The Farm and Fireside.

"THE OLD FARM."

I've been, dear George, to "our old place,"
Where you and I were born,
But meeting no familiar face,
It made me feel forlorn.

Where father tilled, now strangers till—
Our father's house is no ;
A stranger's home stands on the hill
Where stood our humble cot.

The old red barn is torn away—
A new one stands there now—
What fun we've had in that old hay!
What frolics in the mow!

The old well-sweep has disappeared,
Instead there is a pump;
The farm how changed! The land we cleared
Is now w thout a stump!

And those "track acres" where we mowed,
(Buck-ackers true they were,)
A boy upon the mower rode,
And out while I was there.

The rattling reaper rapid run
The waving grain among,
Where first beneath the broiling sun
Our cradles oft we swung.

Those reapers, George, have truly hung
Our cradles "in the shade ;"
The only cradle now days swung
Is where the baby's laid.

Our mother's grave, dear George, I sought,
There wept—I know not why;
I felt the change that years have wrought
On all—on you and I.

May God long bless the noble soul
Who owns the "old farm" now!
He's spared our dead—that hallowed knoll
Is sacred from his plow!

HOW A FARMER MAY LOOSE MONEY.

By not taking a good home paper.

Keeping no account of home operations.

Paying no attention to the maxim;—"A stitch in time saves nine," in regard to the sowing of grain and planting seed at the proper season.

Leaving reaper, plows, cultivators, etc, uncovered from the rain and heat of the sun. More money is lost in this way than most people are willing to believe.

Permitting broken instruments to be scattered over the farm until they are irrepairable. By repairing broken instruments at the proper time many dollars may be saved, a proof of the assertion that "time is money."

Attending the auction sales, and purchasing all kinds of trumpery, because, in the words of the vender, the articles are "very cheap."

Allowing fences to remain unrepaired until strange cattle are found grazing in the meadow, grain field, or bruising the fruit trees.

Disbelieving the principle of a rotation of crops before making a single experiment.

Planting fruit trees with the expectation of having fruit, without giving the trees half the attention required to make them profitable.

Practicing economy by depriving stock of proper shelter during the winter, and giving them unsound food, such as half rotten and mould hay and fodder.

Keeping an innumerable tribe of rats on the premises, and two or three lazy dogs that eat up more in a mouth than they are worth in a whole life-time.

And lastly, he loses by not reading the advertisements of those who patronize the printer, they being invariably the most enterprising and liberal houses to deal with, when he goes to town.

USE OF PLASTER.—For 16 years I have used plaster as a fertilizer with good result. I have used from 800 lbs. to a ton yearly.—The past season I sowed over about half of my mowing lands with a marked benefit.—I shall this year sow over the remaining part; I use it on all crops. I sow as early as possible on grass, for on some soils it takes two or three years to show its effect. Plaster shows better in wet seasons than in dry. I apply about 160 lbs. to the acre on all my crops; for grain I use it at the time of sowing: if the land had a liberal dressing the year previous it will not be essential for that crop. But in no case should it be applied to grain several inches high, for on soils where it works strong it would ruin the crop.

From close and careful observation, plaster, by a direct application on very sandy soils, is of but little value, usually making but a small mark on a soil that contains boulders or round stone. So far as my experience goes, on all soils that contain flat stones or slates or a mixture of clay, it is a powerful aid to the farmer (I know it is so to me). I further believe that on all soils it is worth more than its market value, being mixed with compost or manure, for more than half of it is sulphuric acid, and the rest is lime.

Several years ago I sowed six quarts of plaster in my pasture on three rods of land and marked it; the crop that it produced was white weed and white top. No change till the third year, when the white and red clover began to appear; on the fifth year a complete stand. After I observed the result the third year, I sawed the remaining part, and the sixth year plowed up and planted with corn, with about 1 quart of compost to the hill; result—40 bushels of corn to the acre; shall sow wheat this spring—Cor. Boston Cultivator.

A CAUSE OF RUST ON WHEAT.—A farmer writing on this subject says:—This is a question that has for a long time agitated the minds of intelligent farmers, but it has been settled to my mind, at least, by a series of experiments. I am satisfied that it does in at least ninety cases out of one hundred.

I have sown the wheat with and without the grass seed, and have never seen rust when there was no grass; whilst in the same field the rust has affected the wheat.—The grass holds the dampness at the roots of the wheat, and when the sun shines out very warm, produces the blight. Beside, the wheat standing alone will produce five bushels more to the acre than when the grass is sown. I mean now, that this will be the average difference.

But the question arises, when shall the grass be sown? I answer after the wheat harvest. Plow the field and prepare it smoothly, and sow the grass seed of whatever kind you desire, and your crop of grass the coming season will be equally as good, if not better than if it were sown with the wheat.

Farmers, try the above, and my word for it, the result will be satisfactory.

A WRITER in one of our magazines says: "It is a curious fact that there is never a white colt nor a black calf. The whitest horse was blackest at its birth, and the jetblack cow was unmixed red." Whereupon one of our exchanges says: "We have long been familiar with the colt proposition, but think we have seen a black calf. Will any of our readers who have seen such animals state the fact?" Yes—Mr. Mark Hill, at Governor's Farm, Byfield, has a calf that at birth was as black as the King of Dahomey, and has, if possible, been growing blacker ever since. But its weight, rather than its color, is its noticeable point. It is four weeks old and weighs one hundred and eighty pounds.—Newburyport Herald.

THERE is a gentleman living in Southampton, Va., who planted this year ten acres in strawberries. A few days since he contracted to sell them to a New York merchant for $10,000, he to pick and ship them. This is what we would call a profitable crop.

WHY is a horse like a reporter? Because he is found of table oats.

THE GREAT CHOLERA PREVENTATIVE.
I.
X. 1866. L.
THE GREAT
Zingari Bitters.

THIS WONDERFUL REMEDY was discovered and introduced about twenty years ago by Dr. S. Chospas, an eminent Egyptian physician.

He had long seen and felt the want of some remedy which would strike at the root of disease, and so prevent much of the suffering which the human family was then compelled to endure.

This great question was presented to his mind every day in vivid colors as he mserved among the sick and dying, and observed the inefficiency of nearly all the remedies then in use. This led to think and study and experiment; and after ten years' study and labor, he presented to his fellow-man the wonderful Zingari Bitters. The effect of this preparation in the prevention and cure of disease was so marvellous and astonishing, that the most flattering marks of royal favor were bestowed upon him who discovered it.—His name was placed upon the Roll of Nobles, and a gold medal with the following inscription—Dr. S. Chospas, the Public Benefactor—was presented to him by the Vicaroy.

The preparation has been used in several epidemics of cholera, both as a preventive and curative measure, and with such great success, that it has been introduced into nearly all the general hospitals of the old world.

The old saying that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, applies with marvellous force to cholera, and therefore any remedy that will protect us against this terrible disease should be freely and persistently used.

All pathologists now agree that the cholera poison acts on the system through the blood, and that any combination which acts on the excretory organs, and keeps them in working order, must prevent a sufficient accumulation of the poison to exert its terrible effects on the organism. This is true not only of cholera, but of nearly all other maladies, especially the different forms of fever.

The Zingari Bitters is just such a remedy as the above conditions require. It acts on the organs of excretion and secretion, leaving up a perfect balance between them. This Bitters is composed entirely of roots and herbs, so nicely concocted that every organ is acted upon and put in tone. Its taste is pleasant and its effects prompt and lasting.

Numerous cases of the following diseases have been cured by it: Cholera, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Scrofula, Typhoid and Typhus Fever, Fever, Ague, Nervous Debility, Anæmia, Female Irregularities, Dyspepsia, Flatulency, Colic, &c.

Price One Dollar per quart bottle.
