They are both equally good, and contain the sam addicinal virtues, the choice between the two being modicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of tasic, the Tonic being the most p-laistable. The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indiges-tion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathizing as closely as it does with the Stomach, then becomes af-ected, the result of which is that the patient suffers rom several or more of the following diseases Delights on swift pinions to roam,

Constipation, Fistulence, Inward Piles, Fulinesse Shood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heart-burn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Ernctations, Sinking or Fisturering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimmiss of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Saffocating, Fensations when in Lying Possure, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webshefore the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skinand Eyes, Plain in the Side, Back, Cheet, Limbs, et., Sadden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Fiest, Constant Imagining of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirit

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for he case, purchasing only that which he is assured from hivestigations and inquiries posessace true morti, skilfnily compounded, is free from injuriousing redient and has established for itself a reputation for the cut of these diseases.
