it was with the disciples of Coke and Blackstone, several of whom, it was known, steemed themselves far superior to those old and famous masters. The contrast between the disdainful counenance and outlandish garb of the stranger excited especially the rigibility of the lawyers, and the junior member began a suppressed titter, which soon grew louder and swept around the circle. They doubtless supposed the intruder to be some wild hunter of the mountains, who had never before seen the interior of a hall of justice. Instantly the cause and object of the laughter perceived it. Turning his head gradually, so as to give each laughter a look

It was the spell of an enchantment to be felt as well as seen .-We might feel it in the flashes of her countenance, clear as sunlight, brilliant as the iris; in the classic contour of her features, symmetrical as if cut with an artist's chisel; in her hair of rich ringlets, flowing without a braid, softer than silk, finer than gossamer; in her eyes, blue as the heaven of outhern summer, large, liquid, dreamy; in her motions, graceful, swimming, like the gentle wastures of a bird's wing in the sunny air; in her figure, slight, ethereal-a syph's or a scraph's; and more than all, in the everlasting smile of the rosy lips, so frank, so serene, so like starlight, and yet thrilling the soul as a shock of electricity, As the unfortunate girl, so tastefully dressed, so incomparable as to personal chaims, calmly took her place before the bar of her judge, a murmur of admiration female, till a shout of stifled wrath broke crose from the multitude, which the prompt interposition of the court could scarcely repress from swelling into deafening cheers.
