INDEPENDENCE.-The Harrisburg Daily Herald, speaks our sentiments to the letter, in following paragraphs:

"We like a conscientious, independent man; one who knows the responsibilities which rest upon him, and so knowing, is not afraid to act, let the consequences be what they maywho is always prompt to do what he believes to, and the chair appointed Messrs. Africa, to be right, without regard to the opinions of others-one who examines all subjects for himself, and having done so carries out his conclusions in a manner that there is no mistaking. You always know where to find such a man; you have only to ascertain his opinion of things to know what he will do with regard to them. He can be depended upon in an emergency; acting upon the dictates of an honest conscience, he will not be swayed by fear, favor or affection, from doing what he thinks was right.

"How infinitely, supremely higher he stands in the estimation of the world, and we might say of his Maker, too, than the poor apology who pins his ideas to the coat-tail of some man or set of men, and dare not say, or even to act out, what he thinks right, for fear of displeasing those who look upon him, as every one does, in the light of a tool, to be used and even those whom he serves despise him for his want of that noble principle, independence; without which man is as the beast that labors."

THE KANSAS CONFERENCE REPORT.—The result of the conference between the committees of the two Houses of Congress on the disagreeing votes on the Kansas bill, was reported in the House of Representatives on Friday by Mr. English, Chairman. The measure recommended by the committee is in substance to the effect that Kansas shall be admitted under the Lecompton Constitution after a vote by the people; if the vote be a negative one, then Kansas will have to await the requisite accession of population to entitle her to one representative in Congress before again having an opportunity to come into the Union. The vote authorized to be taken, is not directly upon the constitution, but upon a modification of a clause of the ordinance which accompanies the constitution relative to the public lands, the result of which must be practically the acceptance or rejection of the whole measure of admission, at the present time, or of the Lecompton constitution it-

The report will be sustained in the Senate by a majority of the Senators; Messrs. Douglas, Stewart, and Broderick, Democrats, opposing it.

The question of adoption, by the House, is considered doubtful.

THE CRISIS PAST .- The 12th of April, we believe, was the day fixed by the extra session of the last Legislature for the resumption of specie payment by the Banks of this State. We have not yet heard of any "eaving in." The most precarious currency now affoat in the State is the issue of the wild cat institutions recently set in opperation in Tioga, Crawford, M'Kean and Elk counties.— They had better be charitably handled. We understand there are counterfeits already in circulation on the M'Kean county Bank. It would be a hard matter for us to determine, which were the safe course, to take the coun-to feit or the genuine.—Ex.

THURSDAY. Senate.—The bill creating a new Judicial District failed, from want of time to compare, to be placed in the Governor's hands within the prescribed time. Mr. Welsh, the Speaker, delivered an eloquent address to the Senate, after which he resigned his post.

John Cresswell, jr., was then elected, and on being conducted to the chair, expressed his thanks for the honor conferred in a brief and pertinent manner. After passing resolutions of thanks to the retiring Speaker and Clerks, the Speaker at a few minutes passed 12 o'clock, adjourned the Senate, sine die. In the House, after the transaction of the remaining unfinished business, resolutions of thanks to the officers were passed, the Speaker made a parting address and adjourned the body without delay.

Thus closed the Legislature of Pennsylvania of 1858, after a Session of one hundred and eight days. It has been remarkably well favored with vetoes, there being about thirty instances in which the Executive interposed his prerogative to check hasty and inconsiderate legislation.

Among the important acts of the Session, are: The License bills, the Military bill, the apportionment of the city of Philadelphia into single Senatorial and Legislative Districts, the sale of the State Canals, the appointment of Commissioners to revise the the penal code, the regulation of Insurance Companies, the Interest bill, &c., &.

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE GLOBE.

Franklin Township, April 21, 1858. Dear Globe:—In my last communication I said nothing of the prospect of the wheat crop, fruit, &c., in our township. Our farmers have high hopes of a very abundant crop of wheat. An old resident of this township, says, "he never saw the grain look more promising at this season of the year;" and if the "frost king" does not shake his hoary locks over our fruit trees, we will have an hypothesis of all hinds of fruit seamnes to abundance of all kinds of fruit common to this part of the country.

Substantial fences of various descriptions, are being put up throughout our immediate neighborhood. Some of post-and-rail, others of stone, and a few in the form of hedges from the last year's growth of the Osage Orange seed-which by the way is kept for sale by our enterprising old friend, John S. Isett.
Our Summer Schools are being opened under favorable auspices, and bid fair to be well attended and profitably conducted. I see by your columns, that some persons in our county, acting, doubtless, through ignorance or sinister motives, have circulated petitions for the repeal of the Superintendency, and having procured a few signers by what means they had in their power, have sent them to Harrisburg for our "Modern Solons" to waste their time and our money in discussing .-Since the County Superintendency came into active operation, we have better teachers, higher salaries, longer school terms, and more convenient school-houses; many of which are supplied with school apparatus, which were scarcely ever seen in our school-rooms before. I do not pretend to say that all these advantages have resulted from the office in question; but it cannot be denied that it has done much in advancing the cause of education here, as well as elsewhere. I have found in the counties through which I have been during the past year, that persons who object to the County Superintendency, when closely questioned on the subject, plainly show by their language, that they have no real objections to the office at all; but merely find fault with the men whom the Directors of Schools have chosen to fill that office in their respective counties. LEROY.

The Two Extremes.

The St. Louis Democrat has the following paragraph upon the arrival of Colonel Benton's remains in that city:

"By its side was the little coffin containing the body of the Statesman's grandchild, Mc-Dowell Jones. Each body was enclosed in an air tight zine case, which was laid within a mahogany coffin. A lid was raised so as to allow friends to look through a glass on the faces of the dead. The face of the great Missourian wore that expresson of maestic placidity which was habitual to him in life. The lips were slightly open, the eyes closed, and every lineament in the face in a state of repose that indicated how gentle and peaceful had been the end of the veteran's stormy life. There was no discoloration or wrinkle to be seen, and the presence of death was visable only in the closed eyelids and the cold, white, marble like appearance of of the features. The grandchild lay as sweetly as though only sleeping, with its little head, covered with golden hair, nestling amiu white byacinths and early spring flowA Senator Elected by a Love Letter.

The Mormon War.

Brigham Young is evidently getting more and more excited against the army, and is making a great show of resistance to Col. Johnston, so far as words concerned; but not-withstanding this, the Mormon troops had all returned to Salt Lake City to winter. There is said to be a destitution in the city, and considerable discontent or fear certainly prevails, for Brigham Young had furnished over eight hundred Mormons with passports to go to California. A mass meeting to sustain Brigham had been held in Salt Lake Judge Wilmot's district, passed finally—yeas 17, nays 15. The bill apportioning the city of Philadelphia into single Senatorial and Representative Districts, as amended by the Senate, passed finally. Other bills passed finally, as follows, viz: The general claim bill; relative to juvisdiction of counts in cases of discrete is it necessary to hold mass meetings to sustain the prophet?—Phila. A DEAD BODY DISINTERRED AND THE HEART TAKEN OUT TO CURE CONSUMPTION .-- The Glenns Falls Republican gives an account of an affair extraordinary though of occasional occurence, which transpired about a mile from that village a few days ago. It appears that a man by the name of Adams died and was buried about seventeen months ago, leaving a wife to mourn his loss. The widow removed to the West and remained there until a short time since, when she returned to Glenns Falls. Upon her return she found her deceased husband's brother dying with consumption, and declared that he could be cured only in in the following manner, which she said was practiced where she had been living:—The body of her husband should be taken up, the heart dissected, and if any blood was found in the heart, it should be burned, and the sick man would recover!— This proposition mas immediately acted upon—The dead body disinterred, a physician called, who took out the heart and lungs, but not enough blood being found to answer the purpose, the further prosecution of the infamous project was abandoned.

SAD EFFECTS OF RELIGIOUS EXCITEMENT-The insanity of Mr. and Mrs. II. C. Peck, of Providence, R. I., and the death of the latter, as the result of over excitement in religion, is mentioned in the Providence (R. I.) papers. The Post giving an account of the circumstances, before Mr. Peck's death, said:

Both of them have felt much interest in the revivals now progressing here, and recently have allowed religious subjects to so convent them from eating or sleeping with much regularity. Within a few days both have manifested unmistakable signs of insanity, and Mr. Peck, when not under the influence of chloroform, has had to be handcuffed, to prevent him from injuring himself, and those about him. Mrs. Peck, as is usual in such cases, believed that God had commanded her to fast, and has thus refused food for several days, save on one or two occasions. She has also imagined that her children had been commanded to fast; insisted that they should refuse food, and was so reckless in her chastisement of them when they disobeyed her, that she also had to be confined.

GRAPE CULTURE IN THE SOUTH AND WEST. -Prof. G. C. Swallow, State Geologist of Missouri, in recent letters to the Patent Office, suggested the idea that the extensive areas Kentucky and Tennessee, known as the "barrens," may be rendered valuable for vineyards. Should this prove true, the numerous caves contained in the limestone would become very valuable as places of storage for wine. He says that their seems to be no doubt that it can be demonstrated to the satisfaction of all intelligent wine-dressers that there are at least 20,000,000 acres of land in Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee on which the vine will succeed as well as in France and Turkey.
