But for this Amendment, proposed by sagacious and patriotic statesmen, no one can doubt that the national sooner or later would be saddled with an enormous increase of the nation debt, while loyal men throughout the South would be confpelled to aid in paying similar debts contracted by municipal corporations. The election of Gen. GRANT last November, and the return of a strong Republican majority in both Senate and House of Representatives, secures the integrity of the 14th Constitutional Amendment, and precludes the possibility of any assumption, in whole or part, of the Rebel Debt, by the General Government. The Rebel make no effort in that direction. But antic frauds, Gen. Grant's popular ignoring the Amendment, they seek majority must have exceeded 500,000. DISTRESSING CASE OF SUFFOCA.

On Thursday last John McDonald and his tamily moved into the dwelling, No. 1007 South 10th steet, before it had been entirely finished. But one bedroom was in a condition for immediate use, and for the pur. pose of making it as comfortable as possible a stove was put up and a fire kindled. The kitchen contained a gas oven, the flue of which passed up alongside of the sleeping room. At a late hour the family, which consisted of Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, ther daughter Mary, aged five years, and Sarah Carr, the domestic, retired for night, leaving the door and windows closed. Mr. McDonald was awakened late in the morning with a choking sensation, the room being filled with gas. He immediately epened the door and windows and preceeded to arouse the other members of the family. This he found to be a difficult taskas they were in an unconscious state.
