Will one of our legal friends, who has 'nothing else to do,' give an opinion?-for the fun of the thing.

WANT TO KNOW-When it became the fashion for a Blair county newspaper to repeatedly assail a private citizen?— Answer-Since ye era of ye dog-chubs.

A man having published another as a liar, a scoundrel, and a politroon, the latter complains that he does not spell poltroon correctly.

AT FANNY FERN, speaking of matrimonial advertise ments, and women generally who show an anxiety to change their situations, says :

Fanny is about right in her preaching, but we are a little dubious about her practice.

TOUCHED IN THE RAW-The Altoona Tribune finds it hard to forget the editorial recreations of the "Iron Democrat." Although the Tribune "crabbed down" whilst the native author was in the chair, since he has ceased to edit any paper, it has pusilianimously heaped six columns of personal abuse upon that gentleman. Hope they feel

A NEW WRINKLE IN PRINTING.—The Hollidaysburg used for emphatic words. For particulars, see communications of "an old run-out man."

SUITING THE ACTION TO THE WORD .- There is a controversy going on in the columns of the Hollidaysburg Register respecting the merits of the Forgemen's Aid Society .-Judging from the late articles of Messieurs A. W. Benedict and Max. Greene, their antagonist is now literally, what he never was before-" a run out man."

After all that is written and published about the extravagance of ladies in dress, for that only is chargeable, there is more among men, with their late hours, fast horses, fine cigars, liquors and fast women. The extravagance is not all on one side, and a precise balance of the account would not bring the ladies in debt.

@a." Gabriel, Jr." is said to have met a boy the other day upon the street: "Sonny," says he, "what is your opinion of soft crabs?" "That they are not the only soft things in the world," was the significant reply. That boy is bound for till rise!

PROMOTED UP.—Seeing the "Angel Gabriel" has gone dead in a penitentiary, our Gabe is entitled to leave off the "Junior."

Witty-cur in the character of Dog-berry-"Write him down an ass."-Shakespear.

WENT UP ROCKET AND CAME DOWN STICK .- At the opening of the lecture season, the Register pompously announced that a committee of the Hollidaysburg Lyceum was in negotiation with Ralph Waldo Emerson, Dr. Chapin, George Washington Curtis, Dr. Bethune, Joseph R. Chandler, Horace Greeley, George Munday, and other eminent orators .-In conclusion, that learned jurist, the editor, said that Hun tingdon ought also to establish a lecturing association.— But it would seem their own institution has not been heard from since the departure of Lucy Stone. Is it true that their negotiation with Bayard Taylor was broken off by Yet, notwithstanding these and many similar his having gone to Lapland to avoid our hard winter?

The advent of Mr. BEHR in our borough—the man who plays two tunes on the piano at the same time—has given a fresh impulse to the music movement, and the of Mrs. Hanegar. These pupils, by the way, are making rapid progress in the "divine art," and doing great credit to their accomplished and talented instructress.

NOTHING NEW-A grinder of the poor contending for Equity, and signing his published articles Equitas. Assume a virtue, though you have it not.

ATThe canal, we are informed, is in a sad condition for an early opening. Reform is progressing crab-like in this neighborhood. A head to direct, and a little money, would make all right in a few weeks.

FILLING UP-Our county jail. We have heard of numerous, jail birds that ought to be caged. . ATTHE MARCH OF INTELLECT.—Altoona has its lecture association these times as well as Hollidaysburg. After twice postponing it, on account of the weather, the prestige of Dr. Junkin's name brought together an audience to hear the initial lecture-but so slim was the attendance, that the Tribune fears the course will break down, after beginning in the middle of the winter. Of course it will, unless the senior editor of that paper consents to repeat his "cat-

Conganecker, President of the Lancaster Bank in 1855, and Bachman, Cashier at the same time, have been arrested and are held to bail in the sum of $4000 on a charge of embezzling the funds of the bank. McKim, the murderer of Norcross, has not yet been arrested. $2,200 are now offered for his arrest. Sung at the cutting down of the Fillmore poles:.

Just let 'em stand for fun." The virtuous correspondent under cover of whose name dog-chubs slander respectable citizens-

Which knaves do use, that's called a fool." Woman is like ivy-the more you are ruined the closer she clings to you. A vile old bachelor adds: Ivy is like woman-the closer it clings to you the more you are ruined. Poor rule that don't work both ways. Knock down that bachelor! & Witty-cur-

"More prevish, cross and splenetic Than dog distract or monkey sick."

It is said that Messrs. Tiffany & Co., of New York, sold, last week, a single diamond, to be worn in a ring, for $6,500 cash? It was the central stone of a $14,000 necklace, which has been exhibited for some time past at their Only think of it! Six thousand five hundred dollars for a jewel, a bauble, to deck the finger of some rich man or woman. What extravagant folly; what wickedness. How many cheerless, downcast, sorrowing hearts would the cost of that ring, at this dreary season, make leap with joy!-It would save many from want, perhaps destruction. The purchaser of that ring will have much to answer for when the account is rendered of its owner's stewardship.

It has often been remarked, that children will frequently ask questions, which even the wisest are puzzled to answer. "Mother," exclaimed Charley, "how big was I when you was a little girl?" Wasn't that a poser, SENSIBLE.—It is getting to be the fashion in some quarters to enclose a gold dollar with marriage notices when sending them to the printer. The custom is a good one, and should prevail everywhere. The marriage fee to the preacher should always be accompanied with a dollar for the printer:

"Six dollars to printer and priest, No sensible man should refuse; Five dollars to render him blest, And one to publish the news!"

Arouse ye, warbling frogs, and sweetly sing, The budding beauties of the new-born Spring!

NOT YET READY-Wm. Brewster, for the investigation Hope he is not trying to play the sneak. As we intend to be an applicant for re-appointment we want the report of the committee to forward with our application. Hurry up the investigation, Billy.

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE GLOBE. Common School.

GREENE-VALE FARM (Broad Top), Feb. 9th, 1857. Editor of the Globe: This dreary, drizzling weather drives one's thoughts indoor to busy themselves with occupations that cause us to forget the dim day without. Such rainy spells were the most comfortable of our schoolboy time. When there was no bright side to creation to be seen from the schoolhouse windows, the interior wore a cosy look by contrast, and books and slates were mentally voted not such bad things after all. So we of old Morris township used to feel, in that 'lang syne" when Dudley Burnham swayed the imperial rod. That was before Thad. Stevens had carved out the Free School epoch, while the three r's (reading, 'riting and 'rith-metic) were taught us by subscription. With the new system, many a new schoolhouse has grown out of the ground, and there are now few children of ten, within the borders of old Huntingdon, who have not learned at least to read. The young Dudleys, too, ed at least to read. The young Dudleys, too, before her, and grasped her by the throat, are better drilled in their profession; and in the vicinity from which this is written. Cassthe vicinity from which this is written, Cassville Seminary is sending out graduates yearly, well prepared for their arduous, honorable the occurrence, entered, and seeing Mrs.

Yet in all the hundred schools of interior Pennsylvania which I have had the honor of visiting during the past season, there is manifest room for improvement before they reach the New England standard. It may be humiliating to acknowledge this, but to know it is the first essential toward bringing about changes for the better. Few of our teachers Register is now issued in italic—the font of roman being are qualified to give instructions in vocal music, map-drawing is seldom taught, and in no school were cards distributed for drawing to charm away the restless hours of younger

In some districts, too, I came upon vestiges of ancient barbarism that might well have astonished an older traveler. The big boys of a certain village school in Blair county, that I wot of, still keep up the Christmas custom of "barring out"-and all for the sweet reward of a stick of candy. As might be inferred, they are blessed with a pedagogue to match the population. During the Christmas holidays of 1855, this said school being assembled inside of the house, while the master was detained by force of circumstances on the outside, said pedagogue, not being able to "hold himself," threw a stone as big as his nead, at the aforementioned house, which went crashing through the window-sash, and grazing the heads of two little children, rolled on the floor amid the group of dismayed rebels. The same individual since, getting into a wrangle with his preacher in church meeting, upon being accused of peculation, flung a book (the bible) in the preacher's face. displays of violent temper, this person is retained in his place as an instructor-and that without acquirements which fit him properly Professor is in great request, especially among the pupils to take charge of a primary school. It is well known to the community in which he lives, that he commenced the study of English Grammar but little more than a year ago.-He had previously considered that branch a "toploftical" accomplishment. He is, however, paid high wages as "Principal," and a competent "Assistant" or two are employed, who hear all the higher classes recite. When assistance cannot be had, the "University" suspends-and, for obvious reasons, it has been found difficult to procure aids of the right kind. The chief employment of this worthy Principal is to whip, which he frequently does by classes, and he has been known to put more than a hundred pupils through the flint-mill in one day. The reason assigned to me by one of the Directors for > same church, and therefore he felt bound to aid him. That Director deserves to be placed on a par with another, whom I discovered in Huntingdon county, who seriously inquired, whether William Penn was a Quaker? These cases are mentioned without name or place, leaving those to wear the shoe whom it fits. Such directors and schoolmasters are

The buildings are well lighted, ventilated, and entirely comfortable -one in particular which I remember is beautifully frescoed. And there is an association of parents and other friends of education, who meet at short intervals, to discuss the different modes of teaching, and to consider what measures may yet be taken to inspire the children with stronger love of knowledge. Thus nobly, like the "wise Bereans," do they reason together. That neighborhood, I am proud to add, is my native home. May the sunlight of yet brighter and broader intelli-

These few plain facts have been stated, Mr. Editor, in the hope of doing good. It is pleasant to point out objects worthy of praise. It is also painful to call public attention to shameful abuses of the school system-which can yet be corrected in no other way. We should regard the Common School as the very palladium of our country's hope-for it is that. And the hiss of merited scorn should follow those official gentlemen who, in some gence rest upon the old valley in all coming places, are contributing to its downfall. With respect, yours,

MAX. GREENE. P. S.—Those who reason from cause to effect may be interested to learn that a delegation of upwards of eighty persons were in attendance at the late session of the Blair county Court, from the single school district in which they keep the savage master.

[From the Picayune of Feb. 4th.] Shocking Tragedy in New Orleans.

Last evening, a female with a quick step and a flushed face, might be seen moving hurriedly along Calliope street, and when near Tehoupitoulas, she turned into a house, which, in a moment after, was the scene of a most fearful tragedy. The woman was Mrs. Mary Cull, and the house she entered was the temporary abode of her husband and her husband's alleged paramour, one Margaret Kelly. As Mrs. Cull entered the house, and attempted to pass into a rear room, in quest of her husband, Margaret Kelly sprang ing her on the spot. Thereupon a citizen, who was attracted to the spot by the noise of Cull standing over the prostrate body of her victim, took her into custody, and conveyed her to the First District Lockup. Subsequently, a woman named Margaret Clark was arrested as an accessory to the murder, but in what manner she was accessory we have not heard. We may perhaps obtain further facts when the Coroner's inquest is ${f completed}$

According to Mrs. Cull's statement, she and her husband resided at St. Louis, and he, being a brick-layer, came to this city about three or four months ago in search of employment. While here, he became acquainted with Margaret Kelly, and at length t was rumored that an improper intimacy existed between them. Mrs. C. then pursued her husband to the city, and finding him repentant, she forgave him for his past transgressions, and they went to live in a house on Durades street.

Recently the husband made a trip on a boat, and on his return he went to his wife's residence, and stopped with her one night. The next day he left her, and she learned that he had renewed his intimacy with Margaret Kelly. After waiting two days for his return, the enraged wife went in pursuit of her husband, and the bloody issue thereof we have already stated. The prisoner does not appear in the least to regint the bloody business in which she has been ergaged.

QUARREL BETWEEN THE KANSAS AIL COM-MITTEES.—There is a highly interesting quarrel going on between the National and State Central Kansas Aid Committee, concerning the management of the funds contributed for the relief of Kansas. Irregularity, bad faith, incompetency and private corruption form the staple of the charges on both sides, and if we are to believe half that is said, the greatest service that can be done for Kansas, s to relieve her from further intermeddling by these self-constituted committees.

The Mormon country and the Mormon manners do not seem to please all who emigrate to that territory. An Englishman publishes in the London papers, his six years' experience among the Saints. He left lest its polluting principles should contaminate his own family, and expresses gratefulness at his escape from the degraded position to which he had reduced himself and them.

It is the result of years of toil and labor, assisted in his researches by several scholars of known ability, and has been got up at a great expense by the proprietors. No pains have been spaced in the execution of the Hlustrations and Maps, which are prepared expressly for this work. Indeed, all the other historical writing of Mr. Goodrich, sink into insignificance, when compared to this, the result of his riper and maturer years. It is admitted that one hundred dollars could not purchase the same matter in any other shape, and the publishers
