At a meeting of the School Directors and citizens of Cassville, held in the Seminary Hall, on Wednesday, March 31st., the following resolutions showing how nobly the people of that village appreciate the efforts of good teachers, were unanimously adopted: Resolved. That we tender our thanks to James W. Hugues, Esq., for the able and efficient manner in which he has served us in the capacity of teacher of our school. We have found him thorough in every department, and, without injury to his dignity, he has enhanced the advantages of the schoolroom, by coupling with them the kind and gentlemanly deportment of a sincere friend; a zealous but generous teacher. We hope the same good success may attend him forever.

Resolved, That it is with the most sincere regret that we part with the talented, orderly, pleasing teacher, and lady-like, graceful, and obliging friend who has been at the head of our female department for the last few months. Miss E. M. FAULKNER, has a host of friends here, and the recollections she leaves behind her are none but the most pleasing. We part with her only because we must, and we wish heartily that she may return. To a servant so faithful, and a friend so estimable, we do not like to say "good-bye," and must be allowed to hope that it may not be forever.

Resolved, That these resolutions be offered for publication in the county papers, and that a copy be sent to Mr. Hughes and Miss Faulk-

To hymn in concert low and sweet
Kind words of hope, some friend to great;
Or stay the tears that silent flow
For friends no longer here below.

But now, after so long a silence, I again feel communicative, and as you, dear Globe, have enabled me by your weekly visits, to spend many hours pleasantly and profitably, which would otherwise have been spent in the monotony of the sick room, it affords me pleasure to spend a part of this levely afternoon in holding a social chat with you.

The winter has passed away as a midnight dream; or, as a wild yet melodious song.— True, to me there has been some discordant notes; the cup of pleasure has been dashed with the bitter bowls; joys mingled with sorrows; while the bright, beacon star of hope has for a time sunk into the dark ocean of disappointment. I heard the jingling of merry bells, but to me the pleasant sound brought no thrills of gladness or anticipations of pleasure, as in former times No! the darkened room, low voices and quiet footsteps are most prominent in my recollections of the past two months. The fierce blasts of winter have ceased howling around the habitations of the prosperous, nor do they any longer laugh with fiendish glee through poverty's rag-stuffed window and shattered door. The mountains listen and echo back their parting song:

We go, we go, unslumbering we Shall sing o'er occan's main; And wild we'll roam unchecked and free, But soon we'll come, we'll come again.

Spring-fair, mild, and beautiful, has made her appearance arrayed in garments of sunshine, and a smile of good-will plays upon her almost celestial face as she extends her hand to greet tottering invalids, and with words of hope and encouragement essays to win back the smile of health and happiness to those long bowed down in affliction, and whose heart yearns for those now sleeping in the quiet tomb. Our farmers are busily engaged in preparing the soil for the reception of the spring crops, while the "gude wives" suffering from the mania which annually attacks that portion of the household: in town and country, (house cleaning,) at this season of the year,

Are raking and scraping, And rubbing and scrubbing, And dashing and splashing, And taring up and adjusting the Harrisburg Herald, embraces all that if they can procure a cold lunch for dinner, have been appointed, and no other appoint- and a roll of carpet to stretch their weary limbs on at night.

With kind wishes for you and your read ers, I remain Your friend,

TOBACCO affects also the entire nervous system, manifesting itself—as all who have used the noxious weed will bear testimony—in Lassitude, Nervous Irritability, Water Brash, Dyspersia, and many other disorders of a similar character.

THE TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES are designed to THE TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES are designed to counteract these baneful influences, and have proved completely successful in a multitude of cases, and wherever used. Being harmless in themselves they exert a beneficial effect upon the entire system, restoring the taste which has become vitiated or destroyed by great indulgance, completely removing the irritation and accompanying tickling sensation of the Throat—which are always consequent upon abstaining from the use of Tobacco, and by giving a healthy tone to the Stomach, invigorate the whole system. Persons who are irretrievably undermining their constitutions and shortening their lives, should use these Troches immediately and throw off the injurious and unpleasant habit of Tobacco Chewing.
