The Pittsburg Dispatch says that several of the Sligo Iron Works have resumed and are running half time. Several of the other mills will start again shortly.

No use denyingit—the times are tight with those who have been doing business and living up to and beyond their mean's. Their wrecklessness has brought distress to many innocent families.

A woman thinly and poorly clad, was found dead in a lodging house in Philadelphia on Friday morning, with a portion of one arm and the right side of the face eaten away by the rats.

DETROIT, Nov. 30.—A large number of vessels are reported ashore, and some wrecks, by arrival from the Upper Lakes today. One loaded with 10,000 bushels is probably a total loss. Some lives were lost.

We are pleased to learn, by the official returns of the election in Warren county, Illinois, that our friend John Porter, son of Major James Porter of Henderson township, has been elected County Judge by a hand- ing to the paper with which he was connectsome majority.

A slight improvement.—A New York letter writer, under date of Nov. 25th, says: "Remarkable as it may appear, I am happy to say that we have not had a single murder or highway robbery since yesterday."

Another general revolution in Mexico.—By a late arrival from Mexico, we learn that that country is in a most distracted condition. Another general revolution was in progress. The revolutionists intend to make Santa Anna President.

Only 20 of the men were saved, and it is supposed that at least one hundred were drowned.

A farmer of Courtland county, N. Y., named Atila Burlingame, says that wheat can be prevented from spoiling in bius, in damp weather, if one dry brick is put in it for every five bushels of grain, and evenly distributed throughout the bin. We believe this. The brick every body knowns or ought to know, is a great absorber of moisture.

Somebody in town likes chickens and turkeys. A number of coops have been broken into within the past week and the contents removed. Democratic papers in Illinois and Ohio. are taking grounds against the unconstitutionality of a paper currency. They argue that the constitution of the United States prohibits the several States from coining money, or issuing bills of credit, and that consequently no State can confer upon a corporation an authority it cannot itself exercise. Sound doctrine.

THANKSGIVING DAY was pretty generally observed by our citizens, in their own way.-The stores and shops were closed with the latch strings hanging out. Having some hundreds of friends who anxiously look for the Globe at the proper time we could not enjoy a 'loaf' on the Governor's holiday .-However, we were very thankful for past favors and that we had something to do we expected to be paid for sometime, unless there should be a general suspension by our pa-

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE GLOBE.

WARREN Co., ILLINOIS, Nov. 20, 1857. FRIEND LEWIS: To-day is one of the days to sit by a warm stove, read the news, and listen to Old Winter as he howls around the house, his breath icy with the frost he has gathered in his tour North, where he has been since he left us some time in April to return again so soon. Yesterday was cold and stormy, to-day seems little better. The money panie has been here as well as every place else, but as yet has not done much damage. It has bursted some bubbles in the way of speculation in land and town lots; has knocked the price of produce as much below par as it stood above, and has given some people trouble to raise money to meet debts made for labor, land, lumber, &c., &c., while everything ruled high, and contracted with the expectation of paying out of the crops. The season for making collections by the merchants has not come around yet, the 1st of January being the time they square their Books. No doubt times will be tighter then than now, but although we of the West may have some trouble to make the money come, still we have nothing like starvation staring us in the face, like some of the dwellers in eastern towns and cities, especially those thrown out of employment by the stoppage of manufactories. Here, al- at 10 or though our land is not literally flowing with "milk and honey," wheat and pork are abundant, and sugar and molasses coming down as well as bread and meat, so that we can live on the fat of the land; but it makes us sad to think of the hunger, and perhaps starvation, that some may have to endure this winter at the East, while here at the West "enough and to spare" is shut up, (not held that we may obtain high prices,) but because there is no means to get it East; many here would sell at low prices, but they cannot may be agreed upon, on the day of sale, in pursuance of sints.

Also, a Tract of Land adjoining the tract first above described, containing 195 acres and 30 perches and allowance, more or less, now occupied by John Baker, having thereon erected a log house and barn.

the Banking System as the cause, and with too much reason-with their inflations first puffing everything beyond its true value, only to contract and sink it again below .--Had we been operating on a cash basis, our produce might have been shipped to the East before Lake navigation closed, our debts been settled, and everything moved on in harmony. As it is, the western merchant owes the eastern manufacturer for his wares. the farmer here owes the western merchant, while his barn is full he cannot pay; the merchant in turn cannot pay his indebtedness in the East, and the manufacturer is compelled to stop operations, and the operatives turned loose to shift as they can, till the currency becomes settled; and so it goes -has gone, and will go, till the whole svstem is remodelled or abolished from the

I see in a late number of the GLOBE, a statement that the printer Brayman, who was sent to the Penitentiary of this State for robbing letters in the Chicago Post Office, was Post Master at that place; this is a mistake. Mr. Brayman had no connection with the P.O., but made his abstractions by using false keys to boxes in the office. Being assistant editor of a Republican paper at the time, and having the key of the box belonged, he took the opportunity, while lifting his other boxes by use of the false keys.

It would seem by the election returns from Pennsylvania and New York, that the "sober second thought of the people" was beginning to have its legitimate effect, and that "bleeding Kansas" and the "woolly horse" were poor stock. In our State we have had an election for county officers only; the Democracy have more than held their own in these parts. In our county the Republicans had a majority of near 200, last fall; this Yours, &c., P. J.

THE GLOBE.—THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF CONGRESS.—I publish now my annual crospectus of The Daily Globe, and The Congressional Globe and Appendix, to remind subscribers, and inform Cone of them containing two hundred those who may desire to subscribes, that Congress will meet on the first Monday of next December, when I shall recommence publishing the above named papers. They have been published so long, that most public men know their character, and therefore I deem it needless to give a minute account of the kind of matter they will contain.

The Daüy Globe will contain a report of the Debates in both branches of Congress as taken down by reporters equal, at least, to any corps of short-hand writers in this, or in any other country. A majority of them will, each, be able to report, rerbatin, ten thousand words an hour, while the average number of words spoken by fluent speakers rarely exceeds seven thousand five hundred words an hour. When the debates of a day do not make more than forty columns, they shall appear in the Daüy Globe of the next morning, which will contain, also, the news of the day, tog-ther with such clivic in articles as may be suggested by passing events.

One other of them containing two hundred and fifty-one perches, called "Fine Meadow," adjoining lands of Jacob Kiltz-height acres and one hundred and fifty-one perches, called "Fine Meadow," adjoining lands of Jacob Kiltz-height acres and one hundred and fifty-one perches, called "Fine Meadow," adjoining lands of Jacob Kiltz-height acres and one hundred and fifty-one perches, called "Fine Meadow," adjoining lands of Jacob Kiltz-height acres and one hundred and fifty-one perches, called "Fine Meadow," adjoining lands of Jacob Kiltz-height acres and one hundred and fifty-one perches, called "Fine Meadow," adjoining lands of Jacob Kiltz-height acres and one hundred and fifty-one perches, called "Fine Meadow," adjoining lands of Jacob Kiltz-height acres and one hundred and fifty-one perches, called "Fine Meadow," adjoining lands of Jacob Kiltz-height acres and one hundred and fifty-one perches, called "Fine Meadow," adjoining lands of Jacob Kiltz-height acres and one hundred and fifty-one perches, called "Fine Meadow," uggested by passing events.
It is also my intention, from time to time, as occasion suggested by passing events.

It is also my intention, from time to time, as occasion may require, to publish my reminiscences of the public men with whom I have been associated during the last twenty-eight years. Aneedores of General Jackson, and the leaders of the party which he conducted, and the leading men of other parties, will. I believe, be interesting now when partisan bitterness has abated.

In becoming the reporter of the debates of Congtess, I deemed it proper to say that the Globe would never be a partisan paper. This pledge will not be forfeited by introducing as a contribution to history the political traits of character which distinguished the public men of my time. Although I am, and intend to remain, a thorough Democrat, I will never obtrude my principles in a way to make them obnoxious to any party. But in regard to persons and events which go to make up history, I hope to make the Globe an honest memoir; and with that view I am resolved to speak independently of all parties.

The Congressional Globe and Appendix will contain a report of all the debates in Congress, revised by the speakers, the messages of the President of the United States, the Annual Reports of the Heads of the Executive Departments, the Laws passed during the session, and copious independent of all the greater and subtler to all.

the Annual Reports of the Heads of the Executive Departments, the Laws passed during the session, and copious indexes to all. They will be printed on a double royal sheet, in book form, royal quarto size, each number containing sixteen pages. The whole will make, it is believed, between 3,800 and 3,900 pages, as the long sessions for many years have ranged between those numbers, and the next session will be what is termed a "long one." This I believe is the cheapest work ever sold in any country, whether a reprint, or printed frum manuscript copy, taking for data the average number of words of the long sessions since the year 1848. The average number of pages is 2,307, consequently the average number of words of a long session is 9.290,772. As I have sold to subscribers that number of words for six dollars, it follows that they have paid less than six and one-half cents for every 100,000 words I have furnished them, while I have paid my reporters $6.29 for every 2,397 words, of this work, in manuscript. Has any furnished them, while I have paid my reporters $6 29 for every 2,307 words, of this work, in manuscript. Has any other bookseller, anywhere, ever sold a book in the first instance while it was new, at so low a rate? I believe not; and so strong is my belief, that I hereby agree to give to any person who shall prove the contrary, a complete set of the debates running back to the year 1833, making forty-three quarto volumes, which will sell for $5 a volume. An act of Congress authorizes these papers to go by mail free of postage. The next session will be, without doubt, an unusually interesting one, as it will be the first under a new Administration, and several complex ougstions must be discussed in it: for example, the curquestions must be discussed in it; for example, the currency, Kansas, revenue, and other questions. The Globe will be, therefore, the only source from which full debates an be obtained. subscriber resides, will be received at par. The whole rany part of a subscription may be remitted in postage camps, which is preferable to any currency, except gold as follows:

Huntingdon, "Jackson's Hotel," Tuesday, December 15.

16. application of this principle to the treatment of the lungs, for it gives us direct access to those intricate air cells, and tubes which lie out of reach of every other means of administering medicines. The reason that Consumption, and other diseases of the lungs, have heretofore resisted all treatment has been because they have never been approached in a direct manner by medicine. They were intended to act upon the lungs, and yet were applied to the stomach. Their action was intended to be local, and yet, they were so administered that they should only act constitutionally, expending their immediate and principal acstitutionally, expending their immediate and principal ac-tion upon the unoffending stomach, whilst the foul ulcers within the lungs were unmolested. Inhalation brings the medicine in direct contact with the disease, without the disadvantage of any violent action. Its application is so simple, that it can be employed by the youngest infant or feeblest invalid. It does not derange the stomach, or interfere in the least degree with the strength, comfort, or business of the patient.

Other Diseases Treated.—In relation to the following diseases, either when complicated with lung affections or existing alone, I also invite consultation, I usually find them promptly curable.
Prolapsus and all other forms of Female Complaints, Irregularities and Weakness.

Palpitation and all other forms of Heart Disease, Liver Complaints, Dyspepsia, and all other diseases of stomach and bowels, &c: All diseases of the eye and ear. Neuralgia, Epilepsy, All diseases of the eye and can and all forms of nervous disease.
