The Tribune aims to be pro-eminently a Newspaper. Its correspondents traverse every State, are present on every important battle-field, are early advised of every notable Cabmet decision, observe the proceedings of Congress, of Legislatures, and of Conventions, and report to us by telegraph all that seems of general interest. We have paid for one day's momentous advices from Europe by Cable far more than our entire receipts for the issue in which those advices reached our readers. If havish outlay, unskepping vigilance, and unbounded faith in the liberality and discernment of the reading public, will enable us to make a lournal which has no superior in the accuracy, varney, and freshness of its contents.

The Tribune shall be such a journal.

To Agriculture and the subservient arts, we have devoted, and shall persistently devote, more means and space than any of our rivals. We aim to make The Weekly Tribunes such a paper as no farmer can afford to do without, however will find therein a mine of suggestion and counsel, of which he cannot remain ignorans without post-tive and serious loss. We sell the The Weekly to Clubs for less than its value in dwellings for waste-paper; and, though its subscription is already very large, we believe that a Half Million morp farmers will take if whenever it shall be commedied to their attention.
