An Appeal for the Union---Letter from Hon. Robert J. Walker.

Ex-Secretary Walker has recently written a letter on the impending crisis in our political affairs, which has produced and is still producing a powerful impression upon the public mind. It is written with all the clearness, earnestness and force for which the writer is distinguished, and abounds in passages of heart-stirring eloquence of the purest and most elevated character. The character of this remarkable production may be inferred from the following thrilling and patriotic appeal which closes the letter:

"Let those of the North who tell you there is no danger shrink from the fearful responeibility they have assumed ere the evil day shall come apon us. They tell us there is no danger—that they have heard this cry of danger to the Union; but there is no peril. None in 1820, none in 1833, none in 1850, and the warnings of Washington were a delusion. Why, then, did they call Henry Clay the great pacificator, and announce that thrice he had saved his country? How he saved the Union if it never was in danger? But it was imperilled, and it was saved by measures adopted by the votes of the North and the South. But now the Union between the North and the South, so far as the votes for the sectional candidates of the so-called 'republican' party is concerned, is already dissolved; for no man anticipates a solitary electoral vote for those candidates in any State of the South; but this controversy is to be settled exclusively in favor of and by the exclusive vote of the North; and the rights, wishes and interests of the South are to be wholly disregarded.

"Beware, my countrymen, ere it it is too late, how you adopt these perilous counsels. Give no vote that puts the Union in the slightest peril.-Make no such fearful experiment. Friends of the Union, of all parties, our enemies are combined; they have fused, and under their united efforts the pillars of the constitution and of the Union are rocking to their base, and we may have assembled in November next for the last time under our country's flag, and as citizens of a common Union. The enemies of the Union have united, and why should we be separated?

The flag of the North 'American' party, as they call themselves, is trailing in the dust, and is replaced by the black 'republican' standard. Your leaders have surrendered the American flag, and taken in exchange the African banner. They have capitulated at discretion; they have surrendered your candidates and principles, and demand your votes for the candidates and platform of the black 'republican' party. Friends of the Union, come and unite with us to save the Union! Come, without any 'surrender of principle on your part or ours, to the rescue of our country. In my inmost soul I believe that James Buchanan is the only man on whom in sufficient force, the friends of the Union can unite to save the

'Come democrats, come whigs, come friends of the Union of every party—come to the rescue of that Union which James Buchanan loves so well, and to preserve which the patriot statesman of Pennsylvania has given a long life of devoted service. Come, my brother, give me your hand; let us save the election, the administrative measures about which we now differ. Come in the name of our common country, now in the agony of an approaching convulsion! Come, in the name of the constitution and of the Union. now subjected to imminent peril! Come in memory of the commingled blood of the North and the South poured out on the battle-fields of the revolution! Come in the name of the liberties of the world, which would be crushed by the fall of the American Union! Come with the farewell warnings of Washington on your lips and imprinted on your hearts-not in sectional array of the North against the South, but in the glorious panoply of our whole country, from North to South, from East to West! Let the thirtyone columns wheel into line, and with the same inspiring battle-cry, pealing from rank to rank, re-echoing from State to State, Tue UNION-TO THE RESCUE! Let us together march to the polls, as our fathers did in the hour of peril, to the music and flag of the Union.

[Correspondence of the Public Ledger.] Reliable News from Kansas.

LECOMPTON, K. T., October 3, 1856. MESSRS. EDITORS:-The unexpected success of Gov. Geary in restoring peace to this troubled Territory so soon after assuming the executive office, must be a source of sincere gratulation to all good citizens of the American Union, to whatever section they may be attached, or whatever may be their peculiar political complexions. There are some parties, no doubt, who would have preferred the deferment of this desirable event until after the Presidential canvass, as it has deprived them of their most effective electioneering thunder. To these, "Peace in Kansas," is most disagreeable news, which it is quite evident they are extremely loath to believe.-False and lamentable statements of the awful condition of things here, still find places in their publications, for the unworthy object of political speculation. Since the disbandment and dispersion of the Territorial militia, the capture of Harvey's hired marauders at Hickory Point, and the driving out of the Territory of the notorious agitator, James H. Lane, no serious outbreak has occurred, and a feeling of security everywhere exists.

A few days since numerous apparently well authenticated reports reached the Executive Department that Lane had collected in Iowa large reinforcements, numbering about a thousand men, with which, and three brass field pieces, he was again about to invade the Territory with hostile intentions. Consequently, on the 28th ult., five hundred U.S. Dragoons, with a battery of light artillery, were despatched to the northern frontier to intercept them, and bring him prisoner to Lecompton should he be found in Kansas.— This force has not yet returned, nor has any account of their operations been received.

can be more readily imagined than described. No prowling bands of marauders could be seen watching for prey upon the distant hills, or flying for safety through the ravines; nor travellers, fearing all who approached them to be enemies, dashing from the main road into the extensive prairies. On the contrary, everything was indicative of peace, confidence, and returning prosperity. Females ride alone on horseback from settlement to settlement; and wagons, unattended and loaded with household goods, and men, women and children traversed the roads in perfect safety. Workmen were everywhere employed in rebuilding their burned houses and in taking in and securing their ripened

Upon reaching Lawrence, the happy influnces of restored peace were conspicuously displayed. No guards surrounded the town; nor were there mounted spies to watch its several avenues. Squads of idlers no longer hung about the streets. The stores were all opened, and business had actively resumed. Gloom had forsaken the countenances of the people, and cheerfulness seemed to pervade the entire community. The Governor was received with the utmost cordiality, and his visit, which continued through the day, ren-dered especially agreeable. A company of militia is being enrolled here which is nearly full, and ready, for protective purposes, to be mustered into the U.S. service. A general determination seemed to prevail to cultivate a spirit of industry, peace and good or-

On our return to Lecompton we stopped at various of the settlements, and, in every instance, found the families entirely freed from all apprehensions of further disturbance, and in the enjoyment of the fullest contentment.

In Lawrence and along the road the inhabitants generally acknowledged a feeling of thankfulness and joy that the political tricksters and demagogues had departed from the country, and all expressed the hope that they would never be permitted to return. The opinion among the actual citizens is universally entertained, that the men brought into the territory by these agitators, ostensibly to protect its injured citizens, but actually to plunder and destroy, brought with them all the elements of indolence, vice and crime.— Hundreds of these miserable wretches, now deserted by those whose dupes and tools they have been made, and no longer daring to continue their acts of violence, are left here a burden to the territory and a curse to its prosperity. The good people of the North and of the South, whose money collected these vagabonds together, and sent them here to prey upon the substance and blast the happiness of the peaceable and honest settlers, have to answer for most of the crimes that have been committed in Kansas, for at their door they must in truth be laid.

We want no more recruits furnished by Northern Aid Societies, nor yet from the purlieus of Southern and Western towns. Let the charitable citizens of the States bestow their funds upon the poor and suffering that are dwelling in their midst. It will be far more serviceable to the world than being squandered upon the unworthy men who have been acting as their agents in this re-We neither want their money, their agents, nor the class of men they send us .-These are the brigands, the incendiaries and the assassins with which the territory has been overrun. We have industry, virtue and patriotism enough among our inhabitants to guard our own interests; and so long as we can keep back the destructive pressure of outside influence and interference, we shall have no more obstacles to surmount nor difficulties against which to contend. The only country first, and then settle, at some future immigrants we need or desire, are those who come to settle and cultivate our lands, prosecute mechanical labors, establish manufactories, drive our saw and grist mills, and give a fresh and vigorous impulse to our commerce. Providence has given us one of the most beautiful and fertile countries in the world, and we only need the proper sort of population to make it an earthly paradisc.

The policy and energy of Governor Geary are rapidly driving out every "foul and unclean thing," and under his healthy administration, that which had been made but a short time since little better than a "howling wilderness," is already beginning to "bloom and blossom as the rose." The good work thus auspiciously begun will be pushed with untiring vigor and activity to a speedy and happy consummation.

The bona fide inhabitants of the territory are consenting to unite with each other to put an end to the suicidal strife which has so long distracted them, and to work shoulder to shoulder in their efforts to cultivate and adorn the goodly heritage that has been given them. The doctrines of popular sovereignty, upon which the new Governor has formed his entire policy, have taken root in their understandings and their hearts, and they are willing to wait patiently the proper time to decide, like true Republicans and as good citizens, at the proper place and in the proper manner, the vexed question as to what shall or shall not be their peculiar local in-J. H. G. stitutions.

WHITE LABORERS LOOK HERE!-Henry Clay, in a letter to Mr. Colton, dated September 2, 1813, thus warns the white laboring man of the dangers of Abolitionism .-

Mr. Clay, said: "But the great aim and object of your tract should be to arouse the laboring classes in the Free States against Abolition. Depict the consequences to them of immediate abolition. The slaves being free would be dispersed throughout the Union; they would enter into competition with the free laborer, with the American, the Irishman, the German; reduce his wages; be confounded with him; and affect his moral and social standing. And as the ultras go for both Abolition and Amalgamation, show that their object is to unite in marriage the laboring white man and the laboring black woman, and to reduce the laboring man to the despised and degraded condition of the black man. - HEN-RY CLAY." The Philadelphia "News," a Fillmore paper, of September 18, publishes the letter from which the above startling extract was taken, and says:

"At this moment when some of our best citizens who have been Whigs, are denounced because they will not join the Black Republican ranks, this letter from Henry Clay is most apposite. It points out briefly and clearly the baneful tendencies of Black Reaccount of their operations been received.—The probability, however, is that Lane has too much regard for his personal safety to venture again into this Territory.

Yesterday I attended the Governor on a visit to Lawrence. We rode down in a buggy, accompanied by a solitary orderly on horseback. Two weeks ago the journey could not have been made with safety without a strong force of U. S. Dragoons. The change in the aspect of things along the road.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Union.]. Letter From San Francisco. SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA,

September 20, 1856. Messes. Editors:—As the mail is about closing, it may not be amiss to give you some items of California news.

This State contains a Democratic majority over all opposing factions. The Know Nothings and Blacks, at present, are about equal in numbers—so that if the election were to come to-morrow we would get this State by about 20,000 plurality, at least. But I have seen enough of factions and isms to know. that they will always coalesce against the Democratic party. The Fillmore men, just now, are very much staggered-or, as we say, weakened—by the bad news that they get from the States. As the day of election approaches, it will be the more evident that Fillmore stands no chance, and then the majority of his party here will go over to the Blacks; and their worthy compeers of the Vigilance Committee here will join the motley crew. But, all will be in vain. We shall beat them all combined. Buchanan and Breckinridge will carry our State by at least 10,000 majority. This you may rely on. The treason of the Vigilance Committee has not been quite so active of late. It permitted Durkee and Rand to be tried by the Federal Court, and contented itself with sending its perjured minions on the jury, and threatening through their organs resistance and disunion in event of a conviction. Their organization remains complete. They have from two to three thousand arms, and avow their purpose to override the laws and constituted authorities wherever they think proper. At present they are engaged in a hunt for spoils. They have got up a ticket for county officers and the legislature, and have put up for sheriff their generallissimo, Marshal Doane. The office is worth some $60,-000 per year, which I take to be quite an adequate reward for committing the crimes of murder, kidnapping and treason. In a long list of their candidates we find men whose only claim is that they have trampled on the Constitution and the laws. I have strong hopes that even here in San Francisco, we shall be able to beat, by regular Democratic nominations, this gang of traitors, although they will be aided by their Black Republican Yours truly, L. Q. W.

It is a very common thing now-a-days to hear men talk lightly, and in a spirit of indifference, about the dissolution of the Union. It is no longer a startling announcement to hear men express their deliberate convictions that this confederacy of States will be dis-any other part of the world—but the aristocracy and monarchists of Europe. It is for their accommodation that this Union is to be dissolved. It is to please them that republican institutions are to be blotted out of existence. The American people should see to it.

Political Parsons.

The Reverend John Holmes, a political clergyman of the Black Fusion party, and one of the three thousand who signed that blasphemous protest to Congress, has recently seduced and absconded with a girl of sixteen, the only daughter of a poor widow, leaving his own wife and two small children in destitute circumstances.—This is the twelfth case of seduction and ruin of young girls, or of running away with other men's wives, by these political priests who signed that protest to Congress, are equally corrupt as the twelve who have been proven guilty of these heinous crimes, it does most emphatically show the corrupt and base heart of those political priests who descend from the hely office of preaching "peace on earth and good will toward men," to the unworthy one of spouting Fremont, fanaticism and disunion. These political buzzards who hover over the land in the sombre robes of their holy professions, preying upon the youth, virtue and innocence of the female sex, are an indispensable ingredient in the composition of the mongrel party that now seeks to lay violent hands on the Constitution, and while they pillage the temple of liberty, prostitute the national government to their unholy purpo-

Mr. Henry had enjoyed an unusual degree of health, up to the time when he was attacked with the disease which terminated his life. He was attacked with dysentery, which eventually assumed a typhoid form. Although every thing was done which medical skill and the most assidious attention could do, yet, he at length, fell before the power of the common enemy of our race.

Mr. Henry was a good specimen of a generation which will soon have passed away. He was dignified in his manner, mild in his temper, pleasant in his intercourse with his fellow-men, and unusually confiding in his disposition. As a husband he was kind, and as a parent affectionate and indulgent. He was a good man and a good citizen. It this confederacy of States will be very lived within ten years! The time was, and we can well remember it,—when such a ediction would cause a shudder in every sin, and the word "Tratron" would into the property of preservation of the lips of every uditor.

Why this change? Is the Union less worthy of preservation now, than it was well be worth and the word of the property of preservation now, than it was well be property years ago? Has our beloved country fulfilled the glorious mission destined for it by the founders of the Republic? Can't house of other nations? Does misery, and morthly preserving &c. We have no hesitation in accomplish no further good for the human family? Are our people loss happy than those of other nations? Does misery, and wretchedness, and mortal suffering prevail to a greater extent in our land than any other? If none of these things, then why should it be dissolved?

But there is a class who are dissatisfied. They are few in number, but powerful in resources. They 'gray nightly that this accursed Union may be dissolved," say they; and if so, it is for the purpose of accommodation. They are few in number, but powerful in resources.
