AND HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC. The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS

Medical.

Hoofland's German Bitters Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholicadmissiare of any kind. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC, Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters with the purest quality of Santa Crus Rum; Orange, &c., ma-king one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies aver offered to the public.

Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admix-ture, will use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS. Those who have no objection to the combination of th Bitters, as stated, will use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC. They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Toulc being the most paintable. The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestien, Dyspepsia, Nervous Beblitty, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathising as closely as it does with the Stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Fistulence, Inward Piles, Fuliness of Blood to the Head, Actidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Hesrt-burn, Disgust for Food, Falness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Poeture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Websbefore the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Desciency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Syes, Plain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Finshes of Heat, Wurning in the Flesh Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Grent Depression of Spirits.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigations and inquiries possesses true merit, is skilfully compounded, is free from injuriousing redients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well-known remedies— HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC. REPARED BY Dr. C. M. JACKSON, Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility Chronic Diarrhora, Disease of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY, Resulting from any Cause whatever

PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM. induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, etc.

search in the deep waters of the ocean. He gives some new sketches of what he saw at the "Silver Bank," near Hayti: "The banks of coral on which my divings were made are about forty miles in length, and from ten to twenty in breadth. On this bank of coral is presented to the diver one of the most beautiful and sublime scenes the eye ever beheld,--The water varies from ten to one hundred feet in depth, and so clear that the diver can see from two to three hundred feet when sub-hundred feet in height, and from one to eighty cure the country to all future time against feet, in diameter. The tops of those more lofty support a myriad of pyramidal pendants, each forming a myriad more, giving reality to the imaginary abode of some water-nymph. In other places the pendants form arch after arch, and, as the diver stands on the bottom of the ocean, and gazes through in the deep winding avenues, he finds they fill him with as sacred an awe as if he were in some old cathedral which had long been buried beneath old ocean's wave. Here and there the coral extends even to the surface of the water, as if the loftier columns were towers belonging to those stately temples that are now in ruins. There were countless varieties of diminutive trees, shrubs and plants in every crevice of the corals where water had deposited the earth. They were all of a faint hue, owing to the pale light they received, although of every shade, and entirely different from plants dry land. One in particular attracted my attention; it resembled a sea-fan of immense size, of variegated colors, and the most brilliant hue. The fishes which inhabit these "Silver banks" I found as different in kinds as the scenery was varied. They were of all forms, colors and sizes, from the symmetrical goby to the globe-like sunfish; from the dullest hue to the changeable dolphin; from the spots of the leopard to the hues of the sunbeam; from the harmless minnow to the vo-

Some had heads like squirrels, others like cats and dogs-some of small size resembling the bull terrier. Some darted through the water like meteors, while others could scarce-

There are also fish which resembled plants open and shut when in danger. Some of them resembled the rose when in full com, and were of all hues." A PLAIN ANSWER. - Among the people who came to market yesterday afternoon was a splendid plumage of the bird, and asked its "Thee can have it for fifty dollars," was the reply of the owner, whose garb indicated him as a member of the Seciety of Friends. "That's a good price," was the interrogative remark of the Celt, as he smoothed the ample tail of the feathered biped. "There are plenty of people who will give that for him," was the placid and very true re

The Celt surveyed the bird, admired his him. "Mister," said he at last to the grave gentleman who held the bird for sale, "Mister, people say that these birds have a very bad "I have nothing to say about their voices," was the quiet reply. "If thee wants the fowl over me. Thee evidently has acquaintances that I have not. If thee think that the scream of this bird is like to that of thy friend, whom thee has named, I, in my ignorance, will not presume to centradict thee.' The next minute the Celt was at an oppo site stall in the market buying a ten cent bunch of carrots. He bought no peacock ou that day.
