

THE GLOBE

Huntingdon, Wednesday, Nov. 12, 1856.

Line upon Line—Here and There a Little.

In Session—Our County Court. The attendance is reasonably large.

Long—Black Republican faces.

Short—Their replies to all questions concerning the Forged Circular and the Rocky Mountain Mustang.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

The "Journal" on the morning of the election, called the forged names, was a weak attempt to assume an air of honesty and they now must lie and slander to screen themselves from public reprobation.

The "Journal" of this morning decries that the FORGED CIRCULAR was intended to be kept secret in Huntingdon until it was too late for the Americans to counteract it.

MEN PLEASERS.—Some one says that the best thing for an editor to do is, to please himself, listen to counsel, but condemn dictation, think as he pleases, and do as he likes.

The greatest natural curiosity of the present day would be a neutral politician.

Don't do such soon.—The pictures distributed throughout our county, previous to the election, by the Black Republicans, representing Gen. Cass as an assassin—holding a man (a Ward Beecher emigrant, we suppose) by the neck with his left hand, and a dagger in his right, in the act of striking, while his tongue is hanging out thirsting for blood! "Oh, Liberty! what crimes are committed in thy name!"

PICTURES.—Pictures of another kind can be had of E. P. BURTTON, at the Station House. They will please you, and may be to your friends "a joy forever" as they are "things of beauty." We recommend our friends from the country to look at and examine specimens of Ambrotypes and Daguerotypes at the above named place.

WRITTEN DOWN TO THE "LITTLE END OF NOTHING."—The Black Republican party in Huntingdon county. It is the party that was to give 1500 majority, but didn't. The returns show that they polled 926 white votes! And they threaten to "swallow up" 1645 Americans! The Republicans must be of the Box Constrictor genus! But when they go through that straining operation we want a sight! Put down our name!

A JUVENILE ORATOR.—Master GEORGE W. PLUMMER, of Tyrone, delivered an address in the Court House before the M. E. Sunday School, on Sunday last, which, taking into consideration his age—being but 11 years old—was as good, if not better, than any address we have ever listened to upon the same subject. It is quite evident from his enunciation, and style of gesture, that he has been under the tuition of our esteemed friend, Max. GREENE, Esq., as both indicated that he has been trained according to Professor Comstock's Rules of Elocution, Mr. Greene having been, to our personal knowledge, a pupil of Comstock while in Philadelphia. Many blessings were asked for the young boy—and we predict for him, should he live, a name and a reputation that will be world wide. He is in the hands of a good man.

CUMBERLAND VALLEY INSTITUTE, at MECHANICSBURG, CUMBERLAND COUNTY, PA.—This deservedly popular Institution, owned and conducted for several years by the Rev. JOSEPH S. LOOSE, has, we understand, been sold to I. D. RUPP, Esq., and Professor HUGH COYLE, for the sum of $8000; and that these gentlemen of a well earned reputation as successful teachers, will, aided by other experienced and qualified assistants, give instruction in all the ordinary and higher branches, of a practical English education, as well as a regular classical course, embracing Latin, Greek, German, and French. Their terms are moderate. The accommodations the very best.

The Rev. LOOSE will continue till the 1st of April next, when he will be succeeded by Professors RUPP and COYLE.

PENMANSHIP.—If any of our readers want to see the best specimens of penmanship ever exhibited in Huntingdon, they should visit the Commercial School Room in the Court House. There are few, if any, in town or country who could not in a short time greatly improve in the art under the instruction of Prof. MORRISON. Call and examine his specimens.

NEW BOOKS.—Dr. Kane's Arctic Expedition, Irving's Life of Washington, The Forum, by David Paul Brown, Dred, and many other new books, together with school books, by the hundred, of every kind used in the country, has just been received at the Huntingdon Book Store.

A meeting of the Huntingdon County Agricultural Society, will be held at the Court House, this evening, at the ringing of the bell. The Executive Committee will meet at the Town Hall, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The November number of the PENNSYLVANIA SCHOOL JOURNAL has been received. We commend its articles to the teachers of Huntingdon county as worthy of their serious attention and consideration.

CHANGES.—Col. Wm. WILLIAMS has taken the Farmers' Hotel, and is ready on hand to accommodate the public giving him a call. The Col. will be a popular landlord.

Mr. HENRY McMANIGILL, has taken the extensive Drug Store of Col. Wm. Williams, and will spare no pains to give full satisfaction to all who may patronize him. His assortment is fresh and of the best.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

Huntingdon County—Official.

DISTRICTS.

Barre, 193 11 3 46

Cass, 51 65 40 4

Brady, 79 41 63 4

Clay, 51 51 33 14

Cromwell, 94 63 92 2

Dublin, 68 67 27 1

Franklin, 100 39 13 107

Henderson, 79 8 13 39

Huntingdon, 176 49 49 70

Hopewell, 61 46 47 7

Jackson, 122 86 4 76

Morris, 43 17 1 72

Penn, 42 35 79 1

Porter, 127 33 13 126

Shirley, 131 54 88 3

Union, 45 30 19 5

Springfield, 120 37 5 31

Tell, 124 11 121 10

Tod, 100 27 35 33

Walker, 100 42 5 25

Warriorsmark, 61 10 109 15

West, 101 29 2 30

Birmingham, 16 4 13 6

Murray's Run, 5 11 28 8

Petersburg, 93 28 1 19

2164 926 908 737

The Latest Election Returns.

TENNESSEE.

The nearly complete returns from 72 counties, give a Democratic majority of about 20,000. The State has undoubtedly gone for Buchanan by a large majority.

ILLINOIS.

There seems to be some doubt about the result of Illinois. A despatch from Chicago, dated yesterday, says that no one knows how the State has gone, and that the probabilities favor Buchanan. P. S. Illinois is certain.

ALABAMA.

Our advices from Alabama report large Democratic gains in almost every county.—The majority is estimated at 20,000.

FLORIDA.

The returns from Florida are very incomplete, but indicate a majority of 1000 for Buchanan.

INDIANA.

The official majorities in thirty-three counties of Indiana, show a Democratic gain of 9043. The Western counties show a Republican gain of 1615. Buchanan's majority, as far as heard from, is 11,925, which will be reduced to about 10,000.

MICHIGAN.

A despatch from Detroit, says that thirty-three counties in Michigan give the Republicans 18,589 majority. Full returns will make it 26,000.

GEORGIA.

The returns from Georgia are now nearly all in. The Democratic majority will reach 17,000.

NORTH CAROLINA.

The Raleigh Standard has returns from thirty counties, which show that the gains for Buchanan and Fillmore are about even, as compared with the vote in August last, when the Democrats carried the State by 12,000 majority.

RHODE ISLAND.

The full vote of Rhode Island for President stands 11,379 for Fremont; Buchanan 6580; Fillmore 1663. Nearly one-third of Mr. Fillmore's strength was in Newport.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Returns from 211 towns in New Hampshire, being all but 18 in the State, give Buchanan 31,444; Fremont 37,209; Fillmore 408.

The Vote of the Southern Counties of the Free States.

The Southern Counties of New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, all show large Democratic gains. This fact proves that those people of the free States who reside near the slave States, who have opportunities of perceiving the practical workings of slavery and who have had for years a considerable negro population among them,—the very people who know most practically about this question, are the most determined in their opposition to the crusade upon the South inaugurated by Black Republicanism. In the States and Counties farthest removed from the slave States, Northern Illinois, Northern Indiana, Northern Ohio, Northern New York, and Vermont, Maine, and Massachusetts, where negroes are curiosities, where little is known of their character, or the practical workings of slavery—and where the greatest amount of ignorance upon this subject prevails, Black Republicanism receives its largest majorities.

A Striking Contrast.

The Pennsylvanian asks candid and intelligent men to reflect for one moment, upon the striking contrast which the two large cities, Philadelphia and New York, where the Democrats gave such overwhelming majorities, and the strongholds of Know-Nothingism, Baltimore and New Orleans. In the two former, the Democrats have the control of the police force, in the latter that force is subservient to Know-Nothingism. In the two former cities, every person legally entitled to vote, was allowed to do so without hindrance or molestation; in the two latter cities, legal voters were driven from the polls and thousands were prevented from voting by threats, violence and intimidation.

In Baltimore especially, the city presented the appearance of a town taken by storm; men were shot down as remorselessly for attempting to vote, as if they had been venomous serpents; or ferocious wild beasts. The Know-Nothing Mayor, we have no doubt, enjoyed the appalling spectacle as much as Nero is said to have done that of the burning of Rome. The list of killed and wounded more resembles that of a pitched battle, than the consequences of a riot. Mayor Hicks has won laurels that will be enduring as cast iron. However beautiful they may now be in his own estimation, they will sooner or later become hissing serpents and pierce his brain with remediless woe.

PENNSYLVANIA COMMERCIAL INSTITUTE.—We invite attention to the advertisement of this Institute located at YORK, PA., T. KIRK WHITE, President.

New Cook Book.—Of all the Cook Books published, Wildfield's is the best. It should be in every family.

Now that the election is over, we will have time to execute job work in the neatest style, and on short notice.

Pennsylvania.

From the returns of this State received so far, we believe FREMONT is in a minority in Pennsylvania of nearly 200,000, and his minority may be still greater. Abolitionism and sectionalism are at a low discount in Pennsylvania, and her vote clearly shows that FREMONT has not received a majority of the votes polled in the non-slaveholding States.

NEW COUNTERFEIT.—A new counterfeit ten dollar bill on the Girard Bank, Philadelphia, has made its appearance, which may deceive the unwary. It is easily detected, however, by its having on the right-hand end of the note a group consisting of a man and woman, in place of the medallion head of Stephen Girard, which appears on both ends of the genuine. In other respects it is a tolerable imitation of the good note. The signatures, however, are stiff, and the general execution is rather coarse. The note detected is dated July 10th, 1856, Letter B. No. 870.

Marriage and Divorce in California.

ADVICE TO LADIES.

San Francisco Correspondence of the New Orleans Picayune.

By reference to the law columns of our journals, you will perceive that we are in, on an average, for four divorces every day. And what is not a little singular is, that the application generally comes from the weaker vessel. Perhaps you will get your ears pulled for publishing it, but I must, in all fairness, say the root of the evil is that women are naturally a little too fond of admiration. Here, in this city, we have at least seven men to one woman, and in the interior the disproportion is much larger. The consequence is that, as in the case of all scarce commodities, the article commands more than its intrinsic value. "It is a good deal sought after," as the quotations sometimes run, on a popular railroad track.

The feminine is quickly caged; the husband is in ecstasies for about a fortnight, but not quite so exalted the succeeding two weeks. Her forty other lovers not easily finding another unappropriated piece of dexterity to soothe their disappointment, make friendly calls upon the lost Pleiad, and by exceeding sympathy with her at the coolness of her husband, win her regard, and then their attentions are so much more delicate than those of her lord, that the poor, weak thing finds that she has committed a great error in her choice, especially if the new flame is rich and generous, and the old one rather plain and economical. An application for divorce is the result.

Hundreds have no other excuse to offer in making the application than "un