The Star and Sentinel.

Gettysburg, Friday, Feb. 18, 1870.

[For the Star and Sentinel.

POOR BARNEY'S GONE!

Poor Barney's gone—my noble horse!
I ne'er shall drive him more!
All old their best his failing health
And functions to restore.

We dosed, and drenched, and blistered him.
Tried all our skill in vain,
Hill malady to overcome,
And drive away his pain!

We watched him long with anxious care,
By night and day we stood,
With willing hands to render him
The best relief we could.

We telegraphed the Farrier,
Amid the city's throng,
With all dispatch to come,
And bring his instruments along.

We then consulted sundry books,
In hopes to find in these
Some good specific safe and sure,
To give poor Barney ease.

In vain, alas! we tried our skill,
His sufferings to subdue;
No chance for good could we perceive,
He still no better grew.

So desperate became his case,
And caused me such delay,
That I at last abandoned hope,
And gave the horse away!

GRAPE VINES.

No one, in town or country, having a square yard of ground should be without a vine, and there are few varieties of fruit that could be made more profitable than the grape. Our object now, however, is not so much to recommend its cultivation as a business, but for the sake of the family. Everybody loves grapes, and in season there is no fruit more healthy, and none more easily raised, on a small scale at least; and if we can only induce some of our readers who have never turned their attention to the subject to plant out a few roots or cuttings this spring, we are confident that in a couple of years or so, when pulling from the vines the luscious bunches for their family table, they will inwardly bless us for having made the suggestion to them. A root—or if that is not so handy to be had—a cutting, which can be readily obtained from any one who has a vine upon his premises, can be stuck down in your yard, alongside of a fence, or what is better, against a wall, and as it progresses to be trained and tacked until reaching a height to require more support, when it can be trained along the fence or upright stakes supplied it to enable it to bear its increasing weight. You can, according to the room you have in the yard or garden, multiply the roots or cuttings. Of course you save at least a year in time by putting out the roots, and if to be obtained in no other way, you had better purchase some of the regular gardeners. Choose a warm exposure for the vines, and about ten to twelve feet apart, so as to allow plenty of room to spread, and not to be overshadowed by each other; if you plant out any number, on the side of a hill is preferable. Let the ground be well broken up where you plant them, and put with the soil a supply of rich mould or barnyard manure, or refuse from the tanners or shoemakers' premises; and, if you will go to the trouble of gathering up the bones about your yard and breaking them in small pices and place them around the roots, it will be an excellent manure and a protection too from mice. The ground about the rows of vines can be cultivated with any vegetable or plant desired which grows low, and the stirring of the ground, if the roots are not touched, will be beneficial. We would advise as about the best, for those who are going in on a small scale, at first to obtain the roots or plants of the Concord, the Delaware, the Catawba, the Diana, or the Isabella, as the varieties best suited for their purpose, as most reliable and easily obtained, and as well suited to our latitude.

THE WORLD,

DODGES' OHIO AND BUCKEYE

Reapers and Mowers.

A careful examination of these machines will commence any one of their superior merits over all others, in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability for work, on all kinds of ground, and in every variety of grass and grain. Confident of this we invite those in want of a good machine to examine for themselves before purchasing elsewhere.

These machines can be sold as Mowers—REAPERS as Hand Rake, Self-Rake, or Dropper—Two different sizes: No. 1 Machine, with two cutter bars and three Knives, cutting 5 and a half feet of grain and four feet eight inches in grass; No. 2, cutting four feet six inches.

We have that confidence in these machines that we are willing to let those wanting a machine test them with any other they may wish, and keep the one that gives most satisfaction. DODGES' AUTOMAN SELF-RAKE has given such general satisfaction that we consider it the best Self-Rake out, and is attached to no other machine except the Dodge Machine, the Ohio and Buckeye patent.

For the benefit of those wanting machines we would refer them to a few of those to whom we have sold the last season, viz:

John Deardorff, Sen.,
Ephraim Lady,
George Lady,
Jonathan Wisler,
James Mickley,
Daniel Settle,
John Bender,
John Eckert,
Wm. Funk,
Cornelius Lott,
Wm. Guldon,
Wm. Ross.
Also, WIRE TOOTH HAY RAKES, including the celebrated Brandt Rake, and Self-discharging Rakes, also, PLOUGH, FANNING MILLS, AND FARM IMPLEMENTS GENERALLY.

Henry King,
Hiland Penrose,
David Stewart
W. Ross White,
J. J. Kerr,
Andrew Weikert,

Persons wishing to examine machines will find them at the warehouse of JOSEPH WIBLE & Sons, Gettysburg, Pa., or at the residence of the subscriber, 2 miles from Gettysburg, on the Harrisburg road. Persons wanting Circulars will address the subscriber, Gettysburg, Pa.

STILL AHEAD!

HOFFHEINS'

REAPER & MOWER,

One of the Greatest Machines of the Age.

IS superior to any other Machine now in use, and will excel any that will ever be introduced, having been thoroughly tried and given general satisfaction. I would now inform all those who intend purchasing Machines to call and examine for themselves. This Machine is noted particularly to excel all other machines in strength, durability, ease of draft, and reliability of work, in all kinds of grass and grain. It cuts lodged grain admirably, which is a great item in Machines to a farmer. It can be used as a hand rake as well as a self-raker. It cuts 5 feet 2 inches in grain; 4 feet 10 inches in grass; has a steel cutter bar, with wrought iron guards; it can be used as a Single Mower as well as a Combined Machine.

A full trial of the Machine can be had.

Also, SHIELDS' NEW SELF-DISCHARGING HORSE RAKE, and the great and well-known BRANT RAKE, the best rake ever introduced. We would also call your attention to the UNION DOUBLE SHOVEL PLOUGH, wrought iron frame, very light and strong, steel shovels, easily adjusted to run shallow or deep, and is neatly and tastefully made.

ALSO, THE KEMLER AND EXCELSIOR FANNING MILL, the old Fanbrough Fan improved, for many years a great favorite among the farmers of Pennsylvania. It is large and strong, has two cockle screens, and warranted to work perfectly.

Also all kinds of FARMING IMPLEMENTS always on hand.

Any person wishing to examine these machines can see them at the Battle-field Hotel, or at my residence, 2 miles from Gettysburg, between the Taneytown road and the Baltimore pike.
