DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS. FOR JUDGE OF SUPREME COURT, WM. A. PORTER, of Philadelphia. FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER,

WESTLEY FROST, of Fayette Co.

New Advertisements. Notice to Contractors, by Henry Miller. Administrator's Notice, by B. L. Megahan, Adm'r Read advertisement headed 'Patent Portable Fence. Dr. J. M. Irvine, Physician and Surgeon, offers his services to the public. Residence and office at Mooresville. Huntingdon county, Pa.

The committee appointed by the court to visit the Poor House, will meet there on Monday 21st of June.

A CLEAN SHAVE.—THOS. V. CHAPLIN has opened a Saloon on Hill street, near Wilson & Petrikin's office. Tom is perfect in the art, at least fifty per cent better than when he

We understand that the Summer Session of the Cassville Seminary has commenced with an unusually large number of students in attendance. Prof. Charles S. Joslin, A. M., Miss Dianthe L. Stanley, and Mrs. Dr. Darwin, have been added to the Faculty.

A CONVENIENT, CHEAP, AND SUBSTANTIAL Fence.-We invite attention to advertisement of HENRY CORNPROPST in another column. Several panels of the fence are now on exhibition near the Huntingdon Mill .-It is considered the best improvement in fences ever offered to the public.

W. E. Tuckerman, whose extensive mail robberies created considerable excitement some time ago, has been convicted and sentenced to hard labor in the Connecticut State Prison for the term of twenty five years. The sentence is a severe but a just one .-Big rascals with plenty of money, generally slip through the fingers of justice easilybut in this case it has not been so.

WONDERFUL .- The eyes of the editor of the Hollidaysburg Standard have been opened by the application of a Post Office poultice. He can already see that BILL RICE, BRAWLEY, PLUMER, and the like, are the only true Democrats, and that the anti-Lecompton Democrats are those who have either been turned out of office or have been disappointed applicants. We have no doubt Traugh will labor faithfully for his master as long as the said, "you have stripped me of my last cent pay is good.

THE CENTRAL BANK OF HOLLIDAYSBURG.— From the Hollidaysburg Register of Wednesday we learn that the Central Bank of that place, chartered by the Legislature of 1857, is at least in a way of being fairly established. the profound theologian, and the beloved time, and a cause of difficulty between Morsubstantial business men in Philadelphiafifteen of them subscribing $10,000 each, and paying in $75,000. They were to elect officers and regularly organize on Thursday, and would commence operations without delay; taking for their banking rooms for the present the place now occupied by Billy Smith's Girard Saloon. The Register thinks that the institution will stand on such a basis, and be in the hands of such men, as will entitle it to the confidence of the country.

The News.

A frightful accident occurred a few days since on the New York Central Railroad at Sauquoit creek in Oneida county. A passenger and a freight train were passing on a bridge—the bridge gave way and several They report General Johnston's command in cars of both trains were precipitated into the creek. Several persons were instantly killed and 40 or 50 badly injured.

On the 15th a bridge on the Lafayette and Indianapolis Railroad, gave way as the night train from Cincinnati was passing over it, and the whole train was precipitated into the river. The engineer, fireman, and conductor were the only persons killed. Several were slightly injured.

On Thursday night last a violent tornado blew a passenger train on the Chicago and Alton Railroad off the track, and several persons were severely injured.

The Mormons are reported as leaving Salt Lake City for the White River Mountains.

Numerous depredations have been committed upon peaceful settlers near the town of Lecompton, Kansas, by a band of armed ma-

A disastrous hail storm occurred in Chesterfield county, Virginia, on the evening of the 15th. The hail-stones were of the size of a hen's egg, and have completely destroyed vegetation.

The papers of Kansas declare that a general determination exists to vote down the English Lecompton ordinance and Constitu- waiting for better roads.

The latest news from Utah was received vesterday. The mormons had laid down their arms, and men, women and children were leaving for the southern part of the Territory. Gov. Cummings had entered Salt Lake City on the 1st of April, on an invitation given by Brigham Young.

The whiskey war at Maquoketta, Iowa, has become serious; and the whiskey party, indignant at the summary suppression of the traffic by the temperance men, threaten to they were held for selling liquor illegally, and hundred policemen.

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE GLOBE. CASSVILLE, May 12, 1858.

MR. EDITOR: I am now amid the scenes of my childhood. Old and familiar friends greet me. The recollections of the past crowd thick and fast upon my memory. I traverse the haunts of former days; I rest beneath the oak whose shade has oft refreshed my weary step; I meander along the mountain base. where grows the stately elm; I recline on the mossy bank of the crystal rill, near which I have passed many a silent hour in pensive thought; I listen with increasing delight to the merry voice of nature's songster as it rises on the wings of the air in sweetest praise to the source of its life. Then I go to visit once again the halls, whence gush in rich profusion, the streams of knowledge; I gaze upon the inquiring mind as it bends to "drink deep of the Pierian Spring." I linger; then, turn away from all these scenes, sad that they are by me no more to be enjoyed. Yet, there is pleasure in my sadness. The thought that that these, all these once were mine, throws such a halo around the past, that, for the moment, I forget its sorrows, musing silently o'er its joys. But brief, ah! sadly brief, is this fond feast of mind. There is one retreat that has been forgotten. Forgotten? NEVER. I view it now. 'Tis the spot where the reand after a customer leaves his chair he feels | mains of loved ones repose. Hallowed be its memory forever! Its solemn silence speaks a mournful truth. Its livid marble, sad index of mortality, points to buried hopes, to departed friends. Tread gently o'er this sacred ground; softly repose beneath its willows' shade; for soon its dampened clay shall

Borrowing a Dollar.

In the Pittsburg correspondence of the Philadelphia Press, of may 6th, we find the

"The learned and excellent Bishop O'Con-nor, of Pittsburg, has reached his home after a prolonged absence in Cuba and Mexico.-Between the Mexican capital and Vera Cruz, the coach in which he was riding was surrounded by robbers, who demanded the money and valuables of the passengers. The travellers complied with all the grace and resignation of the unfortunate wretch who seats himself in the cushioned arm-chair of a dentist for the purpose of having a back tooth extracted. Clergymen are invariably poor. On this ocasion the Bishop, fortunately for himself, had but eighteen dollars in his possession, which he handed to the highwaymen. As the gentlemen of the road were about taking their departure, the Bishop facetiously -to-merrow morning I will need my breakfast, a.m I will feel obliged to you for the loan of a dollar." The money was at once given him, and the robbers went on their way rejoicing at their good fortune. Such are the incidents of life. Still Later from Camp Scott.

Independence Messenger of Saturday last.— It speaks of the arrival of J. A. Freeman, William McGuire, and B S. Mercer, direct from the army at Camp Scott. They were connected with the sutler's train that left Independence last July, and were with the army all winter. Snow, rain, and cold weather made the trip one of great hardship .-good health, but provisions were quite scarce, except poor beef. The soldiers received bacon once in fourteen days. General Johnston would not be able to start for Salt Lake City until a fresh supply of animals were received. At Green river, this party met a Mexican express from New Mexico, with news from Captain Marcy that he would not be able to get to Camp Scott before the first of June. in consequence of the great quantity of snow in the mountains between New Mexico and Camp Scott.

A man arrived at Camp Scott a few days before the party left, from Great Salt Lake City, in a bad plight-frost-bitten and nearly starved. He reported that the Mormons tue: were equipping companies to go out on the road this spring and cut off the supplies and harass the troops. The best news is that Colonel Hoffman, with two companies of cavalry, and one hundred and fifty wagons, with supplies, was met trial will probably take place in the course of one hundred and fifty miles this side of Fort Laramie on the 13th of April. About one hundred and fifty wagons with supplies were ready to leave Laramie as soon as Colonel Hoffman arrived. These trains would reach

General Johnstons early in May.

The first ox-teams that started this spring were met just beyond Big Blue, and then trains were continually passing; but in consequence of the weather they were making slow progress, and some of them had stopped,

The Cicinnati Price Current contains a statement of the exports of provisions from the United States from January 1 to April 1. The aggregates, reduced to pounds, show a falling off of 29,765,350. This decrease is equal to about 200,000 hogs; but as an offset we have the deficit in the stocks in the country on the 1st of November, the latter being equal to at least 300,000 hogs. Taking the increase in the hog crop and putting the figures together, the result is as follows: Excess in crop of hogs, 380,000 head; decrease in foreign exports, (equal) 300,000 head; to-tal, 580,000. Deduct deficit in old stocks, cider. She then attacked the establishment burn the city. A Tale of Terror.

A very singular and rather a marvelous story has recently appeared in a Vienna journal. It appears that as a farmer of Orsinovi near that city, was lately returning home from market, he stopped at a roadside public house, and imprudently showed the innkeeper a large sum which he had received .- tenced to the prison for fourteen years .-In the night the innkeeper, armed with a That paper says of the criminal: poignard, stole into the farmer's chamber and prepared to stab him, but the farmer, who, from the man's manner at supper, conceived suspicions of foul play, had thrown place, taunted his dying victim with words himself on the bed fully dressed, without going to sleep, and being a powerful man, he wrested the poignard from the other, and using it against him, laid him dead at his shot produced instant death, and so close feet. A few moments after, he heard stones thrown at the window, and a voice, which he recognized as that of the innkeeper's son, said, "The grave is ready!" This proved to him that the father and son had planed his murder, and to avoid detection, had intended burying the dead body at once. He thereupon wrapped the body in the sheet, and let it down from a window, he then ran to the gendarmeric and stated what had occurred. Three gendarmeries immediately accompanied him to the house, and found the young man busily engaged in shovelling earth in to the grave. "What are you burying?" said they. "Only a horse which has just died?" "You are mistaken," replied one of Executive elemency. of them, jumping in to the grave, and raising the corpse, "Look!" and he held up a lantern to the face of the deceased. "Good and cowardly manner, murdered a lawyer God!" cried the young man, thunderstruck. named Moss, of De Soto county, by shooting "It is my father!" He was then arrested, him in the back as Moss rode from him. and at once confessed all.

The New Militia Bill.

One of the acts of the last Legislature was to pass a militia bill, which we find put into the following condensed form by the Reading Democrat:

"Its provisions require every able-bodied men between the ages of eighteen and fortyfive years, with some specified exceptions, to be subject to military duty." He is to provide brance of thy past; may happiness take up himself with the necessary equipments, under the penalty of a fine of one dollar for non performance, if a resident of the rural districts, and one dollar and fifty cents if living in a city—the fund thus raised to be appropriated to the support of the "enlisted and equipped" militia men. The militia enrolment is entirely dispensed with, and all volunteer companies parading are allowed for every person on parade each day, not exceeding six times during the year, one dollar and fifty cents per diem out of the fund. In addition to this, the commanding officer of a regiment may order out the companies composing it for an encampment parade, not exceeding six days, once during the year.—
These provisions are intended as an inducement to young men who cannot afford to lose the time which gratuitous parades necessarily require. The new law will suit the citizen soldiers very well, and go far to increase the military spirit througout the State."

> TERRIBLE MURDER NEAR PORTSMOUTH, OHIO. -The Portsmouth Tribune, of May 7th, has the following account of the murder of Mrs. Samuel Morgan, by her husband, at Frank-lin Furnace, Ohio. Morgan is fifty-five years of age, and has a large family. His character is violent:

At the time of the murder, (about 7 o'clock his wife was dead, he bade one of the children bring him a log chain, which he put around the neck of the corpse, and then The St. Louis Republican has received the dragged it across the yard. Here he proceeded to strip the body of all clothing, and then left it lying at the door all night, while he remained in the house until next morn-

Meantime the rumor of the murder had been spread by the little children, who frantically ran to a married sister's, some distance off. On Thursday morning, Mr. O. B. Gould proceeded to the spot and arrested Morgan, who, it seems, made no effort to es-

DEATH, INSANITY, AND THE DUNGEON .-The sad consequences of vice were never more strikingly exhibited than in the folowing paragraph, which we copy from a New Orleans letter. It is truly a melancholy case, and it should prove a solemn warning to persons tempted to depart from the path of vir-

"The grand jury of this place has found a bill of indictment against George W. Harby, who, several weeks ago, shot H. C. H. Stone, whom he charged with seducing his daughter. The bill was found Saturday last. The a month, or six weeks. Public opinion now seems to be that the homicide was totally inexcusable, and that young Stone had met an unmerited fate. This is a truly melancholy case. The father is comparatively an old man, and stood well in the community as a teacher of youth; now he is immersed in a dungeon and charged with murder. Stone was just entering life with peculiar advantages, was prosperous in business, and surrounded by a host of confiding friends; now a cold grave enwraps him. The daughter is young and highly educated; was beautiful, and greatly admired; now she is a maniac, it is said, and her future happiness gone."

There has been a great deal of excitement in Franklin, Johnson county, Indiana, recently, in consequence of the mobocratic demonstrations of an old woman, named Mary B. Myers, upon the groceries of that town. It appears, that the woman Myers demolished the stock in trade of a man named Petty, while he was at dinner, consisting of canof a Mr. Isacs, who defended his premises, for which he was fined twenty dollars! She the Mayor has enrolled a special force of two home consumption has been equal to that of ments in a similar manner. For all this the woman Myers was fined one cent and costs!

A Tale of Horrors---An Incarnate Fiend --- Can it be?

Gov. McWillie, of Mississippi, is charged by the Vicksburg Southron with having pardoned out of the Penitentiary a man named

He waylaid his victim, with whom he had a deadly feud; brought him down at the first shot, and then, emerging from his hidingof insult and reproach, and finally concluded by placing the muzzle of his gun to the body of Nelms and firing a second time. This was the gun to the victim that the flesh of the murdered man was burnt by the explosion. Having completed the work of slaughter, he deliberately mounted his horse, rode to the house of Nelms, called his wife out, informed her that he had murdered her husband, and directed her where to find his mangled corpse!

Dyson is a blood-stained, blood-thirsty, incarnate fiend. He is not a man, but a ferocious tiger, and Gov. McWillie has no more right to turn such a beast loose upon the community than he has to open the cages of a whole caravan of tigers. His antecedents He had murdered three of his own negroes, and one of them in a manner so horribly appalling as to cause the death of his own wife. This case occurred at his own table, and the victim of his fiendish rage was a woman .-Taking offense at something the woman did, or omitted to do, while waiting at the table, he rose, drew a bowie-knife, and, with a single blow, ripped her open. His wife swooned. and when she awoke to consciousness, he had cut the negro's heart out, and, with it upon his knife, he thrust it into her face! She swooned again, and the result of her horror and fright brought on convulsions, from the effects of which she soon died.

The Governor of Mississippi, in this event, beats the Governor of Ohio in his acts of Executive elemency.

Sad Accident.

Peter Gregory, of Union township, Luezrne county, was shot by his brother Jacob Gregory, on Friday night, April 30, and died in twenty-four hours. Dogs had been after the sheep belonging to Jacob, on Thursday night and on Friday night they returned. Jacob went out with his loaded gun to watch them. Soon after Peter, who lived with his brother, also went out and stood in the road in a stooping position, with a stone to throw at a dog, which was coming towards him, when Jacob fired striking Peter in the arm, shattering the elbow, and penetrating the kidney and stomach. As Jacob went to the house, supposing he had missed the dog, Peter called to him, "Jake you have killed me." Jacob's wife hearing, called for Peter, supposing him still to be up stairs, and told him that her hadrened had about some day. husband had shot sombody. Neither broth-

Bedford Rail Road.

The public mind is now being directed to this great work. The advantages to be derived from its speedy completion is incalculable to all classes, living within the county .-The design of the projectors of this work, is not, that it should be solely a continuation or extension of the Broad Top Road-that part lying east of Bedford, will be on a line with the Cumberland Valley Road, at Chambersburg, through Cowan's Gap, and Well's Valley, to connect at or near Piper's Run, in Hopewell township. The same will be the outlet for the Sherman's Valley Road. Well's Valley, and Piper's Run, being the common route of the Sherman's Valley, and Cumber land Valley Roads, west of Sideling Hill Gap, and of the Broad Top Road, west of Piper's Run until the comection at or near Bridgeport in the western part of the county. -Bedford Gazette.

PRINTING-OFFICES .- The Printing-Office has proved a better college to many a boy, has graduated more useful and conspicuous members of society, has brought more intellect out and turned it into practical, useful channels, awakened more minds, generated more active and elevated thought, than many of the literary colleges of the country. A boy who commences in such a school as the printing office, will have his talents and ideas brought out; and if he is a careful observer, experience in his profession will contribute more toward an education than can be obtained in almost any other manner.

A QUIET PLACE.—In one of our country exchanges we find the following recommendation of a thriving little neighboring town: "A few days ago a gentleman in conversation with some friends was praising Woodville Mass., to the skies, and remarked among other things that it was the most quiet and peaceful place he ever saw—there was no quarreling nor rowdyism or fighting about the streets; if a gentleman insulted another, he was quietly shot down, and there was the lust of it!"

A COSTLY TONGUE .- A. D. Young, of Flatbush, Ky., sued Laban Letton for $10.000 damages, on account of the wife of the latter charging Young's wife with infidelity to her husband. The Jury gave him $4,000.

PHILADELPHIA MARKETS.

SATURDAY, May 15.-There is little or no alteration i the Breadstuffs market, and the sales of Flour are mostly to the trade; about 800 bbls superfine sold at $4.50, am 750 bbls extra and extra family at $4.75@5.25 $\begin{array}{c} \beta \text{bbl}, ac 750 bbls extra and extra family at $4.75@5.25 \(\frac{7}{2} \) bbl, according to brand. Dr. Hardman treats Consumption, Brouchitis, Asthma, Larryngittis and all diseases of the throat and lungs, by Medical Inhalation, lately used in the Bromton Hospital, London. The great point in the treatment of all human maladies, is to get at the disease in the direct manner.—All medicines are estimated by their action upon the organ requiring relief. This is the important fact upon which Inhalation is based. If the stomach is diseased we take medicine directly into the stomach. If the lungs are diseased, breathe or inhale medicated vapors directly into the lungs. Medicines are antidotes to disease and should be application of this principle to the treatment of the lungs, for it gives us direct access to those intricate air cells, and tules which lie out of reach of every other means of administering medicines. The reason that Corsumption, and other diseases of the lungs, have heretofore resisted all treatment has been becaus: they have never been approached in a direct manner by medicine. They were intended to act upon the lungs, and yet were applied to the stomach. Their action was intended to be local, and yet, they were so administered that they should only act constitutionally, expending their immediate and principal action upon the unoffending stomach, whilst the foul ulcers within the lungs were unmolested. Inhalation brings the medicine in direct contact with the disease, without the disadvantage of any violent action. Its application is so simple, that it can be employed by the youngest infant the disadvantage of any violent action. Its application is so simple, that it can be employed by the youngest infant or feeblest invalid. It does not derange the stomach, or interfere in the least degree with the strength, comfort, or business of the patient.

Other Discusses Treated.—In relation to the following discusses, it ther when complicated with lung affections or existing alone, I also invite consultation, I usually find them promptly curable.
Prolapsus and all other forms of Female Complaints, Irregularities and Weakness.

Palpitation and all other forms of Heart Disease, Liver Complaints, Dyspepsia, and all other diseases of stomach and bowels, &c. and bowels, &c.

All diseases of the eye and ear. Neuralgia, Epilopsy, and all forms of nervous disease.
