ly repaired, is very good.

In the district we find such a complete revolution, that, the public attention should be cited to it. The new district of Carbon was declared such at the April term, in '58. The present Board of directors was appointed by the Court. In assuming the duties of their office their early attention was directed to the improvement of the School buildings. One very excellent house has been built; another rendered equally good, all made comfortable. The papers and financial affairs of the district, which were previously, poorly the district, which were previously, poorly cared for, have been carefully adjusted. In entering the Secretarie's office, I found the bonds, articles of agreement, leases of School grounds and other documents of the district, drawn and preserved with the care and skill of an attorney. Several sessions of the Board were called during my stay in the district, and for the first time I have witnessed a strict parliamentary rule carried out in all the proceedings. All the teachers were summoned to act as legal advisors of the Board. Each one spoke his own opinion, and found time to be seated when he had finished. Parliamentary rule is always adhered to by this

To bring order out of chaos, this Board of directors have found it necessary, to assess a more than ordinary tax for this year, but a proper estimate shows that a moderate assessment will suffice for the future. If the citizens of the district will spare the Board from censure, it will be seen, in another year that the present policy is for the good of the

**So the question was determined in the affirmative. Mr. Gwin presented a bill entitled "An Ordinance and Marving a loan to the borough of Huntingdon, of one thousand adolted. A petition, numerously signed, from entizens of the borough, was presented as follows: Whereas, Smith street, in the borough of Huntingdon, between Hill and Washington streets, in said borough, has been established for many years by occupancy as $5 feet or thereabouts, in width, the houses of the accorresponding width with that part between Hill and Washington streets, and has by the occupancy on each side been so considered and treated for nearly half a century: Therefore, we, the undersigned, citizens of the said borough, agree that Graffus Miller and Owen Boat, the owners of Lot, No 187, shall have the privilege of occupancy of the same in such a way as to make the eastern line of Smith street uniform and on a line with the house of the same in such a way as to make the eastern line of Smith street uniform and on a line with the house of the same in such a way as to make the eastern line of Smith street uniform and on a line with the house of the same in such a way as to make the eastern line of Smith street uniform and on a line with the house of the same in such a way as to make the eastern line of Smith street uniform and on a line with the house of the same in such a way as to make the eastern line of Smith street uniform and on a line with the house of the same in such a way as to make the cast of George Jackson. By signing this agreement, we do not make ourselves parties to any thing said Miller and Boat may do, but merely signify our acquiescence and approval of establishing the line of said street as before proved of establishing the line of stated.

Mr. Westbrook presented the following preamble and resolution, and moved its adoption, viz:

Whereas, a recent regulation of the eastern boundary of Smith street, running from Hill street in a northern direction, is inconsistent with the occupancy of the lots on the eastern side of said street; the brick house now owned by George Jackson, (formerly Dr. Henderson's) having been built nearly half a century, and the western lence of lot No. 137, extending from Washington to Millin street, was for at least thirty years, nearly on a line with the western front of said brick house. And whereas, there is reason to believe that said house was built on the true line as then regulated, and the citizens and lot holders, with but few exceptions, desire that the western front of said but few exceptions, desire that the western front of said brick house shall be treated as the true line, and are wil-ling that, for the sake of peace, as well as uniformity, the owners of said lot No. 137, shall, in occupying said lot, adopt the western front of said house as the line. There fore be it

Resolved, That the Burgesses and Town Council, so far Research. That the Burgesses and Town Council, so lar as they have authority, acquiesce in their so adopting, and occupying to, said line, and as such will not authorize any of the officers of the borough, to institute legal proceedings against the owner or owners of said lot for so occupying said lot, and that the western front of the said brick house shall be treated as the established eastern boundary of swith treating acquiring the general line of Sauth of Smith street, in regulating the castern line of Smith street between Hill and Millin streets, and shall not interfere with or disturb other regulations or rights.

Pending the consideration of the resolution, Mr. Africa
D. presented the following communication, viz:

December 3, 1858.

December 3, 1858.

To Jacob Miller, Henry Compropst and J. Simpson Africa, Regulators of the borough of Huntingdon: Gentlemen: It is desirable to the undersigned, that you communicate for the use of the Burgesses and Town Council, an answer to the following enquiries relative to regulating of the streets of this borough, &c:

1st. When was the present system of regulations established?

2d. How and by what authority was it established?

isnear
2d. How and by what authority was it established?
3d. How are the marks preserved?
4th. How is the excess found in the squares divided?

One of the Burgesses.

Huntingdon, December 3, 1858.

Daniel Africa, Esq., Assistant Burgess of the borough of Huntingdon, Sir: In reply to your inquiries of this date, we would countered when called upon to fix partition lines—there being no fixed and established starting points. To assume every corner house to be correct, would not work well in practice—because each street would receive an alteration in its course and waith at the intersection of every other street. This would become a necessity for the reason that opposite ends or sides of squares differ in some instances several feet.

Then it became, in the opinion of the Regulators, necessary, in order to obtain a plan by which the regulation of the lines of streets and lots could be systematized—and in order to secure regularity and avoid confusion and disputing, to set up and establish permanent marks from which all regulation in future should be made. A survey was then made of the built portion of the borough, adopting the original plan as near as could be done to the permanent buildings, and stone corners were placed in the streets. The authority for so doing was found in the second section of an Ordinance passed November 10th 1800, entitled "An Act directing the appointment of Regulators, &c., to which you are respectfully referred.

From St. Clair to Charles street, the borough was found by actual accurate measurement, to be 21 feet 6½ inches longer than it was called on the recorded plan thereof. According to the adopted system, the streets running at right angles from the river were laid off at the exact distance or width named on said plan, and the excess found in each square was divided equally among the lots therein. The following table exhibits the length of the squares and width of the streets on the original plan, and also the actual measurement of the same according to the established system, viz:

JACOB MILLER, J. SIMPSON AFRICA, HENRY CORNPROPST.

The motion of Mr. Westbrook was then agreed to. The following communication was presented, and on the question, will the House agree to the accompanying resolution, it was determined in the negative, viz:

To the Burgesses and Town Council of the borough of Huntingdon:

Gentlemen: I am desirous of erecting a shed adjacent to wy lot fronting on Church street, and my lot being only two hundred feet in length, and not being of sufficient length for my intended purpose, and if I am permitted to erect said shed outside of my fonce, extending fifteen feet into said street, it will contribute much to my convenience—therefore, I desire and respectfully ask you to pass the following resolution:
