

TERMS OF THE GLOBE.

Table with 2 columns: Term (e.g., Per annum in advance, Six months, Three months) and Price (e.g., $1.00, .75, .50).

Original Poetry.

THE BLIND GIRL.

The wide, wide world is dark to me, The cheering sun is gone; The moon that once shone pleasantly, And through the forest ran on...

The rainbow on the purple clouds, Pencil'd by more than mortal skill, Ten glowing hues a rainbow sends...

Oh! brother, father, mother dear, Look on me in my woe; From your bright world, so fair and clear, And tell me not to grieve...

An angel whisper'd, as she slept, Come, sister, come, thy fall is o'er; Now welcome to the sacred shore...

Behold a willow's weeping buds, They laid the gentle dead; And o'er the tomb, the fragrant rose, Broom heaving for the noble dead...

See the beaming, smiling faces, As they gaily march along; See their artless, pleasing voices, Hear the music of their song...

Little pebbles, rise and dance, Sparkling eyes, merry faces, Happy, happy, in themselves, Move along with sprightly pace...

Mark! what sounds are those, Coming from the distant hill; As each note, each stanza flows, By the rippling, gliding rill...

See the festive board surrounded, How the tinkling bells call forth, Gaily, in each note is sounded, Mark, the beaming, modest worth...

Long-promised, sure reward, For the studious days and hours, They have put in in their lives, Amid the joys of reasoning powers...

Miscellaneous and Political.

THE GERMANS OF PENNSYLVANIA.

So deeply is the State of Pennsylvania indebted for her prosperity to the GERMAN portion of her citizens, that we feel that an article devoted to them will not be out of place in this meridian, where they comprise so large a part of the population.

WILLIAM LEWIS, HUNTINGDON, PA., JULY 9, 1856. VOL. XII. NO. 3.

which have raised the Germans of Pennsylvania to a degree of moral and political elevation surpassed by no other race of men in the world.

A Miner's Sermon. A young physician, who, after having received his diploma from one of our Medical Colleges, finding that there was no chance of gaining a livelihood by the practice of his profession in the place of his nativity, concluded to pack up his tools and emigrate to the Land of Gold on the Pacific.

Another fact, which never fails to rivet the attention of a stranger, is the extraordinary size and strength of their horses. A German horse is known in every part of the State.

The favorable influence of Agriculture, as conducted by the Germans, in extending human happiness, is manifested by the joy they express upon the birth of a child.

The German Mechanic, too, is a most useful and enterprising citizen, possessing all the traits of character in common with the Farmer.

But the genius of the Germans of Pennsylvania is not confined to Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts. Many of them have acquired great wealth, too, by foreign and domestic commerce.

Now, therefore, I renounce these diggings—I abscindicate the premises. I renounce the name of mine owner. I renounce the title of proprietor.

When it arose, it seemed as though another Pandora's box had been opened to scatter its evils and to shower its plagues upon a doomed community.

Had the Democratic party not met and overthrown this monster, what now untold and unknown evils might have been in store for the country!

The American Register, the Know-Nothing organ of Lancaster, is down like a "thousand of bricks" under the nomination of Fremont.

This will do.—Methinks, spare that dog-tongued man a single hair; he worries many a hog from out his muddy lair.

It is stated that coffee can be successfully cultivated in the south part of California, and that it will eventually become an article of export from that State.

"Americans Must Rule America."

In a former article, under the above caption, we endeavored to show how the Know-Nothing faction had misled and stultified the public mind, by the adoption of the specious motto, as their line of action, that "Americans must rule America."

We believe that Know-Nothingism, with all its various adjuncts and instincts, had its origin in a deadly and malignant hatred of the Democratic party.

The victorious Democracy had possession of the whole political field—itstar was in the ascendant everywhere and it promised to have undisputed sway, and to ensure the tranquillity of the country, for long years to come.

When it arose, it seemed as though another Pandora's box had been opened to scatter its evils and to shower its plagues upon a doomed community.

Had the Democratic party not met and overthrown this monster, what now untold and unknown evils might have been in store for the country!

The American Register, the Know-Nothing organ of Lancaster, is down like a "thousand of bricks" under the nomination of Fremont.

This will do.—Methinks, spare that dog-tongued man a single hair; he worries many a hog from out his muddy lair.

It is stated that coffee can be successfully cultivated in the south part of California, and that it will eventually become an article of export from that State.

Mozart.

Germany is rich in the fame of its gifted children, especially in those who possessed great musical genius.

Mozart was born at Salzburg, in 1756.—He lived but thirty-six years, yet his whole life was devoted to his art.

Connected with this is a legend which is often told, yet always thrilling to the lovers of the marvelous.

Mrs. Hausman has made this the theme of a beautiful poem, in which she attributes to Mozart the consciousness that a supernatural visitor had commissioned him to write his own requiem.

Flowers. In his joy and in his sorrow, man loves to surround himself with plants and flowers.

How to Boil Potatoes.—In Ireland potatoes are boiled to perfection; the humblest peasant places his potatoes on his table better cooked than could half the cooks in London.

How to Peel Potatoes.—In Ireland potatoes are boiled to perfection; the humblest peasant places his potatoes on his table better cooked than could half the cooks in London.

How to Boil Potatoes.—In Ireland potatoes are boiled to perfection; the humblest peasant places his potatoes on his table better cooked than could half the cooks in London.

How to Peel Potatoes.—In Ireland potatoes are boiled to perfection; the humblest peasant places his potatoes on his table better cooked than could half the cooks in London.

How to Boil Potatoes.—In Ireland potatoes are boiled to perfection; the humblest peasant places his potatoes on his table better cooked than could half the cooks in London.

How to Peel Potatoes.—In Ireland potatoes are boiled to perfection; the humblest peasant places his potatoes on his table better cooked than could half the cooks in London.

Domestic Economy.

Valuable Receipts.

FILET, OR ROUND OF BEEF.—Get the ribs of beef. Have ready pounded and sifted some cloves, mace, allspice, pepper, a few coriander seeds, a little salt-petre, and bay salt; mix all well together, rub your beef well, then tie it tightly up into a good round fillet; let it lie for a day or two, then put it into the oven to set the meat, after which place it in a stewpan with a little second stock; put fat bacon at the bottom of the stewpan, and half a pint of port wine, stew it about two hours, according to the size; make a very good sauce, reduce the liquor, and take off all the fat until sufficient to make the sauce, which you will add to some good gravy, with chopped dressed mushrooms; season with cayenne pepper and salt; if approved of, add some hot pickles of different colors, the last thing in the sauce. Add a dust of sugar to your sauce.

BRANDY Pudding.—Take some dried cherries or jar-raisons, stoned, and line a mould with them, add some thin slices of French roll, and a layer of ratafias or macaroons, then repeat the layers of fruit, rolls, and cakes, till the mould is full, pouring in at intervals two glasses of brandy. Beat four eggs, whites and yolks separately, add to them a pint of milk or cream slightly sweetened, half a nutmeg, and the rind of half a lemon grated, pour it into the mould, and when it has penetrated the solid, flour a cloth, tie it tight over, and boil an hour. Be careful to keep the mould the right side upwards.

AN EXPECTANT METHOD OF REMOVING THE TASTE OF GARLIC, OR WILD ONION, FROM MILK.—When the milk is new from the cow, pour one quart of boiling water into every gallon of milk; stir it through, and put the whole into broad shallow dishes, so that it will not be above two inches deep. Let these dishes be placed on an open shelf, that the vapor may pass freely and entirely away.

HORN-AIL.—A REMEDY.—Last spring one of my cows had the horn-ail or distemper very bad, and I thought I should lose her in spite of all I could do. I tried the different remedies I could hear of, but without effect.

How to Choose Beef.—True well-fed beef may be known by the texture and color; the lean will exhibit an open grain of deep coral red, and the fat will appear of a healthy, oily smoothness, rather inclining to white than yellow; the suet firm and white. Yellow fat is a test of meat of an inferior quality.

FOR NEURALGIC TROUBLES.—The application of towels, wrung out in hot water, to the forehead and temples, is represented to be an efficacious and speedy remedy for headaches arising from neuralgic affections.

FOR CROWS.—Seth Lee, of Connecticut, says he gets rid of the crows by the following easy method:— "He takes a small piece of fresh meat, or meat that has been fresh recently, for the nearer it is to carrion the better, as crows are not very nice in these matters, punches it full of small holes, into each of which he puts a small quantity of strychnine, and hangs the meat in a place near where the crows are known to frequent." Elevated an ignominious death one morning.

How to Boil Potatoes.—In Ireland potatoes are boiled to perfection; the humblest peasant places his potatoes on his table better cooked than could half the cooks in London.

How to Peel Potatoes.—In Ireland potatoes are boiled to perfection; the humblest peasant places his potatoes on his table better cooked than could half the cooks in London.

How to Boil Potatoes.—In Ireland potatoes are boiled to perfection; the humblest peasant places his potatoes on his table better cooked than could half the cooks in London.

How to Peel Potatoes.—In Ireland potatoes are boiled to perfection; the humblest peasant places his potatoes on his table better cooked than could half the cooks in London.

How to Boil Potatoes.—In Ireland potatoes are boiled to perfection; the humblest peasant places his potatoes on his table better cooked than could half the cooks in London.

How to Peel Potatoes.—In Ireland potatoes are boiled to perfection; the humblest peasant places his potatoes on his table better cooked than could half the cooks in London.