

Table with subscription rates: Per annum in advance $1.50, Six months .75, Three months .40, etc.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Table with advertising rates: Four lines or less, One square (12 lines), Two squares, etc.

Select Poetry.

DEMOCRATIC BATTLE HYMN.

Behold the furious storm is rolling, Which traitor hands are kindling; The bounds of war, let loose, are howling;

Buchanan and Breckinridge.

LETTER OF RUFUS CHOATE ON THE PRESIDENTIAL QUESTION.

From the Boston Courier, August 13.

The Whigs of Maine held a grand mass meeting in the town of Waterville yesterday.

Boston, Saturday, Aug. 9, 1856. Gentlemen: Upon my return last evening,

I appreciate most highly the honor and kindness of this invitation, and should have had true pleasure in accepting it.

My engagements, however, and the necessity and expediency of abstaining from all speech requiring much effort,

The first duty, then, of Whigs, not merely as patriots and as citizens,—loving, with a large and equal love our whole native land,—

But I am ashamed to talk to you in such a strain. You cannot and will not hug ignorance, impudence and assurance,

Very respectfully, your fellow-citizen, RUFUS CHOATE.

Letter of Michael Dan Magehan, Esq. This gentleman so will know, and who has always taken an active part in the politics of the country,

The Globe.

WILLIAM LEWIS,

—PERSEVERE—

Editor and Proprietor.

VOL. XII.

HUNTINGDON, PA., AUGUST 27, 1856.

NO. 10.

By such a danger: it is reason enough. Believing the noble ship of state to be within a half cable's length of the lee shore of rock,

If there are any in Maine—and among the Whigs of Maine I hope there is not one—but if there are any, in whose hearts strong passions,

And here! the popular shout is waiking in every breast a generous flame; And treason, in his den is quaking;

Do not despair ye millions pining In bloody fetters or the sea; The orb ye watch is not declining;

Buchanan and Breckinridge.

LETTER OF RUFUS CHOATE ON THE PRESIDENTIAL QUESTION.

From the Boston Courier, August 13.

The Whigs of Maine held a grand mass meeting in the town of Waterville yesterday.

Boston, Saturday, Aug. 9, 1856. Gentlemen: Upon my return last evening,

I appreciate most highly the honor and kindness of this invitation, and should have had true pleasure in accepting it.

My engagements, however, and the necessity and expediency of abstaining from all speech requiring much effort,

The first duty, then, of Whigs, not merely as patriots and as citizens,—loving, with a large and equal love our whole native land,—

But I am ashamed to talk to you in such a strain. You cannot and will not hug ignorance, impudence and assurance, friendship" may be "to resentment sours," and that no hatred is so keen, deep, and precious as that.

Very respectfully, your fellow-citizen, RUFUS CHOATE.

He has read the book of our history to still less purpose, who has not learned that the friendships of these States—sisters, but rivals—

I have not time in these hasty lines, and there is no need, to speculate on the details of the modes in which the triumphs of this party would do its work of evil.

If it accomplishes its object, and gives the Government to the North, I turn my eyes from the consequences. To the fifteen States of the South, that Government will appear an alien Government.

Where then is that noble, trustworthy, true party to which we belonged? Is it to be found in principle or practice among the Black Republicans?

But I am ashamed to talk to you in such a strain. You cannot and will not hug ignorance, impudence and assurance,

Now, sir, can I support Millard Fillmore? Can you support A. J. Donaldson? These are questions not easily answered by you.

Very respectfully, your fellow-citizen, RUFUS CHOATE.

Letter of Michael Dan Magehan, Esq. This gentleman so will know, and who has always taken an active part in the politics of the country, tion to support Buchanan and Breckinridge, regarding them as the only National candidates for the two highest offices in the gift of a free people,

My dear Sir:—The course which I have felt compelled to take in the approaching political contest,

The cherished doctrines of DANIEL WEBSTER and HENRY CLAY, will receive full acquiescence from me,

Where then is that noble, trustworthy, true party to which we belonged? Is it to be found in principle or practice among the Black Republicans?

But I am ashamed to talk to you in such a strain. You cannot and will not hug ignorance, impudence and assurance,

Now, sir, can I support Millard Fillmore? Can you support A. J. Donaldson? These are questions not easily answered by you.

Very respectfully, your fellow-citizen, RUFUS CHOATE.

Letter of Michael Dan Magehan, Esq. This gentleman so will know, and who has always taken an active part in the politics of the country,

When this bold attempt was made by wicked and designing men; the good and true friends of their country looked on with apathy and scorn.

than ignorance, and base, low bred bigotry, could be induced to enter into so unallotted a combination against the institutions planned by Washington,

Yet, this is the man! The great recipient of Whig favor, for whom I am not asked to vote! For he and his myriads declare to the world that the son of the Revolution,

I will not, by my vote, invoke Fillmore and Donaldson to make my vote a pariah.

But I fear I tire you. I can support Buchanan because he never advocated a violation of the constitution.

Where then is that noble, trustworthy, true party to which we belonged? Is it to be found in principle or practice among the Black Republicans?

But I am ashamed to talk to you in such a strain. You cannot and will not hug ignorance, impudence and assurance,

Now, sir, can I support Millard Fillmore? Can you support A. J. Donaldson? These are questions not easily answered by you.

Very respectfully, your fellow-citizen, RUFUS CHOATE.

Letter of Michael Dan Magehan, Esq. This gentleman so will know, and who has always taken an active part in the politics of the country,

Are Germans Bought?

Some of them at least are unpurchasable. The great mass of them are true, and will remain so. Money and a lie cannot buy them.

State of Pennsylvania, Northampton County, ss: Personally appeared before the subscriber, a Justice of the Peace in and for said county,

Sworn and subscribed August 4th, 1856, before me. J. P. H. E. WOLF, J. P.

The Presidential Election.

Every good citizen, on the return of a Presidential election, owes the duty to his country, to examine parties and their consequences;

There have been seventeen elections of President. Let the critical observer go over them all and look at the administration of them all; and he will find that all have had a national cast;

The same great feature is seen running through successive administrations. The whole world can offer no prouder catalogue of characters worthy to be called statesmen;

But I am ashamed to talk to you in such a strain. You cannot and will not hug ignorance, impudence and assurance,

Now, sir, can I support Millard Fillmore? Can you support A. J. Donaldson? These are questions not easily answered by you.

Very respectfully, your fellow-citizen, RUFUS CHOATE.

Letter of Michael Dan Magehan, Esq. This gentleman so will know, and who has always taken an active part in the politics of the country,