The shipments of coal from the Broad Top mines. for the week ending Thursday, May 28th, were 2,467 tons; for the year, 32,213 tons

The Warm Springs,

Situated five miles north of this borough, near Standing-Stone creek, which have been, in by-gone years, justly celebrated for the inedical properties of their water, are now being, by the proprietor, Gen. A. P. WILSON, of this place, handsomely improved. New buildings have been erected and others are in progress of construction. When these are completed and other contemplated improvements made, the "Springs" will be a much more desirable resort for pleasure than formerly. The efficacy of the water, when used medicinally, for the removal or cure of disease is undoubted : for bathing purposes it is unexcelled. The following analysis, made about the year 1800, or perhaps before that year, by an eminent medical man of the times, shows its true character:

We have, of late, been repeatedly requested to call the attention of parents, to the misconduct of their children on the streets, and in other public places. But we must confess a reluctance in saying a word upon the subject, when it is so well known that many parents laugh at and virtually encourage the public blackguardisms of their children, who have and do almost daily, violate not only every principle of moral decency and respect, but the laws for the protection of life and property. None are free from their insults the least respect for him or herself, or in the the more." least solicitous for the proper training of their children, and their future advancement and respectability in life. But their outrages do respectability in life. But their outrages do lately dissected a hog that died of what is not stop with insults alone. Failing to be termed "hog cholera," thus writes to another noticed with these, they seem to have adopted physician: a system of stoning both ladies and gentlemen. No matter how inoffensive, innocent, and respectable the persons are, it is all the disease. But that portion of the small bowel same. Now, in the name of all that is good, next the stomach was literally filled with must these things be quietly, tamely submitted to? If children receive no training, no from two to five inches in length, resembling education at home, under the parental roofin the public school, the Sunday school, or ject, but harder, more active, and apparently the Church-are they to be allowed to violate the laws with impunity, and go unwhipt of be distinctly traced through its coats. justice? The complaints against these offences, are like the occasions for them, becoming more ducing the symptoms noticed in its course, numerous every day; and both the offences viz:-drooping, indisposition to eat, diarrhœa, and complaints seem to be as well known to and finally, convulsions and death. The treatour public officers as anybody else-if they ment it seems to me must be altogether preare not, the officers are a dreadfuliy ignorant be dislodged by any treatment after inflamaset of men, and "know nothing." But if tion is set up; but before this, while the hog they are, then the officers are either grossly is apparently well, able to eat and drink, I negligent of their duty in the premises, or base, paltry time-servers, and with a complacency truly astonishing to uninterested persons, compromise their oaths of office, and the laws, through fear of offending ! By the unanimous verdict of public opinion, one of the two things is true! It has come to this in the borough of Huntingdon, that the public authorities must, by due course of law, teach the children of professed christian and enlightened parents, what they are not taught at home, public morals and public decency. We think the hint thrown out in last week's Journal, relative to the publication of the names of young street blackguards, would have a very salutary effect upon both parents and children. It would indicate where there is a lack of family government, discipline, and moral training, and would probably be the most effectual means of stopping the scandals of the children. This much for the present.

THE PRESS AND GOOD BUSINESS .- There is no discount on this paragraph, if a cotempoary is correct in the assertion:

Some men advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think that is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a time ke. From the moment a house ceases. I dvertise, however large its reputation standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied for new applicants to its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers, where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is constantly increasing. No man is wise, or just to himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages. But we consider it almost superfluous, to argue the advantages of advertising. The business men who do not advertise, need only look at those who do-those who started on "little or nothing," and have risen to wealth and affluence, and who still advertise. They know by experience, the advantages to be gained by it, and would as soon think of abandoning their business, as to abandon the sys-The temperature of these waters, found by tem of advertising. HUNTINGDON COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SO-CIETY .--- By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that the President of this Society has ordered a meeting to be held in the Court House, on Friday the 12th instant. In view of the expected abundant harvests, it is contemplated to hold a Fair, in the fall, as usual, since the organization four shades deeper. The desire to have a Fair this season seems to be general. and if Farmers and others interested will take that active interest in the affairs of the Society they should, and begin in time to prepare for the exhibition, we predict the most successful one that has yet been held by the Huntingdon county Agricultural Society. Let all attend the meeting on the 12th inst.

The return of WALKER from the scene of his exploits in Nicaragua closes, for the present, the drama of fillibusterism. THE COMET .--- A correspondent of the Connersville Times, thinking it not impossible that the comet may be open to persuasion, addresses it thus in a recent letter:

What have we done that he should, directly or indirectly, in his Wandering Jew style of perambulating, on our premises, and frighten Mr. Buchanan's people out of their senses? Why can't he pitch into one of his own size? say a North River steamboat, or lash his elongated fiery narrative against the seven wonders of the world, and let us alone? GOOD GRIT.-A Train of Cars Stopped by Woman !--- A correspondent of the Norristown Republican relates the following incident as occurring on the North Pennsylvania Railroad, in Whitemarsh. The lady in question was evidently not born to be killed by a locomotive:

Every word that she utters goes from heart to heart with a power of which she little dreams. DIED.

In Franklin township, on the 21st inst., Mrs. ISABELLA IBVIN, wife of Henry L. Harvey, aged about 27 years. The deceased was a native of Lycoming county, Pa.born in Jersey Shore, having resided for the last few years in this county. Respected and esteemed by all who knew her; a kind and affectionate companion; a devoted and confiding friend; a consistent and worthy christian; her sudden and unexpected departure has caused a void in the family circle, in society and in the church of the Redeemer, which will not soon be filled. Mysterious, unfathomable, and utterly beyond the comprehension of finite minds. are the ways of an all-wise Providence! How little did the writer of this brief notice suppose when last we met together; when sharing the joys, and partaking of the hospitalities of that happy family circle, that this peaceful home was so soon to be overshadowed by the dark wing of Happy indeed for those who are left behind, if, heeding this solemn admonition "Be ye also ready," we, too, be prepared to meet the pale messenger at his coming. and like her be able to exclaim antid the last throes of expiring nature, "all is well" through Him that hath loved us and washed us from our sins in His own precious blood.

"How sweet it is to think-hereafter
When this spirit leaves its sphere,
That Love on deathless wing shall waft he	r
To all she loved and longed for here I
And if no higher boon were given,
To keep our hearts from wrong and stain;	;
Who would not strive to win a Heaven,
Where all we loved shall meet again."

Dr. Hardman treats Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma,
Larryngittis and all diseases of the throat and lungs, by	11
Medical Inhalation, lately used in the Bromton Hospital,	1 8
London. The great point in the treatment of all human	Ľ
maladies, is to get at the disease in the direct manuer	ŧ
All medicines are estimated by their action upon the organ	۱ - requiring relief. This is the important fact upon which Inhalation is based. If the stomach is diseased we take	Į.
medicine directly into the stomach. If the lungs are dis-	ī
eased, breathe or inhale medicated vapors directly into	1
the lungs. Medicines are antidotes to disease and should	1 be applied to the very seat of disease. Inhalation is the applied to the very seat of disease. Inhalation is the application of this principle to the treatment of the lungs, for it gives us direct access to those intricate air cells, and for it gives us direct access to those intricate air cells, and tubes which lie but of reach of every other means of ad-ministering medicines. The reason that Consumption, and other diseases of the lungs, have heretofore resisted all treatment has been because they have never been ap-proached in a direct manner by medicine. They were in-tended to act upon the lungs, and yet were applied to the stomach. Their action was intended to be local, and yet, they were so administered that they should only act con-stitutionally, expending their immediate and principal ac-tion upon the uneffending stomach, whilst the foul ulcers within the lungs were unmolested. Inhalation brings tion upon the unoffending stomach, whilst the foul ulcers within the lungs were unmolested. Inhalation brings the medicine in direct contact with the disease, without the disadvantage of any violent action. Its application is so simple, that it can be employed by the youngest infant or feeblest invalid, It does not derange the stomach, or in-terfero in the least degree with the strength, comfort, or business of the patient. Other Diseases Treated.—In relation to the following dis-cases, either when complicated with lung affections or ex-isting alone, I also invite consultation, I usually find them mempule.
