ALARMING REPORTS FROM KANSAS.

HARRISBURG, January 5, 1858.

COMMENCE OF THE GLOBE. Interesting Correspondence from the Utah Expedition. Server Creek, Jan. 1, 1858. Desi Gross to My duties have been so numerous and arranges for some time past, that I have found nothing to write any thing for your orbiting; but new since old 57 has yielded not without some reluctance, as was manifested by the storm licked up among the elements resterday to his youthful successor 58, I have both time and material for communicating at command. I shall therefore give to your readers a sketch of a recent excursion among the wild and picturesque diana, Pa., on Tuesday, Dec. 29th, ult., I conveterans in the educational ranks of our State. So, early in the morning of that day, I started, carpet-bag in hand, for the railroad, to take the morning train for Blairsville. On my way out, I made the acquaintance of Dr. Stewart, of Indiana, Pa., an old gentleman of enviable reputation as a physician, and highly esteemed as a citizen. At Blairsville Intersection, we met with a number of educational men awaiting an opportunity to proceed to Indiana. After changing cars we were soon en route for that place. The counthe land is yet covered with forests. Some parts however are cleared and well improved. After a somewhat tedious ride we arrived in the town of Indiana, which we found crowded with veomanry from all parts of the county. ty was in session, which, together with the United States, but we shall treat you as meeting of the Association, caused such a though you were open enemies. crowd to be in town.

After dinner we made our way through the mud to the Lutheran church, where the Association was already in session. We were gratified to find the house well filled with an intelligent looking audience. Upward of one hundred teachers were present.

Prof. Stodard had just finished addressing the Association. A resolution was then proposed and adopted, complimenting the editors of Indiana and the adjoining counties, for the active part they have taken in support of the common school system. The compliment was acknowledged, and interesting remarks made, by several editors present.

S. B. McCormic, Superintendent of Cambria county, read an interesting report on the lights and shadows of the teacher's life.— The other letters of Young merely in Did I not think your readers would see the proceedings of the Association, from abler pens, I would report some of the remarks from the many able reports and addresses delivered during the meeting. Suffice it to say of Mr. McCormic's report, that it reflected honor upon himself, and evinced a mind well acquainted with the teacher's trials and pleas-

Interesting addresses were delivered on educational topics, during the meeting, by Prof. Stodard, Lamborn, Dr. Burroughs, and others. Dr. Burroughs, the editor of the Pennsylvania School Journal, is a well known veteran in the good cause; having been Secretary of State—which, at that time, included the office of Superintendent of Schools-when the common school system was first put into operation in our State. It does a young teacher good to hear him recount in his pleasant and unassuming manner, the hardships encountered by the first common school teachers in Pennsylvania.

I see from what I have already written, that were I to make remarks on all the incidents connected with the meeting of the Association, my communication would be entirely too lengthy.

Suffice it to say that notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, we had a pleasant and instructive meeting; and I trust that many teachers went home with lighter hearts as well as lighter pockets, firmly resolving to work harder than ever in their respective charges, for the diffusion of knowledge and the promotion of the welfare of their fellow-

Lest I might weary your patience, I will cut short my letter without saying anything of my return to my place of sojourning among the hospitable inhabitants of Spruce Creek. LEROY.

Educational. Mr. Editor:—We had the pleasure of attending on Saturday, 26th Dec., '57, an examination of the school under the charge of T. J. Hyatt, at Harmony Grove, Clay township, Huntingdon county. Several citizens and teachers were present to witness the exercises, which were highly entertaining.

It is but doing justice to the teacher to say that great credit is due him for the manner in which the scholars acquitted themselves. By request of Mr. Hyatt, at the close of the examination, a number of addresses were delivered, to the school, by teachers and citizens present.

On the evening of the same day a "Teachers' Institute" was held at the same place .-And notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, a vast number of people, both old and young, was in attendance and listened with marked attention to the exercises which were as follows: On motion, D. Price, Esq., was called to the Chair and T. J. Hyatt, appointed Secretary. A. R. Miller was then called to deliver an opening address to which he heartily responded, after which the subject "What do we educate for?" was very appropriately introduced and discussed, with forcible suggestions, by J. B. Moreland, Esq., and continued by Messrs. Hyatt, D. Price, D. Miller, and others, for a considerable length of time. On motion, said discussion closed, and the subject of School Government was introduced and opened in quite an entertaining manner by Mr. Hyatt and continued, until a late hour, by teachers and citizens present. Mr. Miller then delivered to the parents a brief lecture on the necessity of their visiting schools, which was followed with an applicable song by the teacher of this school and his pupils. On motion adjourned. We are highly gratified to know that the citizens of this place manifest such an interest in the education of their youth and in the upbuilding of their school. On account of disqualified teachers, this school, for years past, was in a backward condition; but through the untiring labor of so zealous an instructor as Mr. Hyatt, it now ranks among the first in this section, and bids fair for rapid SPECTATOR. advancement.

The total number of immigrants arrived at New York during the past year is 185,847. The largest immigration known was during 1854, when the number was 318,223. The amount of money brought by the immigrants of 1827 is estimated at $13,-

Private Kansas advices indicate that the total vote at the late election will foot up about four thousand five hundred.

THETTERS FROM GOY. BRIGHAM YOUNG. Accompanying the official dispatch of Col. Johnston, the commander of the Utah expedition, are three letters from Brigham Young, Governor of Utah, to Col. Alexander, of the 10th U.S. Infantry, and one from John Taylor, a major attached to the Mormon army, addressed to Capt, Marcy. Gov. Young, in one of his letters, professes great attachment to the constitution, complains that the object of the government is to Alleghanies. Having observed in one of the destroy the Mormon community solely upon daily papers, a call for the meeting of the Teachers State Association, to be held in Inof their mean officials are barefaced calumcluded to attend and listen to some of the nies; claims that the people of Utah have been more peaceful and law abiding than the people of any other Territory of the United States, although many of the federal officers merited and deserved summary punishment.

In conclusion, he informs Col. Alexander that, under the circumstances, he will resist to the utmost every attempt to encroach upon the rights of the people of Utah; and that, therefore, it would be better for the Colonel to return with his present force, rather than force an issue so unpleasant to all, and which try through which we passed between the in-tersection and Indiana is wild, and much of bloodshed, and, if persisted in the total destruction of his army.

Another of Young's letters contains the

By virtue of my office as Governor of the Territory of Utah, I command you to marshal your troops and leave this Territory, for it can be no possible benefit to you to waste treasure and blood in prosecuting your course upon the side of a rebellion against the gen-

The other letters of Young merely inform Alexander that he has arranged to send to the camp of the latter, to join her husband, Mrs. Mayo and infant, and Mr. Jesse Jones. He also cordially invited a visit from Captain Marcy, Colonel Alexander or any of his officers, and promises them a hospitable re-

SINGULAR DEATH FROM THE BITE OF A CAT .- A. Correspondent of the Phila. Press, writing from Jeanesville, Luzerne county, Pa., Dec. 27, says:—"Mr. John Abel, clerk in the employ of J. B. McCreary & Co., at Lewis Audereid's colliery, died on the morning of the 27th from the bite of a cat. The circumstances are very singular. About ten weeks since he was walking from the dwelling-house to the store when he met the cat he path. He put out his hand to play with her, when she instantly flew at him and bit him. He complained a little at the time, but it passed away and no more was thought of it. He had at times, however, a great repugnance to water and the mere sight of it caused a shuddering sensation. On Christmas day he dined at the hotel of Mr. David Martz, at Jeanesville, and appeared in usual health. On the morning of the 26th he com-plained of being sick, and at last took to his

He suffered intense agony, trying to bite the hand which the cat had bitten ten weeks previous, and exclaiming that the sight of water niade him mad—a raving maniac.— His friends had to hold him to preven his tearing his breast. Medical skill proved of no avail, and 8 o'clock on the 27th, Sunday morning, he breathed his last. What renders the circumstance doubly distressing is, that he was the only child of parents now in the far west. If this should meet their eye it may afford them some faint codsolation to know that he met with utmost care and kindness, and that no parents could have done more for him than was done by the kind friends who smoothed his dying pillow.

R. HARDMAN, Physician for the disease of the Lungs, (formerly Physician to Cincinnati Marine Hospital,) will be in attendance at his rooms as follows: as follows:
Huntingdon, Jackson's Hotel, Saturday, January 16.

Huntingdon, Jackson's Hotel, Saturday, January 16, Lewistown, National Hotel, "18. Holidaysburg, Exchange Hotel, "15. Dr. Hardman treats Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Larryngittis and all diseases of the throat and lungs, by Medical Inhalation, lately used in the Brouton Hospital, London. The great point in the treatment of all human maladies, is to get at the disease in the direct manner.—All medicines are estimated by their action upon the organ requiring relief. This is the important fact upon which Inhalation is based. If the stomach is diseased we take medicine directly into the stomach. If the lungs are diseased, breathe or inhale medicated vapors directly into the lungs. Medicines are antidotes to disease and should be applied to the very seat of disease. Inhalation is the application of this principle to the treatment of the lungs, for it gives us direct access to those intricate air cells, and tubes which lie out of reach of every other means of administering medicines. The reason that Cousumption, and other diseases of the lungs, have heretofore resisted all treatment has been because they have never been approached in a direct manner by medicine. They were intended to act upon the lungs, and yet were applied to the stomach. Their action was intended to be local, and yet, they were so administered that they should only act constitutionally, expending their immediate and principal action upon the unofferding stomach, whist the foul ulcers within the lungs were runmolested. Inhalation brings the medicine in direct contact with the disease, without the disadvantage of any violent action. Its application is so simple, that it can be employed by the youngest infant or feeblest invalid. It does not derange the stomach, or interfere in the least degree with the strength, comfort, or business of the patient.
