

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE GLOBE.

EDEN HILL, SEPT. 18, 1857. In accordance with previous notice, the second stated meeting of the Spruce Creek Teachers' Institute, was held at Mr. A. R. Miller's school-house, on Eden Hill, on Friday evening, September 18th. Opened by calling Mr. H. L. Harvey to the Chair, and electing G. Patterson Eldredge Secretary. The president called upon Mr. John D. Brown to open the meeting, which he did in an eloquent and able manner, after which Mr. H. L. Harvey addressed the meeting in a manner acceptable to both the teachers and the audience. The discussion was then continued by Messrs. A. R. Miller, George P. Eldredge, Z. W. Thomas, Green, White, Byer, and others, and an exciting and spirited discussion took place. On motion the constitution for the government of the society for the past winter, was adopted for the present term, and the institute then proceeded to the election of officers to serve for the coming term. On motion Geo. P. Eldredge was elected Recording Secretary and J. D. Brown Corresponding Secretary. On motion the Corresponding Secretary was requested to ascertain from the press of Huntingdon county if they would publish the proceedings of this institute. On motion, the next meeting will be held at Mechanicsville on Friday, October 2nd, 1857. Subject: What are the relative duties of Parents, Directors, and Teachers. On motion adjourned. G. P. ELDRIDGE, Secretary.

Negro Equality. The doctrine of negro equality, so strenuously advocated by the abolitionists, is so repugnant to the feelings and better judgment of all right thinking men, that many who have heretofore acted with the republican party, boldly proclaim that they will not lend themselves to any scheme seeking to engrave their principles upon our institutions.

The Michigan City Enterprise, an able republican paper, thus proclaims its independence, and refuses further to follow the lead of such fanatics as Greely and Seward: "The people of Indiana are not yet prepared to accept the negro as an equal—either at the ballot-box or elsewhere. And we know of none of our Western States where this negro equality principle can command the support of even a corporal's guard. There was a time when our own sympathies favored the granting of certain privileges to the blacks—but a more extended acquaintance with their habits and morals, has satisfied us of the correctness of our former opinion; and it is a belief on which we have been reluctantly driven, that the centralization of any considerable body of blacks in any community is a curse and a blight upon the industrial, moral and religious welfare of the whites.

The principle of welcoming blacks to Canada has been fully and fairly tested; and now after the lapse of many years, our Canadian friends—through the press—her statesmen and private citizens, almost unanimously concur in the expression, that while the condition of the negro in many instances has benefited, their present position has deteriorated, the morals of the whites—has increased, and the negro population, theft and intemperance to a frightful extent, and that, while not wishing to drive them back into slavery, yet (the people of Canada) decidedly favor some plan whereby they can all be placed in a colony by themselves.

For our own part, much as our sympathy may be excited for their unfortunate condition, we cannot think of ministering to the infirmity, the stupidity and laziness of this class of creation at the sacrifice of our manhood, or the interests of 25,000,000 of whites—neither will we follow the lead of the Greely and Seward politicians in giving popularity to this absurd doctrine, which they are so sedulously trying to engrave into the republican platform.

There are we have no doubt hundreds of old line whigs in Pennsylvania to whom these negro equality notions are as obnoxious as they are to the Michigan City Enterprise, and who will repudiate them and vote for Gen. Packer, the white mans' candidate.

Terrible Tragedy in Georgia. The Baltimore Patriot has received from a gentleman of that city, the account of a terrible tragedy in Ware county, Georgia, on the 17th September. It appears that a man named Adams was married a short time since to a Miss Jenkins, who had previously been engaged to another man by the name of Harley, who on the morning of the wedding day, had threatened Miss Jenkins with revenge if she persisted in marrying his rival, but she laughed to scorn his threat and was, as appointed, bound in wedlock to Adams. On the 16th September, Harley came to Adams' house while the latter was absent with his wife, and finding it only occupied by an old negro woman, knocked her down with an axe, fracturing her skull, and then proceeded to demolish all the furniture and disfigure the premises, knocking down partitions and breaking the plaster off at night. Adams and his wife returned late at night, and their feelings on perceiving the work that had been wrought may better be imagined than described. Medical assistance was obtained for the old woman, and her few broken, wandering words, ending, it is said almost in a shriek of the name of Harley, indicated to Adams the probable perpetrator of the outrage. Accordingly the next morning he armed himself with a rifle and knife, and went in search of Harley. He had not far to go, for about 100 yards from the house, on the road which passed through a strip of woods, he met Harley, apparently proceeding to complete his destruction. A farmer's boy, who happened to be a short distance behind, was the sole witness of the dreadful scene that ensued, and which froze his blood with terror. A short but violent conversation commenced between the two, when Adams discharged his rifle, only wounding Harley in the arm. Harley, a large, athletic man, then closed with him, and a desperate conflict followed. Adams at last received a fatal blow from his antagonist's knife, and Harley, though cut almost to pieces, raised the dead body, it is possible bloody than his own, with the knife still sticking upright in his breast, and carried it into the presence of Mrs. Adams. The boy followed mechanically, to see the denouement, too frightened to summon assistance—too weak to give it himself. Mrs. Adams received the murder with a dreadful shriek, and fell fainting on the corpse. Harley, weak and exhausted, had still strength enough to draw the blood from his veins, and cutting her features until they formed a line, he recognized, plunged it into his own heart and fell back, his hand still grasping the long hair of his victim. The affrighted witness at last sufficiently recovered himself to run for aid; when it came, both men were dead, and Mrs. Adams senseless, having almost bled to death. A great excitement prevailed. She was carefully removed and attended, but cannot recover.—Adams had been decently interred; but when I left proposals were made for mailing Harley's body to a tree. Adams was universally respected, being the editor of the Ware County Sentinel, the only paper in that section.

DIED. In this borough, on Friday, October 2nd of consumption, SAMUEL H. SMITH, aged 22 years and 14 days. Death, the unwelcome messenger, has invaded the family circle and snatched from the bosom of a loving wife, an endeared husband and father. He has created in that house, hold a void which cannot be filled on earth. The sacred bonds which united the lamented deceased with his now disconsolate wife, were rudely sundered by this Destroyer, and she now mourns the early and sudden separation from her dearest earthly friend.

The deceased, a native of this borough, was by occupation, a printer. He commenced the business in the office of the Huntingdon Journal, and continued to be engaged at the same, at intervals, until a short time before his decease. He enjoyed to a great degree the respect, confidence and esteem of the many with whom he had connection. The unusually large concourse of persons which accompanied his remains to their resting place, on 1st Sunday, testifies the regard entertained for him and his beloved relatives by the people among whom he dwelt.

The friends of the deceased, bereft of their companion, reluctantly permitting his removal from their midst, join in one wail of sorrow at his departure. They will find consolation in the thought that his call from the busy scenes of this world was a royal summons from the Supreme Ruler, to a higher and better sphere.
