Night Air---Seasonable Hints.

During the months of September and October, throughout the United States, whereever there are chills, and fever and ague, intermittents, or the more deadly forms of fever, it is a pernicious, and even dangerous practice to sleep with the outer doors or windows open; because miasm, marsh emanations, the product of decaying vegetables-all of which are different terms, expressing the same thing -is made so light by heat, that it ascends at once towards the upper portion of atmospheric space, and is not breathed during the heat of the day, but the cold nights of the fall of the year condense it, make it heavy, and it settles on the ground, is breathed into the lungs, incorporated into the blood; and if in its concentrated form, as in certain localities near Rome; it causes sickness and death within a few hours.

The plagues which devastated Eastern countries in earlier ages, were caused by the concentrated emanations from marshy localities, or districts of decaying vegetation; and the common observations of the higher class of people was, that those who occupied the upper stories, not even coming down stairs for market supplies, but drew them up by means of ropes attached to baskets, had entire immunity from disease, for two reasons, the higher the abode, the less compact is the deadly atmosphere; besides, the higher rooms in a house, in summer, are the warmer ones, and the miasm less concentrated. The lower rooms are colder, making the air more dense. So, by keeping all outer doors and windows closed, especially the lower ones, the building is less cool and comfortable, but it excludes the infectious air, while its warmth sends what enters through the crevices immediately to the ceiling of the rooms, where it congregates, and is not breathed; hence is it that men who entered the bar-room and dining saloons of the National Hotel, remaining but a few brief hours, were attacked with the gregates, and is not breathed; hence is it a few brief hours, were attacked with the National Hotel disease, while ladies who occupied upper rooms, where constant fires were burning, escaped attack, although remaining in the house for weeks at a time.

It was for the same reason that Dr. Rush was accustomed to advise families in the summer time, not being able to leave the city, to cause their younger children especially, to spend their time above stairs. We have spent a lifetime ourselves in the West and extreme South, and know in our own person, and as to those who had the firmness to follow our recommendation, that whole families will escape all the forms of fall fevers who will have bright fires kindled at sunrise and sunset in the family room. But it is too plain a perscription to secure observance in more than one family in ten thousand. After the third frost, and until the fall of the next year, it is an important means of health for persons to sleep with an outer door or window partly open, having the bed in such a position, as to be protected from a draught of nir. We advise that no person should go to work or take exercise in the morning on an empty stomach; but if it is stimulated to action by a cup of coffee, or a crust of bread, or apple, or orange, exercise can be taken, not only with impunity, but to high advan-tage in all chill and fever localities.—Hall's Journal of Health.

Awarding Committees have the power of supplying va-ancies, and are requested to furnish detailed reports. Prices of tickets of membership $1.00. Single admis-SUGGESTIONS:—The Executive Committee have deem-SUGGESTIONS:—The Executive Committee have deemed it expedient, the present year, to dispense with a Discretionary Committee, and award no premiums for articles not included in the list. This arrangement is not intended to interfere with or prevent the exhibition of any article whatever.

The funds of the Society are at present low, and the premiums awarded consequently light. The association will rely upon the public spirit and liberal conduct of our fellow citizens to sustain their own Society, and by so doing the place of the Agricultural Lungayer. to elevate the Industrial Arts and Agricultural Improvements in our midst, CLASS 1—HORSES. The WARM SPRINGS. The WARM SPRINGS.

The WARM SPRINGS, at the base of Warrior's lings, five miles North of Huntingdon, overlooking Standing-Stone Creek, and environed by romantic hills and woodlands, have been leased by the former proprietor of the Learner House. The extensive Hotel' buildings, Bath houses, &c., creeted at great expense by Gen. A. P. Wilson, have been completed—and the Grove's liave been beautifully laid out and adorned. The Hotel Parlors and Chamblers are giry and comfortably furnished: and the prospect. fully laid out and adorned. The Hotel Parlors and Chambers are airy and comfortably furnished; and the prospect, from the Verandahs, for Beauty, cannot be excelled.

For half a century, these Springs have been celebrated for their Medicinal qualities, and the Great Virtue of the waters in Rheumatic or Chronic affections. The temperature of the water being 60½ degrees renders the Bathing delightful and invigorating. In the surrounding woods and mountains Game abounds, and the finest fish are and mountains Game abounds, and the finest fish are caught in Stone creek.

Persons in pursuit of health or pleasure will find this a most delightful and healthful retrent; and its nearness to the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the cheapness of the rates charged guests, give it a decided advantage over any other watering place in the State. The Proprietor has had years of experience in the business, and no pains or trouble will be spared to make guests comfortable:
