first has a wiry feeling. So soon as the character of IT DON'T FILL UP its ectumns with "scissors cont the pulse changes, or the wiry sensation departs, which generally happens when the nasal discharge becomes copious and the cough appears, one pot of stout may be allowed and II same nourishing food, as bread, on which a very little salt has been sprinkled, may be offered by hand. The horse feels man to be its master, and appreciates any attention bestowed upon it in the hour of sickness. It will stand still to be carressed and advance its hanging ears to catch the accents of sympathy.

Beware of what is termed active treatmen a purgative is death during influenza. It generally will induce prostration from which the animal-never recovers. Formerly, it was common to see four strong men propping up the lower class are fond of joking one with another. Such was the usual result of their employment on these occasions. In the fun, the horse got but partial support, while the noise distressed the diseased sensibilities.-Horses have large sympathies, and readily comprehend the attentions dictated by kindness. The disregard which people too often display toward sickness in an animal, actually pains the creature; its effects may be told by the altered character of the pulse. Whereas, the voice when softened by pity, often causes the heavy head to be turned toward the speaker; and the muzzle of a diseased inmate o the stable has frequently reposed long upon the chest of the writer.

CLOVER AND TIMOTHY .- A. Hadley, in communication to the Northwestern Farmer, gives what he regards three important reasons why clover should always be grown with timothy. First, the clover being tap-rooted penetrates deeply, stands drought, mellows the soil, and the timothy grows much stronger, and holds up the clover. Secondly, if sown for pasturage, the timothy almost universally prevents the clover from swelling cattle.-Thirdly, timothy hay is too binding, especial ly for cattle, and clover too washy (succulent,) hence both together are better than either alone. To these we may add under the head of the first, that where grasses come in rotation, it is of the utmost importance on a clay soil, that at least a part of this grass-crop be clover. It will serve to mellow and loosen the heavy soil in a remarkable degree, so that when turned over with a plow, it will not only be rich, but loose and friable. If on the other hand, timothy alone is sown, (which some do, because the hay sells better) the sod will turn over heavy and clammy, and be unat for any crop which is to follow. The same correspondent says that he is partial to rye for calf or sheep pasture, which he occasionally sows in the summer or autumn, after a crop of corn; and then, after being pastured winter and spring, it is turned under for a spring crop-corn, if the soil be strong enough-or it may be allowed to go to harvest.

PREMIUM BUTTER.—At the fair of the Orleans county (Vt.) Agricultural Society; George B. Brewster, Irasburg, was awarded the first premium on a tub of butter, submitted the following statement in regard to its manufacture : .

"I keep twenty-three cows of the native stock, with a slight mixture of Durham; their leed was the fall feed in my mow fields, with pumpkins in the morning; the cream was gathered in three days from milk that set thirty-six hours after milking, the cream then set twenty-four hours, then was churned; when the butter came it was put in a wooden bowl and washed with spring water until the milk was all washed out, and the water ceased to be colored, and remained clear; then the Ashton RED JACKET salt is worked in by hand at the rate of one ounce to a pound of butter; the butter is then set away to stand twenty-four hours, then it is worked over by hand, taking a small quantity at a time and working out all the brine ; then it is pounded down in the tub; the tub is filled within half an inch of the top; then it is covered with a cloth, over which is spread a thin layer of salt. This tub was packed the 4th of October. Cream is not churned the same day ipis skimmed, as it will sometimes have a peculiar taste, which it does not have after standing twenty hours. In the fall the pans are fflied two-thirds full, and the cream rises as well, but in summer it should be more

WASHING FLUIDS AND CLOTHES.—A BOUSE keeper in the Western Rural, in reply to a question whether the various washing fluids injure the clothes, says: "We can answer that we do not think they do, unless they are used foo strong When you use fluid, the clothes do not require boiling, only scalding, and they must be rinsed in three waters. The reason why cloths turn yellow, and grow ten-It saves a great deal of hard labor. The Medical. THE GREAT CHOLERA PREVENTATIVE.

I. X. 1866. L THE GREAT

Zingari Bitters.

Illis wonwerfull REMEDY was discreted an introduced about twenty years ago by Dr. S. Cheop aus, an eminent Egyptian physician.

He had leng seen and felt the want of sease remedy which would strike at the root of disease, and so prevent much of the suffering which the humanifamily was then compelled to endure.

This great question was presented to his mind every day in vivideolors as he moved among the sick and dying, and observed the inefficiency of userly all the remedication to use. Thus he was led to think and experiment; and after len years' study and fabor. Se presented to his fellow-manthe wonderful Zingarl Bliters. The effect of this preparation in the prevention and cure of discass was so murrellourand astonishing, that the most flattering marks of royal farbe were bestowed upon him who discovered it. His name was placed upon the Roll of Nobles, and a gold medal-with the following inscription—Dr. S. Cheopens, the Public Benefactor—was presented to him by the Viceroy. Dr. S.Chopsus, the Public Benefactor—was presented to him by the Vicercy.

The preparation has been used in several epidemics of cholers, both me a proventive and curative measure, and with such great success, that it has been introduced into dearly all the general hospitals of the old world.

The old saying that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, applies with marvellous force to cholers, and therefore any remedy that will protect us against his terrible disease should be freely and persistantly aned. sned.
All pathologists flow agree-that she cholora poison acts on the system through the blood, and that any combination which acts on the expectory orans, and keepa them in working order, must prevent a enficient actuardation of the poison to exert itsterrible effects on the organism. This is true not only of cholora, but of nearly all other mailedes, especially the different forms of fever.

The Zingari Bitters is just ench a remedy as the above conditions require. It acts on the organs of exerction and secretion, keeping up a perfect balance between them. This Bitters is composed entirely of routs and herbs, so nicely concected that every organ is acted upon and put in bose. Its state is pleasant and its effects prompt and antianting. and put in One. It hasts is pleasant and its effects prompt and lasting.

Numerous cases of the following discases have been cured by it: Cholers, Diarrhoza, Dysentery, Ecrofula, Typhoid and Typhus Fever, Fever, Ague, Nervous Publits, Anasoda, Female Irregularities, Dyspapaia Flatulency, Colle, &c.
